THE INJUNCTION AGAINST THE DANVILLE ROAD.

It will be seen from the opinion of Judge Albertson, which we publish in full this morning, that the injunction, sued out by the Attorney General, representing the State of North Carolina against the Richmond and Danville Railroad as lessee of the North Carolina Road, to restrain and enjoin the defendant from altering the gauge of the North Carolina Road from Greensboro to Charlotte, has been continued to the bearing.

The order of injunction was first granted by Judge Watts at Chambers in this city, on the 9th inst. The defendant made a motion to dissolve the injunction before Judge Albertson, and on the 17th inst. the case was argued at great length before his Honor, on the motion to dissolve. The State was represented by Messrs, T. L. Hargrove, the Attorney General, W. N. H. Smith and Joseph B. Batchelor, and the defendant by Messis. Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe, R. C. Badger, and George V. Strong of this State, and Judge H. H. Marshall, of Virginia.

The Judge by the consent and request of counsel reserved his decision until Tuesday last-when it was delivered at Oxford.

The motion to dissolve the injunction was based on the ground that the State was improperly made a party, and that the Danville Company had full power and authority by the express terms of the lease to alter the gauge of the Road.

Judge Albertson, in his opinion, holds that the suit is properly brought in the name of the State, as the action can be sustained by the State either as a corporator of the Road or as a sovereign.

He does not think the question of the validity of the lease is involved in the injunction suit-nor does he think he is called upon to decide whether or not the North Carolina Road has the right to change its gauge through its en tire route. The question which is invovled in the case before him is: Can the North Carolina Road change its gauge in any portion of its line-and preserve the identity of the Road?

His Honor thinks that no such power exists, inasmuch as a uniform gauge is as necessary for the working of a Road as the road-bed itself. To have a gauge of one width through one part of the line and of a different width through another part is not a real compliance with the obligations imposed upon a Railroad corporation by a charter which is silent as to its powers in the premises. As the identity of the Road cannot be preserved where the uniformity of gauge is destroyed, his Honor concludes that the contemplated change of gauge between Greensboro and Charlotte is without authority that the injuction be continued.

In order, however, that the defendant be indemnified from any loss liable to be sustained, by continuing the injuction until hearing, Judge Albertson requires the State to give a bond in the sum of fitty thousand dollars conant of any loss that may be sustained by reason of said injunction. If this bond is not given by the first day of May the injunction is to be dissolved.

Judge Albertson's opinion is a clear and able document, and is well fortified by authorities. As an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court, the litigation is not yet at an end.

It is evident that a Railroad war is brewing in North Carolina, of which this suit is but the beginning. Railroad monopolies are the great powers which now threaten to control the whole legislation of the country. If these monopolies become absolute, the rights of the people will be crushed and annihilated, and popular liberty will depart the land.

Better to go back to the old fogy ways of slow coaches and stage lines than for the State to be bound hand and foot and be at the mercy of soulless corporations that will plunder her at will, destroy her commercial independence and make her the petty slave to their avarice and tyranny.

A MURDER IN GUILFORD-A FAITHFUL DOG.

Our Greensboro correspondent in today's paper gives an account of the ald McKay, is, no doubt, a half-breed, death of Henry Clapp, of Guilford and well acquainted with the mode of county, from wounds inflicted by Peter and Alson Staley, a few days ago.

and on search being instituted by his family and neighbors, his dead body was found in the woods, about four hundred yards from his residence. Upon examination of his body, the physician, found three ribs broken and two frac tured and the lungs congested. The Jury of Inquest, from the evidence adduced, returned a verdict that the wounds were received at the hands of forts.

the spot. Our correspondent does not state how long Clapp had been missing, but we infer that it must have been several days, as the whole neighborhood turned out and joined in the search.

THE STATE FAIR.

The next Fair will be creditable to the State. The President and Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society are doing their utmost to make the occasion a success in every way.

Although the Fair belongs to the whole State, and for that reason the whole State is concerned in the result, nevertheless the chief responsibility could not get to the artery. They next rests upon the city of Raleigh in all matters pertaining to the location, buildings and conduct of the Fair. If these things are discreditable, the reputation of our State's Capital will suffer accordingly. The unsightly and ill-arranged shanties at the old Fair Grounds, which were honored with the designation of halls and used for the purposes of exhibition of the various articles contributed to the Fair, were a disgrace to the State and to the city. It would be better never to have any Fair at all, if more suitable and convenient buildings are

But after all is done that is proposed the Society, the Fair cannot be success without the active aid and cooperation of our leading farmer's and mechanics, and professional and business men generally. And last, but by no means least, the women of North Carolina have their part to performand theirs is the most interesting and attractive department of the exhibition.

We appeal to the State pride of all our citizens, of all classes in every section, to do something for the annual exhibition in October of the State Agricu!tural Society. All should lend their influence in making the occasion worthy of the resources and the productions, as well as the character of North Carolina,

We copy the following from the editorial columns of the last Hillsboro

"We have received from Mr. R. T. Fulghum, Secretary, a list of premiums to be awarded at the next Fair, which is to be held at Raleigh on October 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th. at Raleigh. We congratulate the State that the vexed question of the location of the Fair has been so happily settled, and that Raleigh is to be the permanent location. It claims it by every consideration of position, centralditioned for the payment to the defend- ity and accessibility, and no other part of the State can complain of this, and State pride should dictate that the Metropolis should be crowned with all our jewels. We now look upon the Fair as permanently founded, to grow each year in dignity, and interest and

> Is CAPTAIN JACK A JERSEYMAN ?-A story is in circulation in Newark, New Jersey, to the effect that a lew years since there dwelt in the Thirteenth ward a number of Indian half-breeds, who gained a living by well digging. One of these had a son, named Jack, who was noted as a ruffian and desperado of the worst type. After five years' service in the United States army, this Jack returned to Newark, and opened a low groggery, but so great a nuisance did it become that the authorities closed it. Finally "Jack" went west, and it is asserted by those who knew him in stock of Newark that his personnel tallies in every particular with the description of this Modoc chief. It is also plausibly set forth that "Jack" is likely Jack, from the fact that his fellow fiends incarnate, "Steamboat Charley" and "Boston Charley," once dwelt in the East.

our troops in war against the Modocs, are known as the confederated bands in Middle Oregon, and comprise seven of the Walla Wallas, Wascos, Teninoz and Deschutes tribes, numbering 626 men, women and children. The leader, Donwarfare Jack and his party have adopted. The tillable portion occupied by the Indians consists of 500 acres, and Clapp was missing for several days, though even this portion is not very good land many of the families by reasou of their industry have succeeded measurably in their farming operations,

A Remarkable Case-Probable Fatal Consequences from Sticking a Splinter in the Thumb.

About three weeks ago a colored man by the name of George McFarland, residing on the corner of Seventh and Bladen streets, accidentally stuck a small lightwood splinter in the ball of his thumb. Upon with-drawing the splinter blood commenced flowing very freely and continued to do so for about a week before he came to the determination to call in a physican. On the seventh day after the accident a doctor was summoned, who came and for four days used every effort to staunch the flow of blood, but without avai'. At the expiration of that time another doctor was called in-a physician large experience - and the two, after consultation, proceeded to make arrangements to perform an operation on the unfortunate man, whose life-blood was fast, ebbing out. They first split open his thumb, but it was inflamed and swollen so badly that they proceeded to make an opening in each side of the wrist, the arteries of which were taken up and securely fastened. Previous to doing this, however, an effort was made to stop the flow of blood by tightly cording his thumb above the wound, but when this was done the veins and arteries in his hand commenced swelling to such an extent from the accumulation of blood that it was found necessary to remove the cord. After the arteries in the wrist were tied up, the flow of blood from the thumb was checked, but inflamation immediately set in and the whole arm becaine inflamed to the shoulder, which was soon followed by the flesh rotting and dropping off the arm below the elbow, the leaders in which are laid bare, presenting a terrible spectacle to the eye. In the meantime the unfortunate man is suffering intensely, and as amputation in the present condition of the arm is impossible it is the opinion of his physicians that his recovery is doubtful. It is a remarkable case, and, in connec ion with it, we are informed that Mche scratched rather vigorously. A brother of McFarland bled to death about twevle years ago. At last accounts McFarland was resting a little easier than he has for some time past. - Wilmingto Star.

It is stated that applications for passports are received at the State Department at Washington at the rate of one hundred per day. And this with no abatement in consequence of the Atlantic disaster.

The decision of the United States Supreme court has revealed the fact, that except the chief justice, no member of that bench is inclined to favor the woman's right movement.

It is proposed to build, by contribution, for the Rev. Mr. Ancient, a testimonial church, surmounted by a light house instead of a steeple.
