

Gov. Worth's Message.
This very practical and able State paper, as we expected, neither siles Mr. Holden, nor Mr. Greeley, nor Bennett, nor Raymond of the New York Times. They are hard to please, and we presume our honest Governor did not specially endeavor to meet their views. The Standard calls him "rebelling," and its Northern colored scout the proposition to distribute the colored population of the South among the Northern States. That unfortunate race having been suddenly emancipated, is it not humane to them to propose a better provision for them, than can possibly be made in the South, if it remains. Is it not just, that those who assumed their burden, should bear an equal share of the cost of their education and other training from 14 to 18 years of age, to make the outfit of the common school of the same kind to provide for the education of the white population? No man in the land less the constitutional government of the United States than Gov. Worth. None respect the flag or obey the laws and reverence the Constitution more. In comparison of loyalty and good Unionism, between him and Mr. Holden, and his associates, they could not pass muster among the Gov. Worth-Rebelling leaders. Where is there a word like it, in the message or in his conduct!

The Election of U. S. Senator.
Both Houses succeeded today in Convention, after four ballots, in electing a U. S. Senator, from the 4th of March next. That honor has fallen upon the Hon. Matthias E. Manly, of Craven. It is an honor merited by the ability and purity of the man, who both in private and public life, in sunshine or shade, has been the Christian gentleman, the able and reliable lawyer, the upright judge, and the conscientious legislator and statesman.

Conventions.—In the report of the balloting for U. S. Senator on yesterday to the effect that "Messrs. Adams and Perry voted for Mr. Gilliam." It should have been, Messrs. Adams, of Guilford, and Berry, of Orange, voted for Hon. John A. Gilman.

Ballotings for U. S. Senator in the House of Commons on Yesterday.
The House then voted on the fourth ballot. The Committee's report on this ballot was as follows: whole number of votes cast, 159. Necessary to a choice, 80. Mr. Manly received 69, Mr. Smith 45, Mr. Pool 41, Mr. R. W. Lanier 1, No election.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.
Mr. Cunningham from the Committee on Propositions and Grievances to whom was referred the resolution relative to compensation of Justices of the Peace for official duties rendered, reported back the same and asked to be discharged from its further consideration.

Mr. McKay from the committee on the Judiciary reported back, unfavorably, resolutions heretofore referred, relative to the expediency of reporting a resolution of the House, a bill for the relief of indentured debtors, a bill to provide for property sold under execution shall bring a fair value in U. S. currency, and a bill to enlarge the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.
The burning of this flourishing institution was a great public calamity. For many years of increasing usefulness, it had commanded the admiration and support of the friends of literature and religion. It was an extraordinary success. It had passed securely the trials ordinarily incident to literary institutions of high pretensions; and, with none than self sustaining vitality, was still proudly rising and advancing in its beneficent career.
