

THE RIGHT PLAN.

We noticed, in our last, the fact that several prominent gentlemen of Wayne had thoroughly canvassed that County, explaining the provisions of the Reconstruction Act...

We have repeatedly urged this wise and sensible policy, and cannot too earnestly press its adoption. Without some such step is taken, there is too great reason to apprehend that thousands of qualified white voters in the State, either from ignorance, indifference, helplessness, or a mistaken conviction of duty, will fail to register.

Let gentlemen of character, intelligence, moderation and discretion be invited to canvass their respective neighborhoods and address the people upon the necessity of registration, on the part of the whites. There is no occasion for such appeals to the blacks, for the simple reason that no stone has been left unturned to induce them to register, and, under the influence of such continued efforts and the agency of Leagues and other mid-night associations, they will register and vote almost to a man.

There is another duty we wish to impress upon the people. We want to see a full vote in the State, for the reason that we are anxious to know, at once, by a decisive test, what is to be the character of the State government under which we are to live.

At the same time, we want to see that full vote a fair vote, as fair as under the circumstances it can be made. Now, Part XIV, of the "Regulations" prescribed by Gen. Sickles, provides that, at every place of registration, two citizens shall be admitted within the bar as challengers, whose privilege and duty it shall be to challenge the right of any citizen offering to register, upon any of the grounds of disqualification mentioned in the Act of Congress, and that the general right of challenge shall be conceded to all persons present.

Let it be remembered, engraven upon the minds of the people—that, virtually, the Registration is the Election. If we would save the State forever from ruin, and her white people from degradation, let us register—register, and vote for men who will do what Congress requires, but will not go beyond, to devise accumulated means of oppression and persecution?

GEN. DOCKERY.

Our quondam friend, Gen. Dockery, though a man of years, is still a vigorous and earnest politician. He attended a meeting of the "Loyal Leagues," at Union Springs, and "Red Strings," at Waldston, on the 1st inst., and addressed the crowd.

His speech was of the usual Radical character. He professed great interest for the blacks, but seemed to oppose confederation, declared that the government owned no land in North Carolina, but said it owned a good deal "about New Mexico," and advised the poor whites and blacks to go off there to get land. Nobody, he said, had any land to give away in North Carolina. He had none to give, but he had land to sell.

The "old Glor" was very laudatory of the "Leagues" and the "Red Strings," as he used to be of the "Know Nothings." These old party hacks "love darkness rather than light"—are not afraid of dark lanterns and midnight meetings, secret political organizations to destroy the Constitution of the country and the liberties of the people.

Gen. Dockery has, perhaps, forgotten his speech to Gen. Howard, made in the Capitol here nearly two years ago, in reply to the enquiries of the Commissioner as to the status of the negro in this State. He had, up to that period, no favorable opinion of the blacks. He regarded them in mass, with of course a few exceptions, as a lying, thieving set, rendering the produce and stock of the farmer entirely insecure.

Now he wants their votes for his party, the Radical or Republican party, and therefore speaks more gingerly of and to them. Yet it is evident, from the above speech which we compile from the Waldston Argus, the old General is not entirely converted to the Republican faith. He does not yet feel willing to enjoy the tender embrace of his sooty compatriots, though he stood a chance of getting a good Ang from them in the Convention of March 27th.

REGISTRATION IN VIRGINIA.

The Lexington Gazette summarizes the registration returns for twenty-seven Counties in Virginia, exhibiting an aggregate of Whites 34,575, and Blacks 13,231. In the list are embraced some of the extreme County either way. The writer, upon the strength of this exhibit, remarks:

The above registration figures are highly gratifying, as they afford great encouragement to believe that the whites will have a very large majority of the total registered voters of the State. There is no doubt that they can have such majority, if they so desire.

THE PURPOSE OF RADICALISM. Among the dispatches from Nashville we find the following announcement of the spirit and purpose of Brownlow:

Governor Brownlow said that his majority in the State would be over 40,000, and that he proposed to inaugurate his party in a coalition with both ends open, so that when the devil went in at one end they could get out at the other. No promises had been made by him or his friends as to how long he should be Governor. The Constitution did not fix the time, and as he was called a despot, he would be one, and be Governor for ten years, to show what he might be.

This declaration on the part of one who has, by the most barefaced fraud, secured to himself the Governorship of a State will strike some of the law-abiding people of the North and West. It will also show to them the spot that animates the office-seekers under Radical rule in the South.

THE GOLDEN RULE. The North Carolina Conference will be held in Wilmington, on the 27th day of November, and the South Carolina Conference will meet at Morganton on the 11th of December.

The Goldsmith Mining Star says that the prospects for a heavy Fall trade in Newburn were never better than they are at the present time, in view of the fact that cotton has improved in appearance, and without an accident, the crop will be quite as good as heretofore.

Mrs. Madie Clark died, near Henderson, last week, at the advanced age of ninety-five years. A few minutes before she died, she was walking about, and had just returned from a visit to the graveyard to which she was soon to be consigned.

The Goldsmith Mining Star informs the particulars of another robbery near Kingston, on Monday night last. It says:

As we are informed, the robbers, some five or six more or less in number, went to the house of some citizen, down one of them severely in the leg. He was sent to the house of a negro, in the neighborhood, with the understanding that they would return for it, on Tuesday night. The negro went into Kingston, on Tuesday, and informed the military, whereupon a signal of colored soldiers, in command of a corporal, were dispatched to await the arrival of the robbers, and, if possible, capture them.

Rev. J. J. Linsell, key division running as a candidate for the State Convention in Transylvania.

One negro was killed, and another horribly mangled, by being run over by a train of cars, on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, on Thursday night last.

The Radical sheet, known as the Hendersonville Pioneer, is to be removed to Asheville and there issued.

David Husk has been appointed one of the Registrars for Lincoln County, in the place of one Edmund Saunders, who could not be found, we are told.

"Asheville" says our friend Stokes, of the Argus, is getting reconstructed fast. Within a few days all the necessary appliances have been located there, viz: An Agent of the Freedmen's Bureau, a Radical newspaper and a company of United States Cavalry.

The Asheville Argus, speaking of the purchase by the American Agricultural and Mineral Company of extensive tracts of lands in that section, says:

"Now, by St. Paul, the workmen lay out the intentions and wishes of that company, and would advise the land owners, and citizens generally, to sell their lands to the company, at the most liberal and profitable price. It is composed of enterprising, wealthy and liberal men, and when once they get a fair state of work among us, we shall see a new state of affairs here."

The Irish potato is one of the most profitable crops cultivated in this State. The following from the Washington Dispatch is better than common. Who can we get the "Goodrich" potatoes? The Argus says:

"We acknowledge ourselves led. Mr. McLaughlin informs us that he planted a parcel of Early Goodrich potatoes, and that he got himself a fine crop. Each bush brought him nearly a bushel, and the potatoes weighed ninety pounds. Some of the potatoes were very large."

Correspondence from the "Springs."

LAST night the merriest kind of a crowd was assembled in the ball room, prime for fun, frolic and mischief of any and all kinds, and determined to have a good time, generally.

We women folks all had on our "other clothes," and though I don't declare upon an immodest oath that any rats and mice were present, saying and excepting those that paraded behind the wall. I do know that some very pretty heads were displayed from the silver-haired locks of the beauties of the city, and first came to grace, Miss...

It was the order of the night, and at the conclusion of a stately Spanish dance, an announcement, not at all in the programme, was made to the music.

The band which gives us such glorious music if you could hear them play Strauss was playing a polka, and several suddenly a chorus came from the room, and with the utmost eagerness, began a waltz dance on the same principle, and a step which was a combination of the hop-skip-jump and a plenteous admixture of the waltz and the polka.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

Correspondence from the "Springs."

LAST night the merriest kind of a crowd was assembled in the ball room, prime for fun, frolic and mischief of any and all kinds, and determined to have a good time, generally.

We women folks all had on our "other clothes," and though I don't declare upon an immodest oath that any rats and mice were present, saying and excepting those that paraded behind the wall. I do know that some very pretty heads were displayed from the silver-haired locks of the beauties of the city, and first came to grace, Miss...

It was the order of the night, and at the conclusion of a stately Spanish dance, an announcement, not at all in the programme, was made to the music.

The band which gives us such glorious music if you could hear them play Strauss was playing a polka, and several suddenly a chorus came from the room, and with the utmost eagerness, began a waltz dance on the same principle, and a step which was a combination of the hop-skip-jump and a plenteous admixture of the waltz and the polka.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

And such dancing! To look at the impulsive, expressive face in contrast with the light and hair which moved as if Saint Vitus was their native power, was to enjoy a treat not to be forgotten. We all enjoyed with sympathy, goodliness, kept our seats and did the impossible, laughter, as if we were in a ball-room, and as if we were in a ball-room.

As a young gentleman connected with the Springs stepped forward politely and offered the lady a chair, but he was not to be accepted. Like some Sarah Fells, who came into the room to dance, and like the aged lady above, she declined it.

IMPORTANT TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE.

The following telegraphic correspondence was received at a late hour on Saturday evening. Its important character will be readily seen, in view of the early sessions of the Superior Courts.

Gov. WORTH to MAJ. GEN. SICKLES, STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Raleigh, Aug. 10th, 1867.

MAJ. GEN. D. E. SICKLES, Commanding 2nd Military District, Charleston, S. C.

The County Courts, whose duty it is to revise and provide juries, both for County and Superior Courts, in many Counties, have not made such revision since your Order No. 32. This omission has not sprung from any disposition to neglect your order.

Your order qualifies as jurors those who have been assessed, and shall have paid taxes for the current year. The words "current year" have been construed as the year next fiscal year, ending the 30th day of September next.

Our Revenue Act, section 14, page 12, requires the tax lists to be prepared in the counties hereinafter set forth, the 1st day of October. The machinery of our Revenue law makes it impossible that the clerks can have the tax lists ready for delivery on the 1st of October. It is respectfully requested that you will direct the clerks to complete the lists, and make return to the County Courts, on or before the 1st day of October next.

The Fall term of our Superior Courts is just commencing. It is believed that in many, and probably, in all the counties, the jury lists will not have been revised. Two of our judges, now in my office, on their way to their respective counties, report to me that they have just consulted of Richmond, and that he construes your order as forbidding them to try any suit before a jury not drawn conformably to your order No. 32.

It is true, as I think it is, that the County Courts have constructed your order as forbidding them to try any suit before a jury not drawn conformably to your order No. 32. If it be true, as I think it is, that the County Courts have constructed your order as forbidding them to try any suit before a jury not drawn conformably to your order No. 32, it is respectfully requested that you will direct the clerks to complete the lists, and make return to the County Courts, on or before the 1st day of October next.

By command of Maj. Gen. D. E. SICKLES, D. W. F. JOHNSON, Major, A. A. A. G.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS. The New York Tribune, on receiving news of the progress of a treaty for the exchange of prisoners in connection with the late published letters of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Grant, telegraphed the following important order:

It is hereby ordered that the Southern prisoners be exchanged for the Northern prisoners, and that the exchange be completed as soon as possible.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS. The New York Tribune, on receiving news of the progress of a treaty for the exchange of prisoners in connection with the late published letters of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Grant, telegraphed the following important order:

It is hereby ordered that the Southern prisoners be exchanged for the Northern prisoners, and that the exchange be completed as soon as possible.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS. The New York Tribune, on receiving news of the progress of a treaty for the exchange of prisoners in connection with the late published letters of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Grant, telegraphed the following important order:

It is hereby ordered that the Southern prisoners be exchanged for the Northern prisoners, and that the exchange be completed as soon as possible.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS. The New York Tribune, on receiving news of the progress of a treaty for the exchange of prisoners in connection with the late published letters of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Grant, telegraphed the following important order:

It is hereby ordered that the Southern prisoners be exchanged for the Northern prisoners, and that the exchange be completed as soon as possible.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS. The New York Tribune, on receiving news of the progress of a treaty for the exchange of prisoners in connection with the late published letters of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Grant, telegraphed the following important order:

It is hereby ordered that the Southern prisoners be exchanged for the Northern prisoners, and that the exchange be completed as soon as possible.

TELEGRAPHIC.

THE CLOSING SCENES IN THE SERRANO TRIAL—THE JURY DISCHARGED WITHOUT AGREEMENT—FOUR FAVORABLE VOTATIONS—A FIGHT BETWEEN BRADLEY AND FISHER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. At five o'clock yesterday, the prisoner was brought into the Court room, and was assigned the seat occupied by him during the trial, beside his counsel. He came into Court smiling, and seemed to be in good spirits.

At five minutes past one, Judge Fisher resumed his seat upon the bench. The jury were brought in at six minutes past one, and the trial resumed. The judge, the names of the jurors were called, and the Court proceeded to read the oath of the jurors. The jurors agreed upon a verdict.

Mr. Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

After the letter was read, Judge Fisher asked if anything was to be said on either side, such as the jury should not be discharged.

Mr. Bradley said the prisoner did not consent, and that he was unable to agree with the jury. Mr. Corbett said he would have no objection with the Court.

Judge Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

After the letter was read, Judge Fisher asked if anything was to be said on either side, such as the jury should not be discharged.

Mr. Bradley said the prisoner did not consent, and that he was unable to agree with the jury. Mr. Corbett said he would have no objection with the Court.

Judge Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

After the letter was read, Judge Fisher asked if anything was to be said on either side, such as the jury should not be discharged.

Mr. Bradley said the prisoner did not consent, and that he was unable to agree with the jury. Mr. Corbett said he would have no objection with the Court.

Judge Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

After the letter was read, Judge Fisher asked if anything was to be said on either side, such as the jury should not be discharged.

Mr. Bradley said the prisoner did not consent, and that he was unable to agree with the jury. Mr. Corbett said he would have no objection with the Court.

Judge Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

After the letter was read, Judge Fisher asked if anything was to be said on either side, such as the jury should not be discharged.

Mr. Bradley said the prisoner did not consent, and that he was unable to agree with the jury. Mr. Corbett said he would have no objection with the Court.

Judge Fisher said he had been unable to agree with the jury, stating the other side's position as arising from an agreement.

SENTENCE APPROVED—REGISTRATION.

CHARLOTTE, Aug. 12. P. M. The Superior Court approved the sentence of the Court in the case of the late Governor, who was sentenced to two years in the State Prison, and to pay a fine of $10,000. The sentence was approved by the Court, and the Governor was committed to the State Prison.

THE VOTES FROM YELLOW FEVER IN GALVES TON. GALVESTON, Aug. 12. P. M. The State Board of Health, in Galveston, has announced that the number of votes in favor of registration in the State is 100,000, and that the number of votes in favor of non-registration is 50,000.

COURT ADVERTISEMENTS. STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. MAON COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. NASH COUNTY. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS AND QUARTER SESSIONS, MAY TERM, 1867.