The following humorous article was handed us for publication by a friend. We do not know in what paper it first appeared, but it was copied, we understand very extensively. It is a good thing and we think it worth republishing. It happened before the war: Scene at Chatham during the session of the Circuit Court, in the Commonwealth 24. Cassady, on a charge of malicious stab-

The venire being empanneled, and the jury solemnly charged by the clerk, the Commonwealth's Attorney having called, to support of the indictment, the witness, Buck Bryant, who being solomnly aworn, the truth to tell, testified as follows: Question by Continonwea th's Attorney— Teli all you know about the cutting of the prosecutor, by Cassady the prisence at the

Answen. - Well, gentlamen, it was election day - 'twas a dark, cloudy, wet sort of drizzly day, and says I to my old woman, I believe I'll go down to Ringgold and 'posit my vote. And says my old woman to me, well, Buck, as it is a sort of dark, cloudy, wet aort of a drizzily day, says she, hadn't you better take your umbrill. Says I to the old woman, I spec I had better take the um-brill. So I took the umbrill and advanced down towards Ringgold, and when I got down that, Mr. Cole comed, and says he, uncle Buck, have you seed anything of old Bays I to Mr. Cole, to neighbor Harris wny? Says he, he's got my umbrith. (The witness, was here intercupted by the Court and told to confine himself to the actual itor. In answer to which the witness remarked, in a tone of indignant remonstrance, well now, Mr. Judge you hold on, gwine to tell it my own way-no while for you to say nothing more about it. Whereupon the court and common wealth's Whereupon the court and comments attorney, being actions to get, rid of the witness on any terms, told him to go on and fell the ta'e his own way). Well, as I was going on to say, 'twas on 'lection day, bushaman and fellow was running for the legulatur, and says I to my old woman, says

I, I bleve I'il go down to Rieggold and I, I bleve I'il go down to Rieggold and posit my vote. Says my offi woman to me, says she, Buck, as it is a sort of a dark, cloudy, rainy, damp, drizzly sort of day, hadn't you better take your umbrill, says she! Says to the old women, says I, I spec, I had better take my umbrill; so I tuck the umbrill and advanced on towards Ringgold, till I arrived ther. Well, the first thing I did when I got thar was to take a drink of Lan whiskey, which was monstrous good, and says I to myself, says I old hom, you feel better now, don't you? And while I was advancing around, Mr. Cole he come to me;

says be uncle Buck, says he, have you seen anything of old neighbor Harrat Says I for why! Says be, the old cock's tot my umbrill. Arter a while, I posited my rote, and then Mr. Cole and the advanced back and thee Mr. Cole and he arvanced back towards home, and Mr. Cole was tighter than I ever seed him. And so we sdrapped along till we got to what the road and path forked, and Mr. Cole and me tuck the path, as any other gentlemen would, and arter advancing a while we arriv to old neighbor Harris a setting on a log with the umbrill on his arm, and bout that time Elijab Cassady (the prisoner) comed up, and we advanced on till we arrive at Elijab's house. Elijah is my nefficw and likewise my son-inlaw—he married my darrer Jane which is next to my darler Sally. Arter we had ad-vanced to Edjah's house we stood in the yard a white a jawing, and precently two omebodies rid up on a hoss, which was Johnston before, and Whitfield Cassarly be-hind—Whitfield and Klah Cassarly being the same. 'Elijah and Kinh is brother both born in the nat'rul way like any bod cias t brothers, no gais between'em, and both of 'em is about the same age, especially Kish, which ar yourgest. Kish war drunk, and Mr. Cole got to qualing one another about points, and I advanced in the house what was Litiah's wife, which is my darter Jane, which is next to my darter Hally. Well, arter passing, uncla Bace, let's go home. Says I, good pop, so we pagged on together, and I he ard somebody a calling on together, and I heard to meriody a sain me, but never tentioned ben nor advance Well. I got home and was eating my a per, and Elijah, which is my son to be and married my coughter Jane, which
