The rooms of this body of Radical workers are at present the scene of active working, and if those walls could speak many a dark tale and damnable plot would be unfolded. The Democrats of North Carolina, those who value the real archels STOCK PEAS and 30 dozen FRESH | peace of the State, should remember that they have to fight an enemy whose sleepless watches for the next two weeks will leave no stone unturned to thwart the efforts of those who desire a return to the honest when the idea originated only in the government under which the State | malignant feeling of the author to-FOR SALE -A NO. > A VALUABLE GUIDE BOOK FOR SUMMER TOURISTS - We are indebted to Capt. S. E. Allen, General Transportation and Passenger Agent of the Piedmont Air Line R. R., for a copy of the Pennsylvania Railroad "Illustrated Summer Route Book" for the present season, which will prove of great service to any one desiring to tour the North. Says Capt. Allen:

"Although our own issue of excursion tickets is large and complete, in order to accommodate the more fastidious, I have placed on sale at Raleigh and other important points tickets to Washington and return, which we sell in connection with an order for a ticket from Washington to any of the many points via any of the various routes shown in the book of excursion routes. Thus making the arrangements by far more complete than ever before offered, as a person in Raleigh is offered the same multiplicity of routes and forms to select from as a person in Washington. For instance you do Niagara by 130 different routes."

WAKE CANVASS .- Since our candidates have entered upon the campaign, the apprehensions that existed as to the result have almost disappeared. The best of feeling prevails in the county, the most decided hopefulness, and we are glad to add, much of interest, as is shown by the large crowds attending the different gatherings. The Democrats are more than satisfied with their nominations. Battle, Gales, Holland and Jones, bear themselves like men from whom much is expected, and they acquit themselves nobly of their trust.

On the other hand the Republicans have no reason to glory in the overzenl of Dick Badger, who is the fugleman of his crowd. He over-shoots his mark in the effort to bring himself down to a level with his hearers. It is right bard for Dick to flatten bimself into a "Muffin," but he is trying to do it. The "poor white men," as Dick sympathetically calls them, who have the marliness to do their own work, laugh at Dick, for they know how insincere this condescension is. They know very well when the election is over he will rotate back to his haunts among the "aristocracy," as he calls the Democrats and without farther sym pathy with the "Muffln," And the bait that catches the colored man will not hold the white man. Dick seems to have yet to learn that the white man of the South does act upon the idea of differences between the races. Politics, like poverty, makes strange bedfellows, but it will be a task of no little trouble for Dick to tumble neck and erop into the same bunk all the different elements even of his own party. "Civil Rights" makes no tempting display to the white man.

The speaking has been mostly in the Southern and Western parts of the county, and the tax gatherings have been well attended.

A note from Apex says that there were six to eight hundred there present, and that Gales and Battle made eloquent and pointed speeches. The writer adds that Jones and Holland sensible sound and speakers, and the white men of that section would wish no better ticket than that presented by the Democrats. The candidates were heard with marked attention. The writer closes with an appeal to the white men of Wake to rally up, and premising that White Oak ever.

THE DIXIE PUMP.-Mr. G. M. Greeson, the proprietor of this pop-ular pump, manufactured and almost exclusively used in Charlotte is in this city for the purpose of establishing an agency here. He wants a good agent. See his advertisement in another column.

LAST CHANCE.-John Armstrong, Esq., advertises half-dozen copies Fraud Commission Reports for sale at $3 per volume. These are probably the only copies for sale in the State. It has become a rare book. Buy and file away.

MASS MEETING AND BARBUCUE.-A grand Mass Meeting of the friends of Convention will take place at the falls of Tar River, in Nash county, on Saturday the 31st inst. A Barbecue will be given.

Senator Ransom, Maj. Yeates, Judge Fowle, Gen. Cox, Capt. Davis, and many other distinguished speakers have been in vited.

PECULIARLY GRATIFYING .- The continued and rapid addition to our subscription lists is a matter peculiarly gratifying to us, as it encourages us to continue in our efforts to publish a paper suited to the wants of North Carolina. We are under obligations to our many friends in different sections for the clubs that are being sent us, and hope they will continue in the good work in which they are engaged.

AN UNFOUNDED STATEMENT .-The Daily Constitution, of this city. in its Tuesday evening's issue, made a statement to the effect that the present employees of the NEWS office had "struck," and yesterday evening calls upon us to deny the assertion before it will "make the correction." We don't know that any denial at our hands is necessary conduct its business without the aid or advice of those who would control

JUDGE WATTS AND THE NEGRO'S Nosn.-Judge Watts, the buffoon of the Circuit Court Bench of North Carolina, is now engaged in canvassing against Convention in some of the counties immediately East of the Blue Ridge, and, from a knowledge of his style of speaking, we know that he must be affording infinite amusement to our friends in that

While the Judge was en route to the West a few morning's since, he took breakfast at the Boyden House, Salisbury, and engaging in conversation with a number of gentlemen asked one of them, a Democrat, "i he knew the difference between a Democrat and a Radical ?"

"The difference is so great," replied the Democrat, " I will not attempt to explain it." "It is altogether in the nose," said the Judge. "Yes," said the Democrat, "I am aware of the fact that the Radicals of North Carolina, as a body, possess extremely jlat noses."

The Judge would not see the point nor did he appreciate the laugh of the erowd at the table, but proceeded to explain that the difference was in the smell, That the white Radical's nose was so constituted he could swallow the negro at one gulp while the Democratic nose, being more delicate, required years to take

THE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS .-It was the privilege of the writer (the Associate Editor) to spend several days during the last week at this pleasant summer resort, located in Catawba county only a pleasant hour's ride removed from Hickory, on Western North Carolina Railroad. and we were pleased to find that they are well patronized this season. Our sister town of Charlotte has contributed quite largely to the crowd low present, although quite a number of visitors are to be found from other portions of North Carolina, and several from South Carolina. A!though the majority of those present are families, yet we have never had the privilege of meeting with a more pleasant and genial "community," and the quiet pleasures of the Springs-there is but little gavety there as yet—add a zest that is greatly appreciated by those who seek its waters, its shades and its healthgiving climate, in order to get away from the busy turmoil of every-day ife. The benefits to be derived from its sulphur and chalybeate waters are already known to those whose privilege it has been to test them, and the table of mine host Dr. Elliott, with perfect safety, can say we have never seen Miss Wrenn surpassed in the cuisine department which she controls, while the Dr.'s larder to all appearances is inexhaustible.

To those who would find a pleasaut resort, embodying both health and comfort, the Catawba White Sulphur Springs will be found equal to any other s.milar resort in North Carolina. It affords us pleasure to know that the various attractions to Summer tourists to be found in North Carolina are attracting the attention of not only our own people but those of ther States, and we trust that in a ew years our Summer resorts will be second to those of no other State in he land.

> Lady Franklin. From the Baltimore Gazette.]

In the legend of good wives that threads its way through all the centuries, there are names that will live, as examples of heroism and devotion as long as the world endures. They are found in humble stations, are among the delicately natured, in the but of the French potter, and in the stately homes of the nobility. Who can read without admiration the maint narrative of the domestic troubles, during the Cromwellian revolution, of Mrs. Lucy Hutchinson? In her memoir what a halo of light encircles her husband's head, when she draws his portrait for her chilsmile at, the eulogium which begins "To number his virtues is to give an epitome of his life, which was nothing else but a progress from one degree of virtue to another. His example was more instructive than the pest rules of moralists. He had a native majesty which struck awe into the hearts of men, and a sweet greatness that commanded love.' Thus, and much more of the like, flows from the loving wifely heart of her who had ministered to this noble and manly gentleman in sickness and in prison, and who lived her widowhood to bring up his children to honor his memory. And in the next century, the eighteenth, stands prominently forth the gentle figure of the Countess of Withsdale so long celebrated for the romantic escape of her husband, the Earl, from the Tower of London, through her quick wit and ingenuity. A century later the Countess Lavallette, in France, adopted successfuly the same scheme. She embled her husband, the Count Lavailette, to evade his jailers by dressing him in her own apparel, remaining herself in his cell to quiet suspicion. For this great act of devotion she underwent such cruelties that she is said to have passed five and twenty days and nights almost to which for many years in after life she was subject. The good wives known to history have had their meed of praise, and in the future one life which has just closed will ever be mentioned with words of tenderer sympathy and a warmer glow of feeling than any other probably in the century. For thirty long years Lady Franklin has devoted her time, her energy, her wealth, to recover some memorial of her husband, Sir John Franklin, from the icy mystery of the Arctic Circle. Doubtless humbler lives can show as strong a devotion; doubtless every day women are suffering and dying silently who carry quite as nobly as great a sorrow-a selfabnegation as heroic. But Lady Franklin was, from her position, in the gaze of the public. All her acts were necessarily known and heralded to all the world, and the world is quick to see and honor a type of womanhood of qualities so marked, wholly without sleep, and the feverish anxiety acting upon health always feeble produced periods of insanity

so conspicuous and so noble! Peace and perpetual honor to her memory. She has found her hero at last. The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer says a negro girl was dying a few days ago. She called her mother to her and asked her to see a certain negress. She said that one had buried a certain bottle and it was killing her. If she could induce her to dig it up she would live. Well, the negress was brought, and knew nothing about burying a bottle. The girl died. It was suggested that the suspected conjuror may have buried the contents of more than one bottle down her throat. Anyhow the mother and the woman had an awful fight. Tuesday morning and yesterday's examination revealed the belief in the bottle story.

A large and elegant tea-shop was opened in St. Louis about a month ago. The establishment was so handsome and the prices so low that the sales were enormous from the start. we only wish to speak particularly of Yet one morning the place was closed; and later on the same day the tea merchant's creditors took possession. An examination showed that the chests remaining contained only sawdust. The merchant had obtained ten thousand dollars' worth of tea on credit for a month, had sold the whole of it at less than its actual value, and had gone away with the money.

Statistics have been adduced to show that there are 100,000 confirmed opium eaters in the United States. A New York journal commenting on this fact, says it is the result of two things: "Careless prescriptions by physicians, who allow patients to acquire the habit; and the deliberate preference of many for opium-eating to dram-drinking." And while it admits there is probably no remedy for the diseased appetite, it pertinently suggests that greater care in pre-scription and sale might prevent the acquisition of the deadly habit in many cases.

[From the Hillsboro Recorder, Person County. Several times within the last twenty years Person County has been represented in the Legislature by one who so well discharged the duties of a legislator and sustained the character of a man and a gentleman, that Person county ponored itself in its choice, and the State was proud of Person that it had that judgment of merit that pointed to the selection of such a man as John W. Cunningham. Again the people of Person have called upon John W. Cunningham to uphold their rights and lead their counsels at a time when judgment, talent and high character were most needed. Is it to be thought possible that the people of Person will fail in their duty? What has John W. Cunningham ever done to forfeit their esteem? As a legislator he has been faithful and wise. As a citizen, he has been liberal and public spirited. As a neighbor he has been kind and generous. Shall he be abandou-en now, and for whom? What peculiar claim has Charles Winstead upon the people of Person that John W. Cunningham cannot match? What services has he rendered that Cunningham has not surpassed? And shall a government officer, backed by the patronage of the administration and using all the corrupting in-fluences placed at his disposal, come into Person to seduce from their allegiance a people who have never before failed to recognize the superior merits of their f vorite servant?

---First Bale of the New Crop.

From the New O'leans Times, July 15th, On Tuesday e rening July 13th, the first bale of new cotton crop reached this city on the steamer Trenton. It is from the p intation of Messrs. Beraud & Gilbe t, in the parish of St. Landry. A all eyes were turned towards the Rio Grande, expecting the first bele of the season to come from that quarter, the arrival of this fleecy messenger from St. Landry proved quite a sensation on the Change to-day.

The cotton is of good staple and color, well ginned, weighs 428 pounds and classes middling fair. It was not wholly, although chiefly, the product of Mr. Joseph Beraud's plantation. Other places contiguous contributed liberally from crops raised from seeds furnished by Mr. Beraud, and known as the "Herlong sample of this first product of 1875 was exhibited on the Change, and of course attracted much attention. It was purchased by Messrs. Walker and Melleur, brokers, at 25 cents per pound, for Col W. M. Owen, who immediately sent it by express to Messrs. Bliss, Bennett & Co., New

It has been known to us for a day or two that five bales of new cotton were soon to arrive at this port from the Rio Grande district. It has al ways been that the first receipts came from there, and we expected that it would be the case this year. But the charm has been broken, and now, as related above, Louisiana has borne off the prize. These five bales of the Rio Grande erop are expected to reach Brashear this morning on the steamship Harriss, and will come thence to the city by rail.

445 MILES OF PENCILS.—The Dixon Crucible Company, of Jersey City received orders during the first week of this month for 28,000 gross, or 4, 032,000, of Dixon's American Graphite Pencils. It is hardly probable that so great a number of pencils was ever before ordered from any single manufactuer in the world in any one week.

Each pencil is seven inches in length, making 2,352,000 feet or 445 miles, of pencils placed end to end! To make these will require 83 000 feet of cedar lumber-an entire cargo from Tampa Bay, Florida, where a saw mill is run by the company to saw cedar boards for the Dixon pencils. They are packed in cases containing 50 gross each for shipment, requiring 500 cases, and six freight cars to start these pencils from the works of the Dixon Company.

Every man has his style as he has his own nose, and it is not polite to raily an honest man about his nose, however singular it may be. 'How can I help it that my style is not different? That there is no affection in it I am certain."

A DOUBLE DANGER AVERTED,—The in-habitant of a majorious region is threat-ened by a double danger. He is not only compelled to breathe missma, but to swalow it, since it infects not only the atmos phere, but the water. The aerial poison threatens his system through the lungs and pores, the liquid through the Stomach. Against this double peril there is but one protection, and that is to invigorate the entire body through the digestive and se-cretive organs. Ordinary tonics usually fail to accomplish this—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters never. In the tropics, where the more malighant type than those originated by the same cause in the temperate zone, it erjoys immonse and constantly increas-ing sales, and there is no portion of this continent where it is not the reigning specific for missmatic fevers and disorder the stomach, liver and bowels, proceed ing from majaria and other causes.

TO BUSINESS MEN. A good advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps and is never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accosts the merchant in his store, the scholar in his study, the lawyer in his office. the lady in her home, the traveler in the car or boat; a salesman who no purchaser can avoid, who can be in a thousand places at once and speak to thousands of people daily, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner. A good advertisement insures a business connection on the nost permanent and independent basis, and is in a certain sense, a guarantee to the customer of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the public celebrity, is not only enabled to sell, but is forced to sell at reasonable raies, and to furnish a good article. R. H. BRADLEY, Fayetteville Street. Opposite new Court-house and Post-office respectfully informs the trade that he has established, in the city of Rafeigh, a Candy Manufactory, and is now enabled to furnish the best grades of Fresh Candy to dealers and others at prices as low as the same grades can be purchased elsewhere. He has the very best workman in his employ, and is daily manufacturing of the very best material. He guarantees his stock as equal to any that can be purchased elsewhere. There is no use of dealers going North now for their supplies. They can be bail FRESH AND PURE at their own doors. He solicits the patronage of the trade, and in price and quality challenges competition from any quarter.

Send for trade circular.
