NORTH CAROLINA RAIL ROAD.

We did not expect what we said upon the subject of the lease of the North Carolina Rail Road would be approved by the Stockholders of the Raleigh and Gaston or Road. The Raleigh and Gaston is a short line, and it looks to the North Carolina Road for its support.

For this support or, rather, for the good will of the North Carolina Road, the Raleigh and Gaston will pay this year one hundred thousand dollars. The Wilmington and Weldon Road will pay twenty per cent more than the Raleigh and Gaston Road does, if the North Carolina Road will carry its freight to and from Norfolk by way of Goldsboro, instead of by way of Raleigh.

The North Carolina Road lost annually from 50,000 to 80,000 dollars by turning off the freight of their Road at Raleigh, instead of sending it the full length of the Road to Goldsboro. The contract with the Raleigh and Gaston is such that they now pay to the North Carolina, all that could be got by taking the freights to Goldsboro.

We have little hesitation in saying that 20 years from to-day, the Raleigh and Gaston, under its present control, will pay per annum, $240,000 to the North Carolina Road, for its good will.

The fare on the Seaboard Road is seven cents per mile. On the Raleigh & Gaston, it is six; on the North Carolina, five. Five is too much. Under the lease there is no chance to reduce it in twenty years. We are told the Stockholders favor it, because they will get six per cent. annually. This is a mistake. The six per cent. will go to pay the debt of the Company.

The freights of the Road have regularly and steadily increased. At the end of twenty years they will be greatly increased; they will be five or ten times greater than they are at present. Shall the Raleigh & Gaston Road take the benefit of these increased freights and pay no more than $240,000? Where is the man who would manage his own business in such a manner?

The cost of the Road was $4,000,000. The equipments and real estate purchased cost largely over a million more. The Road is in better order to day, than any Road of the South. There has been more labor and money expended upon it than any Road of the South. From the completion of the Road up to the present time, from 200 to 400 laborers have been at work to make it what it is.

In 1866 the receipts amounted to near $1,000,000. Much of it was expended in work upon the road-bed, ditching, gravelling, &c.

In 1867, the receipts were $690,000. The outlay was $92,000 more than the receipts. Much of it was expended in work upon the road bed of a permanent character.

Would any man buy a farm at $10,000 and then build fences, ditch and drain to the amount of $50,000, and then lease or sell for six per cent on the $10,000? The Directors of the North Carolina Railroad have done this very thing, in the lease of the Road. Major Smith, President of the Road, says it is best to lease, for if it is not leased the Legislature will sell the Road.

Now, it so happens that the "Ring" who had the Road on the block before the last Legislature for sale, are the very persons who have leased the Road.

The friends of the lease pretend that they are in fear lest Littlefield and the Ring will sell the Road. Now leasing for twenty years will not prevent the Legislature from selling, they can sell subject to the lease.—They can't sell without first taking the Governor in the Ring. They can't lease without taking the Governor in the Ring. Rumor hath it that the Governor is in the Ring, and that his State Proxy for the meeting is fully committed to the lease.

There were, if we remember aright, only 18 or 20 votes for selling the Road at the last session. This pretended fear of the sale is all to force the lease.

PETER ADAMS.

Our friend Adams of Greensboro, called Tuesday, he is opposed to the lease of the N. C. Rail Road, says he became a Smith man, after the speech at Salisbury, denouncing the Legislature for their stupidity, dishonesty and bankruptcy. He is pleased with Major Smith's management of the Road, and says he is making more than six per cent now, and it is folly, to sell for six, when you are making more than six, and a prospect in twenty years of making twelve.

Eleven Hundred bales of cotton were lying upon a Neglo wharf in the city of Newbern, one day last week.

A photographer in the Strand, London, has issued "a photographic likeness of our Saviour." He says it is copied from the portrait carved on an emerald by order of Tiberius Cæsar, which the Emperor of the Turks afterward gave, out of the treasury of Constantinople, to Pope Innocent VIII., for the redemption of his brother, taken prisoner by the Christians.

A Kentucky paper proposes Richard M. Spalding for United States Senator in place of Mr. McCreery. Another names John Quincy Adams King.

The Hillsboro Recorder says that two negro men were found hanging dead about nine miles from Hillsboro last week. On the breast of the last one was pinned, "For barn burning and threats."

GRIEF OF PIKE.

Pike, in his agony of grief, cries, "How long! O, Lord, how long!" then he gives vent to his feeling of deep anguish over the hanging of old Jeff and Ned Morrow, who were hung in Orange last week, for burning the barns of three peaceable citizens.—James Morrow, a peaceable citizen, had to resort to the law and got a writ of ejectment to put old Jeff and his family out of his house. Frank Minor was the officer. William Jones was summoned to assist in executing the law. Old Jeff was peaceably put out of the house by process of law. For this the barns of Messrs. Minor, Jones and Morrow, were burned, with their crops of wheat, horses and mules, by old Jeff and his sons. For the burning old Jeff and his boys were hanged. One was taken out of jail and shot. Jones, poor fellow, had not the fortitude to bear his loss; a wife and six little children to support and his year's provision for them gone, was more than he could stand, to free himself of such neighbors, he committed suicide soon after the burning of his barn and property.

Pike is sorely grieved over this hanging, and, like 'uncle Toby,' drops a tear in sympathy for the wives and children of the black men, but he has no tears for the widow and little ones of Jones, no, they are white and don't belong to the League.—Pike's grief is very pretty, but it is all spoilt by another article which appears in the same number of the Standard, giving an account of the late shooting of Mr. Haughton, in Chatham, by the Leagues, Pike says, "We commend the example of those brave colored men to the colored men of other Districts afflicted with Ku Klux. If it is once followed the evil will be soon stopped." This is fighting on Pike's line. He said some time ago, "We tell those who are as-sailed to fight, to resist force with force and murder with death."

We are commanded by one greater and better than Pike, if "smitten on one cheek to turn the other." We advise all men, for the redress of all grievances, to appeal to the law. Heretofore the law could and did protect them in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property; when the law fails to protect, it is the fault not of the law but of those who execute it. The truth is, the State has been given over to the godless and the lawless, who are more intent on plundering the Treasury and ruling by secret societies, than maintaining the peace and good order of society.

PROCLAMATION.

In our advertising columns will be found a proclamation of Gov. Holden's, threatening to declare four counties of the State, to wit: Jones, Lenoir, Chatham and Orange, in a state of insurrection. He also proclaims that "in a matter like this there should be no party feeling." We grant you there should not be. Yet the Governor, who is President of the Leagues, shows his party feeling even in the proclamation.—He makes a one sided proclamation. He recounts only the offences of one of the opposing secret associations. He alludes to the killing of Colgrove and Shepherd, his militia Colonel, and the hanging of negroes in Orange, who were hung for barn burning and threatening to commit a rape upon a lady. If there was no party feeling in the proclamation, the Governor would have said, "whereas, Col. Nethercut and the whole Foscue family, including father, mother and child, have been murdered by members of the League; and whereas, in return the Ku Klux have murdered Leaguers, and whereas, members of the League in Orange have threatened, attempted and actually committed rape, and one member of the League convicted, and sentenced to suffer death, did escape from jail, and when another member did threaten rape upon a lady if she did not comply with his demands, and for it was hung, and whereas, the members of Leagues did burn three barns with grain, horses and mules, and for it they were hung, Now, therefore I, W. W. Holden President of the Leagues, do dissolve all secret Societies, known as Leagues, and I do solemnly call upon the President of the Ku Klux to imitate my example, and dissolve his secret, political association known as the Ku Klux." This would have shown that there was no party feeling in the proclamation. The Governor has studiously avoided allusion to the crimes committed by the members of this secret, oath-bound, barn burning association over which he has presided for more than three years. The President of the League has tried to put down the secret society which has been organized to counteract his own, but he has tried in vain. The result of your last call for troops, was that your own troops murdered and cut each others throat's. We call for your proclamation as President of the Leagues, to dissolve them and thereby restore order to society and the State, Those quiet you have disturbed, by your rape committing, barn burning associations. If you will not do this, have Coleman, the late Attorney General, recalled from Stetten, and make him President of the Leagues. The presentment of the late Attorney General by the Grand Jury, of Cabarrus, for an assault with intent to rape a married woman, gives him claims for the Presidency of the Leagues, which we frankly admit no other man in the State out of jail, possesses.

We learn from the Charlotte Observer that the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Wilmington, Charlotte & R. R. R. was held in that city on Wednesday. Col. W. R. Steele, of Richmond, was called to the Chair;

The President of the Company submitted his report to the effect that no certificate of stock had been issued to the State for her last appropriation, and his report being adopted, the representative of that supposed stock was excluded from participation in the meeting.

The directors appointed by the Governor were recognized as the simon pure, and a copy of a decree of the Wake Superior Court was read perpetually enjoining Mr. Harris from appointing directors on the part of the State. Strange to say the gentleman had not heard of such a decree before.

From Dr. Wm. B. Hedrick, Prin. High School, Snow Hill, N. C.

SNOW HILL, N. C.

"I am much pleased with both the Spellers and all the Readers, and as to the series of Geographies by Monteith & McNally, I have long considered them when the second is finished."

From Rev. Arthur Sketon, D. D., Rector of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, N. C.

I have examined the Geographies, Monteith's [No. 1] and McNally's [No. 2] and made several extracts, which exhibit, in the clearest manner, the peculiar excellences of these books. It is my purpose to introduce them both into [illegible] Academy, as soon as the present supply of books is exhausted. I see in the preference for the information which it gives on the subject of Physical Geography. The maps and questions in both works seem to me to be admirable.

ARTHUR SKETON.

From J. W. Graham, A. M., Vice Male Academy, Goldsboro', N. C.

GOLDSBORO', N. C.

I find your books are in use in most of the schools in this section. The teachers speak in the highest terms of your books, and I regard the introduction of Peck's Grammar as particularly fortunate.

J. W. GRAHAM.

From Col. Wm. Bingham, Prin. Bingham School, N. C.

MEBANE, N. C.

The introduction of too much valuable matter on the subject of Physical Geography and Astronomy into the text-books on Geography of most of Monteith's [now in use] is objectionable in my judgment, as it [illegible] to the pupil.

We shall introduce Davies' if we can, perhaps on the next issue of your books.

From Dr. Cross, Prin. Durham Academy, N. C.

DURHAM, N. C.

I design introducing the present Geography into this academy. Monteith's Geographies are excellent works, and I shall introduce them into my school.

STINGTON IVEY.

Prof. Wm. A. Obenchain, writing from Hillsboro' Military Academy, says:

The superior and durable style of binding of your works is a very great recommendation over with which I have long been favorably impressed.

From J. E. Hooper, Esq., Prin. Male Academy, Warrenton, N. C.

WARRENTON, N. C.

"Davies' Mathematics" was adopted by me in 1858, and, up to the time, I have examined no works superior to them as a whole.

I have examined, with a view of introduction, 'McNally's Geography' [No. 2] and 'Peck's Grammar's Natural Philosophy.' I consider them excellent works, and shall put them in the hands at the earliest period. The Philosophy is truly an enticing work and must meet with universal commendation.

J. E. HOOPER.

From W. C. Kerr, State Geologist of N. C.

I regard Monteith's Physical and Intermediate Geography as one of the best books of the kind. It has several points of superiority over most primary Geographies, not the least of which, especially in the eyes of the juveniles, will be found in its attractive and very graphic illustrations. Another is the truly wonderful amount of substantial and really scientific information conveyed by these wood cuts, and the concise and lucid descriptions appended. But the chief excellence consists in this, that Geography is here treated from the only true and rational standpoint, viz: of Geology and Physical Geography; so that the learner arrives, by a natural and easy process, at the true conception of the earth as an organized whole; the designed result of successive changes and modifications, under the control of physical laws, constituting a true growth from a chaotic germ through manifold stages of progress, all pointing forward to its destined end as the home of living beings, and finally of man.

From Rev. G. D. Bernheim, Principal of Moravia Female Seminary, Mount Pleasant, N. C.

MT. PLEASANT, N. C.

I have introduced your National Series of Readers with great satisfaction to myself and to our teachers. We find them to be excellent, just suited to our purposes.

With Davies' Mathematical Series we have been long familiar, and can find no good reason for changing them.

In the Primary Department we have Monteith's Geographies, and in the advanced classes we have introduced Peck's Gram'r, with much acceptance.

G. D. BERNHEIM.

From Prof. Jos. H. Fox, President Stantonsburg Seminary High School, N. C.

WILSON, N. C.

I have carefully examined the claims of the different Series of School Books most prominent before the public at this time. I have tested the merits of many of them in the school and lecture room, and feel no hesitancy in pronouncing this "National Series of Readers and Speakers" the best with which I am acquainted. I shall hereafter use no others in my school, and I shall furthermore use my influence to secure their adoption into other Seminaries in this section.

I use Davies' Mathematical Series in my school. I consider his works incomparably superior on many particulars, even to Stoddard's Course, which is saying a great deal. In fact, I consider it the highest encomium in my power to bestow, if I use Monteith's Series in my school. They afford a gradual but thorough and systematic progression, from the simplest rudiments of science, up to a development sufficiently exhaustive for all ordinary educational purposes. Their very superior merit has led me to discard [illegible] which stands next best on the list.

McNally's, the fifth book of the course, is decidedly the chef d'oeuvre of Geographies. No competent instructor can examine it for an hour without being struck with its extraordinary merits.

J. H. FOY

From the Statesville, N. C. American, February 20th, 1866.

We would call the attention of Teachers in Western North Carolina to the valuable School publications of this firm, which are equal to any in the Union.

Messrs. Barnes & Co., of New York, are now issuing large editions of these Standard School Books for the Southern States. The series consists of the National Primer, or Word Builder, National Elementary Speller, The National First 2nd 3rd, 4th, and 5th Readers. The symptoms of this [illegible] are quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the will [illegible] a loss their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in [illegible] and ECZEMATOUS diseases, and when long continued, results in serious losses of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are affected with scrofula in some [illegible]

Persons suffering from any bad humor are very liable to have it settle on the Lungs or some other vital organ. The only safe rule is to remove the Blood poison at once, before it settles itself upon some vital point.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.
