CENTRAL RAILWAY.

Cotton Congress now in session in carrying out their plans of Direct Trade with Europe and foreign points generally.

MEETING OF THE CEMETERY ASSOCIATION.—The Directors of the Raleigh Cemetery Association held their regular monthly meeting at the Citizens National Bank on Monday evening the 12th inst. Present, Messrs. K. P. Battle, President, Chas. Dewey, J. H. Separk, R. S. Tucker, A. B. Andrews & W. R. Cox.

The following is a synopsis of the business transacted:
 Messrs. Briggs Peadar and Separk constituted the Executive Committee for the month ensuing.
 The Treasurer was instructed to notify all in arrears by sending a printed copy of the resolutions in regard to burials passed at the recent annual meeting of the Stockholders.

The following is the Resolution alluded to which we print for the benefit of those who may owe for their burials:
 Resolved, That no further burials than those now existing shall be made on any lots until it shall be paid for or secured, and on lots where no burials now exist, no burial shall be made until such lots be paid for or secured.

The Superintendent of the Cemetery can dig no grave unless upon the order of the Treasurer, and the Treasurer can not give the order until the burial fees are paid.

The Secretary and Treasurer were appointed a committee to have certain resolutions and by-laws printed and sent to each lot owner and posted in various portions of the cemetery ground for general information.

There is not a broom factory in the South, yet, if a market was created for broom-corn, farmers could realize one hundred dollars per acre by its production, and the capital invested in the manufactory would pay forty per cent.—Savannah Advertiser.

There is a very good one in this city carried on by the pupils of the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind and as good a broom as is made in the United States is turned out there.

But the manufacture has never induced the culture of broom corn sufficient to supply the wants of the establishment though it grows readily enough, and we believe the whole supply of raw material is obtained from the North as in former years. The South has yet to learn to save at the spigot.

DEATH OF JAMES D. NUNN, ESQ.—James D. Nunn, Esq., one of our oldest and best citizens, died yesterday, at his boarding house, in this city. Mr. Nunn had long been a citizen of Raleigh, and had made many friends by his excellent traits of character. He was nearly eighty years of age, and had been in failing health for several years. See notice of his funeral in another column.

THE FUNDING OF THE CITY DEBT.—The people of Raleigh will remember the meeting to-night at Metropolitan Hall to consider the question of funding the debt of the city. Those wishing to acquaint themselves with this question will attend, as both sides of the question will be argued.

PEACE INSTITUTE.—The fall session of this school will commence on the 23d of September. This is one of the most popular institutions of learning in the State and is deserving that patronage which it receives. See advertisement in another column.

STATE EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY.—This Association will meet to-day at 10 o'clock in the Senate Chamber. Visitors are invited to attend.

THE COTTON STATES CONGRESS.
FIRST DAY'S SESSION.

Distinguished Men Present—Eloquent Addresses—The Cotton States Congress Welcomed to North Carolina and to Raleigh—The Object and Aims of the Congress!

At 11 o'clock the President, Col. D. E. Butler of Georgia, called the Congress to order.

In the absence of the Secretary, Messrs. R. T. Fulghum, J. D. Whitford and Johnstone Jones were elected Secretaries of the meeting.

On motion of Col. T. M. Holt, a committee was appointed to wait upon the Governor and invite him into the hall. Messrs. Holt, Graves and Wm. Johnston made said committee.

Gov. Brogden being introduced by Col. T. M. Holt, proceeded to welcome the members of the Cotton States Congress to the Capital of the State of North Carolina. The speaker hoped that much good results would follow from the labors of those who had on this occasion gathered together from different States and from different sections of the Union. The United States had been peculiarly blessed in many respects, and it only remained for our people, and particularly our mechanical, manufacturing and farming interests, to work together more harmoniously, advisedly and energetically to make this country all that its most ardent friends could wish, the pride of our own people and the admiration and envy of the world. And in this effort the people of the South and of the great West had much to do, as upon their exertions depended the success of every enterprise in this great country. The South should depend to a much greater extent upon her own resources if she ever wished to become prosperous and independent—we needed more manufacturing of every character, a greater diversity in our crops, and a more harmonious working together of those interests which were so identical. He again extended a welcome to the Cotton States Congress to North Carolina.

Col. Battler, in behalf of the Cotton States Congress, thanked the Governor and the people of North Carolina for their welcome to the Capital of this State. He rejoiced that this Congress was privileged to meet in that State which first declared its independence from the rule of a foreign government, and he hoped the grand and glorious results following that declaration would be but an augury of the good results which should follow this effort of the Southern farmer to declare his independence of that influence which has made him the time-server of those who reap the benefit of his labors. He was glad to see North Carolina extending this welcome to those who were laboring for her interests in common with their own, and he believed the deliberations of this Congress would be productive of both profit and pleasure to all parties interested.

Col. Wm. Johnston introduced Mr. F. H. Busbee, who in behalf of Mayor Separk, extended to the Cotton States Congress a hearty welcome to Raleigh and its hospitalities. North Carolina had become fully entitled to be called a cotton State and Raleigh with pride claimed a right to have this Cotton States Congress in her midst, as her own prosperity was due to the growth of her cotton trade. And he could also extend a hearty welcome to the representatives of the great West present in this Congress, as, despite it as much as we may, the West was the granary and smoke-house of the whole South, and the commingling of the representatives of the two sections was peculiarly appropriate. He said the time will soon come, may, have already come, when the children of Georgia will read with glowing admiration the matchless deeds of the gallant McPherson, and the youth of Illinois and Iowa will learn the lesson of heroic patriotism and sacred devotion to duty at the grave of Jackson. He hoped the delegates present would enjoy their visit to the capital of North Carolina, and that the deliberations of the body would be productive of great good to the sections peculiarly interested in its workings. Again he extended a cordial welcome to the delegates to the city and its hospitalities.

Dr. Maxwell, of Tennessee, responded to Mr. Busbee in behalf of the Congress. He returned in touching terms the thanks of the body for the hearty welcome which had been extended to those whom he represented. One of the principal objects of this Congress was to unite more thoroughly the every interest of this whole country, and the welcome extended here to those of the great West as well as those of the South would tend to weld together more thoroughly these two sections, and the representatives of the different States would carry with them proud recollections of this occasion.

On motion, Gov. Brogden and Mayor Separk, of the city of Raleigh, were invited to seats on the floor, and these gentlemen acknowledged the compliment in befitting terms.

The call of the State and delegates present showed the following representation:
 Representatives of National Grange—Hon. R. Shankland, of Iowa, and Judge J. T. Jones, of Arkansas.
 Arkansas—John T. Jones.
 Georgia—Col. D. E. Butler, Dr. Thomas P. Jaynes, E. T. Paino, E. W. Butler and Eugene Morehead.
 North Carolina—Col. Thomas M. Holt, Brovrad Davidson, Capt. C. B. Denison, Capt. James R. Thigpen, Dr. George W. Graham, Jordan Stone, R. T. Fulghum, Azariah Graves, G. W. Lawrence, James F. Johnston, Col. Wm. Johnston, M. A. Bedoe, D. C. Carter, Dr. M. Closs, S. B. Alexander, B. M. Collins, Jno. T. Whitford, John C. Wooten, George C. Taylor, Gen. W. R. Cox and Carter Harrison.
 South Carolina—R. M. Sims.
 Tennessee—Dr. W. Maxwell.

Judge Jones, of Arkansas, moved a committee on business. Messrs. Jones, of Arkansas, Jaynes of Georgia, Maxwell, of Tennessee, Holt of North Carolina, and Sims, of South Carolina, made said committee.

President Butler gave a brief history of the organization and its objects. It was organized in Atlanta in 1873, with a view of bettering the condition of the people of the Cotton States. The farming interests of Georgia were today in a better condition than it had been for fifteen years, and he could but attribute this fact to a great extent to the principles which had been inculcated in the two sessions of this Congress in that State, the principle object of which was to make the farmer a more independent class, to teach him to cut loose from that ruinous credit system which had so thoroughly impoverished the South, and to learn to till the soil by his own exertions. It was not the purpose of the friends of this Congress to array themselves against any class or any business, but he believed that every interest would be benefited by the system of working proposed. He hoped the deliberations of the present Congress would result in much good to the whole country, and he felt confident that it would be fraught with both pleasure and profit to all present.

At the conclusion of Col. Butler's remarks, the Congress adjourned until 8 o'clock in the evening, having accepted an invitation to visit the Insane Asylum at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

VISIT TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.
 At half past 4 o'clock the gentlemen of the Congress accompanied by the Mayor of the City and a number of gentlemen of the city, took seats in carriages and proceeded to the Insane Asylum. Arrived there, they were welcomed with the courtesy characteristic of the Superintendent, Dr. Grissom, and conducted through the different Wards.

The visitors were much struck with the order, system, and perfect neatness and cleanliness of every thing. Comparisons were drawn between this and similar institutions in other States by no means to the disadvantage of this one of North Carolina, and highly complimentary to those who have the well being of these unfortunate in their hands.

Leaving the buildings, the party was conducted through the kitchens, to the laundry, to the engine rooms, and viewed with satisfaction all the well ordered appliances of comfort and of safety. Thence a highly gratifying visit was made to the magnificent gardens teeming with its abundance of vegetables of almost every variety and in great excellence—a grateful tribute to the care and skill of the cultivators.

Returning to the building, the company was ushered into a handsome room and invited to a table beautifully and bountifully spread with refreshments, solid and liquid, to which ample justice was done with the accompaniment of playful humor and sparkling wit, the President of the Congress, Col. Butler proving himself an adept in both.

A visit to the beautiful green house of the institution concluded a visit every way gratifying, the only alloy being the impression of the melancholy service to which this costly and well conducted building was applied.

NIGHT SESSION.
 The Convention reassembled at 8 o'clock, President Butler in the chair.

The following order of business was reported and adopted:
 1st. Report of Committee on Constitution and By-Laws, of which J. L. Bridgers is Chairman.
 2nd. Report of Committee on Cotton Factories, J. E. Moore, Chairman.
 3. Report of Committee on Statistics.
 4. Report of Col. J. L. Bridgers on Agriculture, &c.
 5. Call for information from the Direct Trade Union of Patrons of Husbandry.
 6. Call for information in regard to the establishment of Agricultural Bureaus in the several States.
 7. Essay on Agriculture, Education, by Dr. E. M. Pendleton, President of the State Agricultural College, Ga., to be read by Capt. C. B. Denison.
 8. Inquire into the best means of bringing about a close intercourse between the South and the West and Southwest.
 9. Time and place of next meeting.
 10. Committee of three on improved agricultural implements and machinery.
 11. Miscellaneous business.
 The regular order of business was deferred and miscellaneous business was entered into.
 The Congress decided to hold its next regular annual session at Nashville, Tennessee, at such time as the President shall appoint.
 Dr. Eugene Grissom, Hon. J. J. Davis and Prof. W. C. Kerr were invited to seats on the floor.
 The following additional delegates were reported: Messrs. R. D. Wynne, of Georgia, H. N. L. Leary, of Louisiana, Rev. M. J. Hunt, of North Carolina, John D. Donnan, of Virginia, Dr. C. L. Ellis, A. M. McPheeters, and G. W. Stanton, of North Carolina.

Capt. James R. Thigpen was added to the committee on Constitution and By-Laws.

The following dispatch was read and referred to a special committee composed of Messrs. Wm. Johnston, J. J. Davis and A. M. McPheeters: CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 13, 75.

To the President of the Cotton States Congress:
 Your body is asked to consider whether the 12 per cent tax on other circulating than National currency is beneficial to the cotton interests of the South, and if its repeal would not lower the rates of interest and greatly benefit the farmer.
 J. Y. BRYCE,
 J. E. STENHOUSE,
 Delegates to National Cotton Ex.
 On motion of Dr. Jaynes, the ladies and the citizens generally were invited to attend the session of the Congress.

It was agreed that the sessions of the Congress to-day be held from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 4 p. m. until 6 o'clock.
 On motion, the Congress adjourned.

A DESERVE'S COMPLIMENT.—That veteran and able editor Edward J. Hale Esq., of New York, in a recent letter to Mr. Kingebury, has this to say of Our Living and Our Dead: "The Magazine is very rich in matter, and ought to be well sustained. We were amazed, however, to see how few subscribers there are in Raleigh."

The nine referred to in a local notice in the News of some weeks ago, ere business men strictly engaged in their avocations. Including all branches of business there were but nine then, ten now, as we learn.—The professional men of Raleigh do much better. At Raleigh Post Office, for town and country, there are eighty.

POLL HOLDERS FOR CITY ELECTION.—The Commissioners have appointed the following poll-holders for the city election on the 15th inst., on the question of funding the debt of the city:
 1st Ward—B. Yancey, H. M. Miller.
 2d Ward—Simon Hayes, J. E. Williamson.
 3d Ward—J. C. L. Lumsden, H. T. Clawson.
 4th Ward—M. Merrill, J. R. Whitaker.
 5th Ward—T. Parham, J. W. Cole.

There is complaint in the counties west of Raleigh of too much rain.—It has rained heavily every day during the past week and the wheat and oats sown in the fields are suffering seriously. Much of both is spoiled beyond remedy already, and unless the weather should become dry, the fine crop just harvested will be of no more use than a bad one.

THE SESSION OF THE COTTON STATES CONGRESS TO-DAY.—The session of this body to-day will be of a most interesting character, as the discussion of important topics will take place. The public generally and particularly the ladies of the city are invited to attend.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, of Hartford, incorporated in 1853, has an annual income of over $10,000,000, with an expense to income of only 8:06 per cent. Parties insuring in this company can rest assured that there is no more safe or cheaper company in existence. S. D. Wait is the general agent for North Carolina, office opposite the Post-Office.

The Democrats of Northampton have nominated Mr. James W. Vinson for the State Convention, and Halifax county has nominated Edward H. Smith, Jr., and Dr. H. E. Manning. Good nominations, and we could heartily wish our friends could be elected.

The tax-payers of Halifax county had the largest, and most influential gathering on Monday that has been held in that county since 1851. Resolutions were passed condemning the abuse of the finances of the county by Radical officials.

The match game of base-ball at Durham yesterday resulted in the Hillsboro Club winning by eight points.

Six copies of the Fraud Commission report for sale, only $3 per copy. See special notice.

Mr. J. D. Whitaker, has for sale two thousand pounds of best pine wood chips.

That great luxuriant, Turtle Soup, will be served at Pepper's to-day.

A deer for sale by W. R. Pepper. See advertisement.

Senator Winton is again on the stump. He is great on Southern outrages, but they have failed of late.—Now he is going it alone on General Preston's Un-Veracity speech.

Contractor, has not proved the Godsden tin, was expected for Wall street. Just now momentary affairs here have an unpleasant look.
