LOCAL BRIEFS.

Drying—the streets. Brisk—the cotton market.

See the bank statement in another column.

Read the advertisement of C. B. Denison in another column.

In earnest—Office seekers interview Penitentiary Directors.

Zealous—recent converts to Radicalism, with office in view.

An unusual large number of ladies graced our streets yesterday afternoon.

Rev. L. Branson preaches at the Person street Methodist Church at 11 a. m. to-day.

Prof. Hicks, of this city, is delighting the citizens of Wilson with feats of ventriloquism.

Work upon the new warehouses at the depot of the North Carolina Railroad has commenced.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard, pastor of the Baptist church in this city, returned yesterday from a visit to Fayetteville.

The facilities for persons to indulge their piety to-day, by the way of attending church, will be as ample as usual.

We learn that Mr. Pou will shortly erect a handsome dwelling on the corner of Newbern avenue and Blount street.

A fine lot of spring cassimeres and clothing has just been received by E. Besson, Esq., opposite the market house. Look out for his advertisement next issue.

The auction sale of horses, carriages &c., at Messrs. Dyer's stables was largely attended, and we are pleased to state the prices realized were satisfactory to the sellers.

We learn that Betts & Allen will soon commence the erection of a fine dwelling house on McDowell street, between Hargett and Martin streets, for Wm. G. Upchurch, Esq.

A small colored boy, name unknown, yesterday afternoon fell down the deep cut on the North Carolina Railroad just beyond Boylan's bridge, and dislocated his right shoulder.

Another accident from kerosene oil occurred in Granville, a few nights ago. A mother left the room with a lighted lamp in reach of her young child. The funeral occurred yesterday.

The moving of the Baptist Seminary, (Rayner building,) is progressing finely under the skillful direction of Mr. Smith. If the weather holds good for a few days, the job will speedily be finished.

Maj. R. H. Tucker was presenting at Washington ceremonies at the inauguration, and writes an interesting account of his experience to his old bachelor brother. We regret we have not space to give a few extracts from his letter.

The rumor we gave in our last issue in regard to the salary of J. H. Harris, col., Supervisor of the Colored Deaf and Blind Asylum, turns out to be ill-founded. No salary has yet been fixed for that useless institution.

Colonel T. P. Rundlet, representing that favorably known firm of S. Collins & Co., Printing Ink Manufacturers, is in the city. We know the Colonel, and take pleasure in recommending him to those in want of a good article of printing ink.

We are informed that Theo. A. Wetmore, Esq., Vice President of the Security Life Insurance and Annuity Company of New York, is expected to arrive in this city to-day. He comes to attend after the interest of this excellent company in this State, which is under the management of Major R. G. Hay.

Only one case had come before the Mayor up to 6 p. m. on yesterday. This was an unfortunate white man named Cook, who fell into the clutches of the police for an indecent exposure of his person on Wilmington street and for committing a nuisance in the store of An Upchurch, on said street. He was made to pay a $10 fine and $2 costs added.

REV. DR. YORK.—Brantley York, D. D., will preach at Edenton Street Methodist Church to-day at 11 a. m. Dr. York, though totally blind for the past 20 years, is one of the most successful educators in the South, and is regarded as one of the most accomplished gentlemen of the present times. He is hale and vigorous, with scarcely a gray hair in his head.

WANTED.—A good brass finisher for light work. Address L. V. Brown, Salisbury, N. C.

THE DAILY NEWS.

VOL. II.

RALEIGH, N. C., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 9, 1873.

NO. 8.

PROSPERITY OF THE WILMINGTON LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We have before us the report of the Board of Directors of the Wilmington North Carolina Life Insurance Company, made to the stockholders at their annual meeting in Wilmington, on Jan. 23d, 1873. From the report we learn that this excellent company at the close of its third fiscal year was in a most prosperous condition, that its business is rapidly increasing, and that it has entered on another year of its existence, not only with bright prospects, but with the highest assurance that it will continue to advance in popularity and in the confidence of the public. The number of policies issued during the last twelve months is more than double the number issued during the first two years of the Company's career; and under the present able and efficient management, we have every reason for believing that end of the present year will find that the Wilmington N. C. Life has increased its business in the same ratio. Its officers are gentlemen of an high character as any in the State, and their characters and influence have no doubt contributed largely to the flattering results that have attended the operations of the Company; but a large share of the credit is also due to the zealous undivided efforts of Mr. James D. Brooks, the General State Agent, who has been connected with the Company for the last twelve months, and who has shown his fitness and efficiency for his duties by the success which has marked his labors in his behalf.

In concluding their report, the Board of Directors say they congratulate the Company upon its sound and rapidly improving condition, and that they trust every stockholder and every policy-holder will feel he has a right and that it is his interest and duty to commend the Company to the confidence and patronage of the people of North Carolina.

OUR CHURCHES TO-DAY.—Divine services will be held at the following Churches to-day, (Sunday.) Strangers and others in the city are earnestly and cordially invited to attend. Gentlemen who wish to be present to conduct services to pews which are always free.

Edenton Street Methodist Church, Edenton street, Rev. Dr. York, D. D. officiating. Services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 o'clock p. m.

Baptist Church, corner Salisbury and Edenton streets, Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., officiating. Services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m.

Presbyterian Church, corner Salisbury and Morgan streets, Rev. J. M. Atkinson, D. D., officiating. Services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 o'clock p. m.

Christ's (Episcopal) Church, Wilmington street, Rev. R. S. Mason, D. D., officiating. Services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 o'clock p. m.

St. John's (Catholic) Church, corner Morgan and Wilmington streets, Rev. J. V. McNamara, priest, officiating. High Mass at 11 o'clock. Vespers at 3 o'clock p. m.

Person street Methodist Church, Rev. Mr. L. Branson, officiating. Services at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 a. m.

THE LAST OUTLAW.—STEVE LOWREY KEEPING QUIET.—We learn that Steve Lowrey, the last of the Robeson county outlaws, is now, but seldom seen or heard from keeping close within his range, occasionally visiting, it is thought, his relations in South Carolina. He is now committing no depredations, and no fears are entertained of him by those who were once held in continued terror of the outlaws. He will doubtless be captured at an early day, and Robeson be thus rid forever, we hope, of the villain who have committed so many outrages.

FIGHT IN JAIL.—Yesterday morning Simpson Montcal and Thomas Griffice, the two colored men now confined in jail under sentence of death, engaged in a fight. Simpson charged Thomas with doing certain acts, in times gone by, which Simpson as an honorable man had objection to. The former broke an iron skillet over the head of the latter, and the fight was fiercely prosecuted until the jailor made his appearance and separated the belligerents. The only thing hurt was the skillet.

'TIS SWEET TO DIE TRUE.—A beautiful and beloved young lady of Montgomery, Ala., the daughter of Dr. S. E. Norton, was killed a few nights since, by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The disaster occurred while Miss Norton was on her knees in prayer.—Asheville Citizen.

How do you know? Did you ever try it? It strikes us we should prefer some other mode of exit.

QUIT.—In consequence of the action of the Caldwell Board of Directors of the Penitentiary in determining that one-third of the guard and one-third of the overseers of the institution shall be colored men, two of the old overseers and fourteen of the guard have voluntarily thrown up their positions. We understand the vacancies were supplied on Thursday last.

APPOINTED.—We learn that Mr. E. H. Smith has been appointed conductor on the North Carolina Railroad vice Captain Wm. H. Thompson, resigned. Mr. Smith ran an engine on the road for a number of years, and was regarded as one of the best and most skillful engineers in the service of the company.

MORE CONVICTS.—Sheriff McMillan, of Robeson county, brought three convicts to the State Penitentiary yesterday, all colored, two for twenty years each for burning a cotton gin, and one for two years for an assault with an intent to commit a rape. This makes ten prisoners that Robeson county has furnished within two years.

THE BIG INAUGURATION BALL

A COOL ACCOUNT OF THE INAUGURATION FETE.

Freezing Remarks on the Building, the Ball and the Supper—Joy Alusions to Distinguished Guests—Gold Comfort in the Terpichorean Skating-Rink—A Great Sneeze and Its Political Effect.

"Don Piatt," the humorous correspondent of the Herald, does up the inauguration ball in the following "cool" style. An account of the day's proceedings, from the same pen, will be found on the third page. Says the Hon. Sander date of Washington, 5th inst:

All the loose boards in Washington were nailed together in Judiciary square, next door to the jail, and fashioned into a ball-room. As a ball room in the temperate zone it was a success; as a ball room, with the thermometer marking no end of degrees below zero, it was a skating rink. It began, as all balls are given to, do ten P. M., and by one A. M., an efficient police was carrying out corpses in a stifened condition. A pine board, one inch in thickness is not warming; no amount of imagination will draw heat out of a pine board when pulverized ice moun-tains are blown in great guns on both sides of it. The enterprising management did its best to heat up, by assuring one and all that it was moderating; but it did not moderate, au contraire, as the Frenchman remarked when asked if he liked German bayonets. The weather got worse. At ten o'clock P. M., the tail of the brass Jackson's horse in Lafayette square had to be padded to preserve it and at eleven doorknobs dropped off. What was the use of striving to be gay and festive? The poor women in short necks and low sleeves—(thaw that out, please)—did their best in the "Boston," but you can't make a dip with the tallow frozen. I am pained to write you this, for THE EFFORT AT AN INAUGURATION BALL in Judiciary square, next to the jail, deserves success. To the eye the effect was magnificent; it was superb; it was wonderful; it beat Byron and the Bridge of Sighs. I remember balls at the Tuileries and balls at the Hotel de Ville in their better days, and I say now, thawed out and duly sober, that those festive occasions sung small before the vast glitter, the fields of light one saw when, looking from the President's platform, one gazed along the interior of that vast edifice.

The arched roof, rounded up a hundred feet above, was far enough away to have the effect of the finest Gothic carving although very rough work, while a million of gas jets, in all sort of fancied shapes, gave the impression of a fairy scene. Add to this three or four thousand people, the ladies in ball dresses and the men in uniform of either the conventional swallow tail or cadets' dress, or volunteer patterns and gold, and one can appreciate what it might have been had Divine Providence smiled on our patriotic efforts and given us warmer weather. As it was, financially, the ball was not a success. At ten, as I have said, the guests began to put in an appearance.

THE ARRANGEMENTS WERE PERFECT.

Hats and coats were not only checked, but each comer had a box to himself or herself, where these articles could be found without confusion. True, the colored people in attendance froze to death in great numbers, but the management, with great wisdom, foreseeing such a fatality, had relays of fresh hot dainties brought from some warm localities (the jail, perhaps), so that at no moment were the festivities interrupted by the casualties. The same may be said of the arrangements for supper. The table, running the length of the building on one side, was approachable at all hours; but what was the use of all this when one had to break the ice to get at the stewed oysters, and the chicken salad so hard that fifty sets of new Congressional teeth were broken in the attempt to eat the same? This article of teeth in Congress is hid under the name of stationery, giving one fuel, hair and tin snips, and all sorts of articles allowed by law; but it is, then, all the same. The first thing an average Congressman does after election on arriving in Washington is to have his hair dyed and a sew set of teeth inserted, and there he stands in his calfskin, human, handsome and liable to the lobby. It is a little awkward, then, under these circumstances to encounter frozen salads or to have valuable teeth set chattering by the intense cold.

WHAT THE BRITISH MINISTER THOUGHT.

Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister, assisted by his entire legation, expressed an opinion for the first time since his arrival in Washington. He said, with considerable emphasis, that it was "blasted cold, you know, and the draughts were of the finest and very disagreeable." The ball was made up mostly of strangers to Washington. We had representatives from all parts of the Republic, whose example, under Heaven's guidance, as the President tells us, all the nations of the earth are now following. One language, says His Excellency! If ours is accepted, just now that we have got into these investigations, there will be considerable profanity in it. But that's not about our ball. The belles gathered into the national capital from every section of our free land were dressed superbly, at least so I am assured by Mrs. Grundy, who had descriptions given her in advance. All I saw was a general assortment of wraps that were not superb. At eleven o'clock the Administration arrived, accompanied by a suite of militia generals kindly disposed Congressmen and a number of the diplomatic corps. Entering by the main entrance, this funeral procession, by rapid walking, managed to keep the blood in circulation. It was observed that Secretaries Fish and Robesonuffed like steaguns. As we had never fore noticed any lack of wind in these public functionaries, the surprise was general. The band played "HAIL TO THE CHIEF."

On reaching the stand, or platform, Governor Cooke informed His Excellency that the guests wished to shake his hand, whereupon Ulysses remarked that not only his hand but his body had been shaking for some time. As this is the nearest approach to a joke ever made by the President, let it be recorded. The discussion was excited over the floor as to whether this was a casualty or not, the majority expressing the belief that it was. Messrs. Delano and Creswell, of the Cabinet, were observed to be exceedingly gloomy; whether the cold atmosphere of the ball room suggested the cold outside of official life, with which they are threatened, it is impossible to say. Mr. Creswell observing the telegraphic arrangements made to regulate the bands and various committees, begged permission to run the same for a little while. Of course this favor was granted him, but he heated such confusion that it came near abruptly ending the festivities. He had all the bands going at once, and while one was playing the "Dead March in Saus" another was playing the devil with "Yankee Doodle." This does not speak much for government telegraphy.

AN INTERESTING AND EXCITING INCIDENT.

At twelve the President sneezed. Encouraged by this illustrious example all the humble subjects of the ball room began sneezing, and this became so general that the music was drowned and a general leave-taking followed. It is said to-day that the Administration has a violent cold in the nose, and that this delays the announcement of the new Cabinet.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—

We learn that a man by the name of McLaughlin, an agent of one of the Sewing Machine Companies, was waylaid and robbed on Friday near Goldsboro. He had left that town and gone but a short distance, when several men in disguise emerged from the woods, with pistols in hand, and demanded his money, which he gave up as a prudent gentleman should under the circumstances. We hope to have fuller particulars of this outrage in our next issue.

"GONE WHERE THE WOODBINE TWINE."

—Late last evening we received intelligence that Mr. Samuel T. Carrow, United States Marshal for this State, has gone to that flowery land, officially speaking, where, in the poetical language of the lamented Fisk, the woodbine disports its gracefulness by circling in labyrinthine beauty. In other words, it is now positively asserted that Mr. C. has been deposed outright, and won't even have a square inch of this good old State as far as the marshaling is concerned.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NOON DISPATCHES.

Foreign News.

LONDON, March 8.—A despatch from Berlin to the London Times says the government of France has officially given Germany a financial guarantee for the payment of a designated time of the last milliard of francs of war indemnity, and that negotiations between the two Governments for an entire evacuation of French territory by the German troops at an early day, have already commenced.

The Daily Telegraph this morning has a special despatch from Madrid stating that the streets in the vicinity of the Palace of the Cortes were thronged with people during the session of Assembly yesterday, and much excitement prevailed. Detachments of the civic guard were stationed at various strategic points in anticipation of an outbreak. The same despatch states that Senor Figuras, President of the Council, will to-day propose a motion for the immediate dissolution of the Assembly.

PARIS, March 8.—It is reported that over one hundred persons were injured at the Port Mont Valerian explosion.

LONDON, March 8.—The report from Madrid, that the great powers will jointly withdraw diplomats from Madrid if the Republic proclaimed is denied.

New York Affairs.

New York, March 8.—Geo. William Curtis is seriously ill of typhoid fever. At a meeting held last evening, a large number of Southern gentlemen, including the most prominent business men from the South residing here, Ex-Governor Lubbock, of Texas, and Col. Hart, of Ga., delivered addresses. The object of the meeting was to form a Southern Association for social benevolent and other purposes, which should include all gentlemen connected with the southern trade.

Terrible Explosion.

PARIS, March 8.—A terrible explosion occurred yesterday afternoon in the Cartridge manufactory at Fort Mont Valerian. Twenty-eight persons were injured, twelve of whom it is stated cannot possibly recover.

Murder in Maryland.

SALISBURY, Md., March 8.—Geo. Hall, aged 18, shot Amelia Spockley dead while returning home from school. He had written Amelia a love-letter which she failed to answer. Both belonged to good families.

Sudden Death.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Captain Timothy Rogers, aged 79, surveyor for the Board of Underwriters, fell dead at the Tenth Baptist church last evening at the conclusion of the services.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, March 8.—The Committee of the Assembly having changed President Figuras' bill for the dissolution of the Assembly and other purposes, are still in conference with the ministry. A compromise is sought by which the threatened crisis may be averted. At a late hour last night nothing had been made public concerning the probable issue of the conference. Sunday reports are current in Madrid this morning. There is one to the effect that a mixed directory will be appointed to assume control of the government. The members mentioned are Figuras, Rivero Orenz, Martas and Castellar. Under the Presidency of Y. Margall. The government will be styled Pure Republican.

Dispatches from the provinces say they are not disturbed by the movements of Carlists, and report that quiet prevails.

A band of men who was attempting to leave Fravres, near Madrid, to join the Carlists' forces was overtaken yesterday by government troops, and dispersed after a short conflict. Fifteen of the band, including its chieftain, were killed and one hundred taken prisoners.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Members of Congress have been excited over the extra pay which they voted themselves, some five thousand dollars. Comptroller Taylor has finally decided there is no technical objection to paying them.

Vice President Wilson has appointed Samuel Hunt his Private Secretary. The following nominations were made: Mrs. M. E. Gill, Holly Springs, Mississippi; William Mills, Jr., Alexandria, Louisiana; John O'Conner, Baton Rouge; Chas. D. Euker, New Iberia, Postmasters; A. S. Gass, Collector of Customs at St. Augustine, Florida; W. H. Smith, Marshal for Georgia; Capt. M. Clez Commodore.

The Senate caucus agreed to consider the Clayton, Caldwell and Patterson's cases. The Louisiana contest came up in the caucus, but was by unanimous consent passed over.

Southern Bank of Georgia.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Allen J. Jones, late Clerk of the Southern Bank of Savannah, Georgia, came to this city with fraudulent drafts for $32,500, which were endorsed by Kissen & Co. He drew the money from the Park Band of this city, with which the Southern Bank of Georgia is a depositor. The fraud was discovered to-day. Jones has absconded.

The Pope and the Italian Government.

ROME, March 8.—The Pope, in replying to an address presented to him to-day, said that reconciliation with the Italian government was impossible. The Pope would punish the invaders of his domain. As Catholics were unshakable in their faith, he had the utmost confidence in the ultimate triumph of the Church.
