ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE AT OXFORD. -It | Anna. is generally known that this property is now owned by the Grand Lodge of Masons of this State. There are, it is supposed, claims, though not of a large amount, against the Grand Lodge on account of the erection of the buildings, &c. The Grand Lodge, at its annual communication in December last, appointed a committee composed of Messrs, R. W. York, F. H. Busbee, W. R. Cox, Geo. B. Harris and Sion H. Rogers to ascertain if possible the exact amount of such claims and report to the Grand Lodge at its next annual communication. It is here suggested to all parties having such claims against the Grand Lodge on account of the College, in the form of accounts or bonds and notes, to send copies of the same, with all the proofs necessary to enable the committee to form a correct opinion to R. W. York, chairman of the committee, at Morrisville, N. C.

In all cases where a compromise is tendered the terms should be clearly and distinctly stated. It would be well for all claimants to act promptly in heeding this notice.
