THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 27, 1867.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

In spite of the radicalism of the New York Tribune, we have come, of late, to think better of Mr. Greeley, its Editor, than formerly. He has a heart, and we would fain believe that heart is honest. It is only his head that is subject to wild and hurtful gyrations. He is, therefore, liable to be deceived, as he often is, by his correspondents, and sometimes committed against his own policy by his assistants. We judge so, from the fact that what Mr. Greeley says is, generally, humane, kind, forgiving and true, according as he understands a case, while his paper often betrays quite a different temper.

A Mr. Conway, who has been recently figuring in the South, making speeches, we observe betrays the Tribune into some mistakes in regard to the meeting held here—He, also, exhibits less Yankee sharpness in judging of public opinion in the South than we expected. It was our purpose not to notice his visit, for the reason that the company he kept, while here, led us to expect no fairness from him, and other reasons rather served to impress us with the idea that he was "small potatoes." His speech, as published in the Standard, confirms this idea, and presents him in the attitude of having found his political level, when he affiliated with demagogues and tricksters of the Holdenite order

Both the speech here, and the account which he gives of the Conservative meeting, indicate under what influences Mr. Conway penned both. The mis-statements, however, hurt but little. The following from Conway's letter to the Tribune is very refreshing

"After the Governor concluded his speech, the audience called loudly for Radical speakers. Mr. Harris, a colored man, responded, and made a speech in which he tried hard to be radical to the Radicals, and yet conservative to the Conservatives, so called. The audience appeared greatly annoyed because they did not hear thoroughly radical sentiments, and soon called on Mr. Taylor, of Raleigh. This gentleman spoke for awhile, and, without saying anything, finally concluded by asking the audience whether they were Republicans, and as many were so to show their hands. All—men, women, and children, including the white men—present, raised their hands. A friend of the Governor who witnessed this winding up of the meeting said: 'This is a Radical crowd, and there is no use in the Governor or any one else trying to make them otherwise."

THE "UNION REGISTER"

The Editors of this Journal, which, our readers need not to be informed, is Radical "after the straitest sect," though conducted with more fairness and moderation than usually characterize papers of a similar persuasion, have not been in North Carolina sufficiently long to be thoroughly posted as to the antecedents of our old party hacks. They are making good progress, however. It will be seen, by the following extracts from the last number, that they have got their eyes well open as to the pretensions of the "so called" Southern Loyalists.

QUALIFICATIONS.—In 1861, Mr. Holden "spurned the pelf of old Abe Lincoln," and assailed, in his usual amiable manner, other journals of the State for accepting it. In 1867, he log-rolls for the public printing, with the plea that his sufferings in the cause of the Union give him a prior claim. On the same principle Satan might claim a "leetle" higher place, than Gabriel. He has evidently suffered more on account of sin, though it happens to be his own iniquity that makes him smart. So Mr. Holden suffered from the rebellion, which his own corrupt principles, zealously advocated for years, aided so materially to produce."

"WONDERFUL IF TRUE.—The Hillsboro Recorder gives an account of a meeting held at the Court-house in that place, at which Mr. Wm. McCauley introduced a resolution which contains a most telling arraignment of Mr. Holden. If the statements are true we can but acknowledge that "truth is stranger than fiction." Of course, being "strangers" and "adventurers," unworthy of a seat or a hearing in that carefully selected convention of the 27th, we know nothing of the facts, but so far as we can find any documentary evidence upon the subject, we are driven to admit almost every statement it contains."

ALL ALIKE.—The Conservatives of Tennessee are bringing before the people of that State certain reminiscences which must be embarrassing even to such an unmitigated apostate and blackguard as the Radical candidate for Governor. Brownlow's conduct as Governor has been based upon the assumption that no man connected with the Confederate cause has any rights, either of life, liberty, or property, and yet there was a time when he spoke thus

"Dissolve the Union, you infamous villains, and we shall make this proposition at once to Louis Napoleon, a most sagacious monarch, and he would quarter at New Orleans 200,000 Frenchmen, and in the Chesapeake 200,000 more: we would then command the Mississippi Valley, whip the Northwestern States into OUR SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY, and we would then turn upon the New England States and cause the hurricane of civil war to rage and sweep from Mason & Dixon's line to the cod fisheries of Maine, until we would extinguish the last Abolition foothold on the continent of America."

There is a strong resemblance between Brownlow's record and that of our North Carolina "Southern Loyalists."

GOVERNOR WILSON.—We learn that this gentleman spoke in Goldsboro', yesterday afternoon. He addresses the people in Newbern this afternoon. We understand that he will reach this City on Monday evening, and will probably make his speech the next day or on Tuesday.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Governor of North Carolina desires, in this public manner, to return his cordial and most grateful acknowledgments to James E. Myers, Esq., of the firm of Hall, Myers & Thomas, Baltimore, acting for the State of Maryland, and to Messrs. DeRosset & Co., Northrop & Cumming, Atkinson & Shepperson, Mallett & Hoffman, O. G. Parsley & Co., and Messrs. Worth & Daniel, Commission and Fowarding Merchants, at Wilmington, for their prompt and liberal attention in forwarding, delivering and receiving at their respective warehouses, in Wilmington, free of storage and insurance, the supplies, so generously donated by the State of Maryland and benevolent associations in that and other States, for the destitute and suffering people of this State.

The Governor would be pleased if the press of the State would insert this public recognition of liberal and charitable conduct, on the part of these public spirited gentlemen.

GIFT ENTERPRISES JEWELRY ASSOCIATION. Especially since the close of the war, the Southern people have been continuously humbugged by the repeated efforts of "Gift Enterprise" men to cheat and defraud them. Hundreds have unwittingly sustained these villains by being misled by their tempting advertisements and letters. The press of the South should guard the people against these imposters

Recently one of these shaving machines ascertained the name of a gentleman of this City, and sent him five tickets, gratis. The gentleman immediately enclosed them to a friend in New York, with the request that the cheat should be investigated and exposed. The following is the reply of the New York friend

NEW YORK, April 22, 1867.

Dear Sir.—Your favor of the 18th inst. is now before me, and in reply I would respectfully say

On receipt of the certificates I sent a sharp fellow down to the office of these scamps, and he found the room in the top of a five or six story building, merely boarded up in a very rude manner and no one there to represent the parties, no furniture, &c. On the floor beneath, was a man who showed evidences of uneasiness and great curiosity as to who this gentleman was—his business, &c. He said he furnished the firm with the jewelry, &c., and said he sold them for about $4 (a lie, but it is unnecessary to go more into detail, but just as I knew, before sending, the whole thing is one of those "swindles" now so numerous in New York, whereby men of more brains than honesty succeed in fleecing unwary countrymen and gaining a livelihood.

After learning the above, I called on Capt. Kelly, of the 41st Precinct Police, and showed him your letter and the certificates, and requested him to cause the rascals to be arrested and their business broken up. But the Captain showed me three others of the same character, and he says it is impossible to do so, in consequence of the difficulty of proving the facts on them.

I must add to you, as I have written to many of my Southern friends, that all such trash advertisements and dodges are swindles of the most unblushing character, and that when any man or company say they will furnish any article of merchandize so much under the rates of any first class establishment, common sense dictates there must be fraud somewhere.

Advise all your friends, in all such cases, to simply throw such correspondence in the waste basket, and let the rogues starve to death here or go to work honestly. C.

A RELIC OF THE PAST. A friend has laid upon our table a literary curiosity, for which we make our acknowledgments. It is a copy of the "Ulster (N. Y.) County Gazette," of January 4, 1800. In size, it is not much larger than an ordinary sheet of foolscap paper, but the typography is neat and preserves its appearance astonishingly well.

The number before us is in mourning for the death of Washington, and contains a full account of the obsequies of the great Patriot.

Under the head of "Proceedings in Congress," we observe an address of congratulation voted by that body to President Adams for having suppressed, by force of arms, "a wicked rebellion, for a second time, in Pennsylvania."

In the advertising columns, we notice the following

FOR SALE,

The one half of a Saw Mill with a convenient place for building, lying in the town of Rochester. By the Mill is an inexhaustible quantity of Pine Wood. And, also, a STOUT, HEALTHY, ACTIVE

NEGRO WENCH.

Any person inclined to purchase may know the particulars by applying to JOHN SCOONMAKER, Jun., at Rochester.

November 21, 1799

We commend this to Mr. Greeley.

CONTUMACIOUS.—The standard, alluding to the fact that "Gov. Worth has been requested by Gen. Sickles to recommend persons as Registers, to enroll the voters in this State," protests against "any agency whatever by Gov. Worth in the work of reconstruction." This is the first instance that we have seen, in any quarter, of a disposition to arraign or question the authority or action of the District Commander, and comes with a bad grace from a man, who is disfranchised. Gen. Sickles, probably, knows what he is about, and Gov. Worth will do nothing but what he is fully authorized or invited to do.

These "Southern Loyalists" and former secessionists not only arrogate to themselves the exclusive right to monopolize the civic part of the work of re-organization, but they would even assume to dictate to the military Commanders! They will get a sharp rebuke before long, if they don't "mind a little."

NORTH CAROLINA PRESS.—In our notice of the North Carolina Press, the other day, we inadvertently omitted the Weekly Message at Greensboro', a most excellent religious paper, edited by that greatly tried, Mr. Bompass, and also that capital, tri-weekly, the Lincoln Courier, edited by Mr. Britton, and the Carolina Watchman, at Salisbury. We beg pardon for the omission. It was purely unintentional. We have, therefore, four religious papers in the State, and forty-nine secular.

Secretary Seward has kept a diary for six years. Butler's also threatens to become chronic.

STATE ITEMS.

—On Easter Monday, a large number of the Freedmen of Henderson assembled at the Fair ground, and, at the request of a committee appointed to wait upon them, Messrs. J. Young and G. Badger Harris addressed the meeting. Matthew Watson, colored, introduced the speakers, and at the close of the speeches, on behalf of the large assembly, expressed his warmest thanks at the plain, practical and hopeful views of the political situation taken and expressed by Messrs. Young and Harris, and added a few earnest and sensible remarks.

—The Tarboro Southerner gives a very hopeful account of matters in Edgecombe. In 1860, this county produced 20,000 bales of cotton. According to present calculation, thinks the southerner, she will raise, in 1867, 25,000 bales. This alone, says the same paper, "will realize an immense sum, and will go far towards relieving the County from the pecuniary embarrassments under which she is now laboring." This is gratifying, but the Southerner must remember that the reduced price of cotton will not enable planters to realize, even with the increased crop, as much as they obtained last year. We have the authority of an experienced planter for the opinion that, under the existing system of labor, cotton cannot be raised with the tax included, for less than fifteen cents per pound.

—Sidney Smith, Esq., J. Orange, died suddenly at his residence, near Chapel Hill, on Thursday morning. Mr. Smith, some years ago, was quite a prominent politician, and represented this County in the State Legislature. He was a man of fine intelligence.

There will be a great "Tar Nic" in Henderson, on the 1st of May, to which everybody is invited. We expect that Raleigh will be represented.

—There was a jail delivery in Wilmington on Wednesday. James and Lawrence Mason, whites, confined for robbery, and James Fisher, colored, confined for larceny, made their escape by removing a plank, and, with this plank, prying open the iron bars of the window of their cell.

Daniel R. Baker, Esq., of Wilmington, has been appointed Register in Bankruptcy for the New Hanover Congressional District.

Bishop Atkinson preached in Tarboro, on Sunday last, and administered the rite of confirmation to ten persons.

Franklin Lodge, No. 109, A. F. M., at Beaufort, will be dedicated, on Thursday next, by Right Worshipful D. G. M. Best, of Raleigh.

The Henderson Index says: "Never since the 'late so-called' went up has money been so scarce as now in this region. Even a counterfeit, ragged 25 cent green back would refresh our gaze; but times will improve soon. Our Tobacco crop will go into market about the first of May and June, the wheat crop in this section is unprecedentedly fine, and if no accident happens to it, the yield will be better than for years. Under these circumstances, we can afford to wait it a while longer."

METHODIST BISHOPS.—At the recent meeting of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Nashville, after a full examination of the votes cast by the several Annual Conferences upon the changes proposed by the General Conference, it was ascertained that the change in the name of the Church had been defeated by the vote of 1,168 yeas, and nays 409. There not being three fourths in favor, it was defeated. On the change to admit Lay Representatives, the vote being 1,199 yeas and 371 nays, it was declared adopted, there being the constitutional majority.

At the same meeting Bishop Doggett was assigned to attend and preside at the next session of the West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Baltimore Conferences. The North Carolina Conference is to meet at Wilmington, Nov. 27, 1867.

For the Sentinel.

MARRIAGE REGISTERS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In your paper of the 26th, I notice an article, under the caption of "The Marriage License Law."

For the information of all interested in this matter, permit me to call attention to the fact that our excellent Secretary of State, R. W. Best, is preparing the Registers required by the late act, with printed headings, properly ruled and substantially bound. Mr. Best was for a long time Clerk of the County Court of Greene, and is, by long experience, peculiarly fitted for getting up Registers, Dockets, Tax books, &c.

Clerks will do well to correspond with Mr. B. in regard to ordering books.

J. N.

COLORED CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE. Fred. Douglass (colored man) was beaten in the Radical convention, in Monroe, on Tuesday, for delegate to the Constitutional Convention, by Hon. Freeman Clarke. The vote stood, Clarke 56, Douglass 44. So Douglass has the go-by.

There is nothing very extraordinary in this, however. The "goaby" is about all the [illegible] usually gets from the party of great moral ideas, even when opportunity occasionally offers, as in this instance, to give him something better. The negro, one of these days, will discover that the Radicals have been using his name, seeking to use him simply to promote certain selfish schemes of their own. They look upon the colored man as a political tool, to do their dirty work—and treat him accordingly.—N. Y. Express.

The truth is that the moment universal suffrage is established, radicalism will not have left a single issue upon which it can ask the support of all the states in the Union. It never was national. It is not even national to day, for, although driven by the force of circumstances to decree negro suffrage for the South, it denies suffrage to negroes in a majority of the States under its direct control in the North. Always sectional, it always will be so, and the moment negro suffrage shall be accomplished, it will collapse like a torn balloon.—Chicago Times.

Queen Victoria denounces the attempt of old women to renovate their looks. Another proof that she is not setting her crown for anybody.

The extension of our limits to the Western extremity of the continent gives the United States four hours and thirty-nine minutes more sunlight than it had before.

OUR POVERTY.—ONE OF ITS CAUSES.—If any arguments are wanting against the practice of planting cotton in Maury County, (says the Columbia Gazette, and the argument is applicable throughout the South,) the scarcity of money in the County ought to be itself sufficient. During the last season the farmers of this County made first rate average crops of cotton, and it has sold as high as there is any reason to hope it will sell again. The aggregate yield may be estimated at ten thousand bales for the County. This, at 25 cents, has sold for $1,250,000—all of which ought to have come and the great bulk of which has come into the country.

The question is, where is it now? And many people are puzzled for an answer.—But it will be explained very quickly and clearly to any one who will take his stand at the depot as the freight cars are emptied, and see what character of freight they daily deliver. Then may be seen arrivals every day of every article of farm produce used by man and beast, brought from Louisville or Cincinnati. And just at this season whole car loads of plows and other farming implements may be seen, all bearing the brand of some Louisville or Cincinnati house.

Add to these the regular supplies of dry goods, hardware, drugs and notions, that under present circumstances cannot be produced here, and the question, where does the cotton money go, is very nearly answered. Reader, if you own a farm, do try and raise your own potatoes, peas and bacon, plow all, mow your corn. It is not yet too late to arrange for your corn crop. Then take timely the lookout, and do not, we assure you, continue to labor and slave for a foreign taskmaster.—Ga. Constitutionalist.

THE CASE OF JEFFERSON DAVIS. It is generally understood that Mr. Jefferson Davis will not be tried at the next term of the United States Circuit Court, which is to be held in Richmond next month, since Chief Justice Chase declines to hold a court there so long as martial law exists in Virginia, and as this is in his circuit the court cannot be held without his presence. Mr. Davis' counsel, it is reported, will appear at the commencement of the term and move to quash the indictment against their client on the ground of certain informalities in it. Should the motion prevail, the prosecution will have to find a new indictment before April, 1868, for, according to the act of 1790, under which Mr. Davis is arraigned, "No person or persons shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for treason or other capital offence aforesaid, wilful murder or perjury excepted, unless the indictment for the same shall be found by a grand jury within three years next after the treason or capital offence aforesaid shall be done or committed." As the war ended in April, 1865, the time for holding Jefferson Davis under charge of treason has nearly expired. It would be a strange finale to the drama of secession and civil war, if the leader of the opposition to the government should escape a long threatened trial for impeachment by the remissness of his prosecutors, yet not more strange than the repeated postponement of his trial has been.—N. Y. World.

The Southern white man is the natural as he is the best and truest friend of the negro. The two races may live together in peace and harmony, feeling their mutual dependence, and blessing one another, if bad feeling is not stirred up by our demagogues, in conjunction with the pious missionaries, who are roaming over the country, taking from the negroes their little money and giving them in exchange their photograms. At any rate, it is the duty of those, who have the superior education and mental culture, to set an example of fair dealing, moderation, forbearance, and kindness. The distranchised class have no political aspirations, and no lamentations over their situation. There is not one of them, who is not willing to have as a ruler, an original Union man of principle and integrity, such as Moore, of North Carolina, Perry, of South Carolina, Jenkins, of Georgia, and Sharkey, of Mississippi. But we fear that we may get an old fire eater newly dressed up in the star-spangled banner, with an eagle feather in his hat, who says Yankee-doodle as a grace before meat, and Hail Columbia as a thanksgiving after it. Better a military ruler for a century, than a single term of such a man! The military ruler has no partizans to reward, and no enmities to gratify. The fair presumption is that he will be just and impartial, having no controlling motive but a sense of duty. There is not one of the five Districts in so unhappy a condition to-day, as is Tennessee in the Union.

It becomes then the imperative duty of voters to choose true men, not turn coats and weather cocks, men whose consistent unionism will be satisfactory to the dominant party. Such men as Governors, Representatives and legislators, will not be intent upon personal aggrandizement and building up a party, but will strive earnestly to promote the happiness and prosperity of their sorely disturbed, perplexed, and impoverished country.—The Land We Love.

THE RICHMOND POW-WOW.—T. W. Conway, who got up the Republican negro Convention at Richmond, wrote the address, resolutions, and adopted them, has commenced travelling over Virginia offering his programme for acceptance wherever he can find an audience. The narrow purpose of this Bureau stipendiary to harness the negro to a party organization which seeks his confidence merely to use it for a selfish end, is too apparent in the threatening and criminating animus of the proceedings to receive approbation from honest and intelligent citizens, or to succeed in seducing any considerable number of tolerably well informed Africans into the service of such mischief makers as Conway and those he represents. His aim is to excite antipathy and jealousy between the blacks and whites at the South, and to create a sentiment which would inevitably lead to most deplorable contention and results. The condition of the South is such as to require, for the good of the whole country, forbearance, candor, encouragement. The zealots who excite strife that they may reap personal and party advantage, are moral and political traitors, and should receive punishment due hypocrites and promoters of dissension.—Boston Post.

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.—Two years ago Mayor Rice was elected by a majority of 5,629. In November last the Republican majority in the city was 6,867. Mayor Rice was re-elected yesterday by the reduced majority of 3,938. This is a very handsome Democratic gain certainly.

But even a better result than this is the gain of four Aldermen by the Democracy, viz: Comisky in the eight ward, Casselman in the twelth, Schins in the fourteenth, and Mansur in the sixteenth.

Altogether, the Democracy of Chicago have reason to be proud of their work in this contest. Next time, they will do better still, and they may look forward to complete triumph in the great trial of November, 1868.—Chicago Times.

A Wisconsin paper, the Baraboo Observer, has observed a bearded woman, whose name is Holmes, whose head is as bald as a billiard ball, and whose chin is fringed with a beard three inches long.

CHOICE FLOUR.
42 Bbls. JENKINS' best Warren County Family Flour.
7 " " Extra Superfine Flour.
This flour needs no puffing. It has given more general satisfaction than any flour in this market. It is sweet, rises well, and white enough for the fastidious epicure. We will warrant it in every particular. The lovers of good bread would do well to try it and compare it with the best Patapsco.
