

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1870.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Two months	$10.00
" six "	5.00
" one "	2.50
" three "	7.50
Bi-monthly, twelve months	50.00
" six "	25.00
Yearly, twelve months	60.00
" six "	30.00
" three "	15.00

MORE ABOUT THE SWAMP LANDS.

It will be recollectured that the Governor, in his editorial in the Standard, defending the sale of the Swamp Lands in the western part of the State, which belong to the School Fund, admits that 100,000 acres of about 200,000 of which are "duly covered with tide water and can only be reclaimed at great expense." Of course this means that the remaining 100,000 are not then daily covered with tide water, nor subject to the expense of reclaiming them, more than is common to other uncleared lands.

Now, suppose the company never attempt to do anything with 200,000 acres, but operate only with the 100,000. It is a fact well known that a great part of this land is worth not only five dollars per acre, but twenty-five; but as the Company, it is understood, is selling it at five, we will attend to it at that price, the individual marshes being worth, say, $1000 each, and the swampy soil and trees they should do.

The Governor, or the writer of the editorial in the Standard, whom we take to be the Governor, says, "fifty families, with cattle and farming utensils, have settled on these lands" (they had already settled on it before the Governor and his Board sold it); "and fifty others have been added to the number." We think it probable that not fifty had also settled there before the sale. Thus we see, from the statement of the Governor, or of his organ, which is the same thing, that one hundred families have already purchased homesteads on these lands and settled them.

We copy the following in regard to this settlement, from the Eastern Intelligencer of the 15th inst. "Two hundred more families will soon be shipped to the same point, and from time to time, new settlements will be made to the colony of ludicious enterprising, intelligent laborers." The Intelligencer says "two hundred more families will soon be shipped to the same point, which, with the one hundred mentioned by the Governor, makes three hundred families that have already settled or made a start."

We have heretofore stated, and we did it upon what we conceived to be good authority, and it has not been denied by the Standard, that each of these families purchases of the "Hyde Park Settlement," 100 acres of land at $5 per acre. It is likely some of them buy more, but we will take it at the minimum, and now let's see how the matter stands so far:

The Governor and his Board sold 300,000 acres of land for $50,000. The Company has already within less than a month sold to 300 families 100 acres each, making 30,000 acres, at $5 per acre, amounting to $150,000. Thus we see that land which the Governor says could not be sold for more than fifty thousand dollars, and for which he accordingly sold it, the private purchasers have already sold 30,000 for three times as much as they paid for the whole, and have seventy thousand acres of good land and two hundred thousand acres of that which the Governor says tide overflows, still left.

Suppose they sell the remaining 70,000 acres of the good land at the same rate, (which from their success already, there is no doubt they will do,) and they will realize five hundred thousand dollars, or a net profit of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and still the 300,000 acres remain, which the Governor himself, or his organ, admits may be reclaimed, although "at great expense."

We call the attention of the people of North Carolina to this affair. We have not overstated the case we indulged in speculation; we have mentioned facts, most of those facts from the Governor himself, or his organ; if anything, we have under-estimated, for we think it probable the Company will sell much of the land at a higher price than five dollars per acre. But on the basis laid down above it will be seen that the Governor and Board of Public Instruction, have drawn away, or given away, four hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the Common School Fund of the State, that ought to be used for the benefit of the poor children of the State who are growing up without educational facilities.

And while this money is thus thrown away on the one hand, the Radical League, on the other, lays a tax of 5 cents on the hundred dollars of property, for Common Schools. We don't object to this tax—the people will gladly pay it, but we can see no use of throwing away near half a million of dollars to the Radicals, and then turn around and tax the people to replace it.

Nor do we object to the sale of the lands and their settlement by "industrious, enterprising and intelligent laborers," we are glad to see them come to the State, and it could possibly be no disadvantage to them if they paid the price of their lands to wards the education of their own children, instead of putting it in the pockets of speculators and capitalists.

We again call on the people to remember this transaction of the Governor and Board of Education. If he did it for a portion of the profits he is inexcusable, nay, criminal; if he did it for nothing, he is not less so.

SENTINEL OFFICE, April 19, 1870.

Dr. YATES.—As you have all the merit, so should you also have all the demerit, for having originated any personal controversy between us. The Radicals who have been delighted with it, will give you all the merit, while the Conservatives and Democrats will give you all the demerit.

I shall take neither merit or demerit to myself in regard to the matter, for I was not a volunteer, but a conscript in the controversy.

I owe an apology to your friend Holden for allowing you to take up so much of my time and space, which the public will say should have been devoted to the Governor and his profligate administration.

As you may have to bear the blame, among our friends of originating, so shall share the gratification of closing the controversy. I am not so sanguine, as some people, about having the "last word" for this reason, I have generally avoided entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

He said to the widow Wadman, take it

I intended that my letter of March should close our correspondence, but as I omitted to answer your charge that I begged Gov. Holden to sign or recommend my pardon, I write this to correct the omission.

A friend writes that you concur

in the statement of the Washington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the message and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Wash-

ington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "In

Alabama, as in North Carolina, the mes-

sage and of the life of his ambassador,

Littlefield. Here we have the result of their

evil machinations. This malicious falsehood of Forney will be published throughout the North, and even in Europe, and will disgrace it, will descend to any depth of degradation. It did not require this new evidence to convince the people of the South that John Pohl would aid in their punishment. Men who lose their self-respect and forfeit that of their friends, will avoid entering into a controversy with a woman or an editor. You are my senior, and as my friend, Mr. Collins, who is now ~~no longer~~, says that editorial silence is better than ~~silence~~ than editorial silence.

CONTINUED.—SLANDERS.—The Washington Chronicle of Wednesday says: "