

THE SENTINEL

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr. Editor
JAMES H. MOORE, Assistant Editor

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1870

READ THIS CAREFULLY

We have commenced making out, and will forward next week, all accounts for money due to the Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly SENTINEL, to those whose arrears...

WE ARE FORWARDING ACCOUNTS

For the Standard, we are forwarding accounts, and hope that all to whom they are sent will let us hear from them as early as practicable.

WE ARE NOT IN THE HABIT of making these calls, but necessity now requires it, and as we have been quite indulgent, we hope the present call will be promptly answered.

MISREPRESENTATION

The Standard copies a portion of an editorial which appeared in the Standard a few days ago, in regard to the State Constitution...

THE "REVENUE" EDITOR

has penned this sentence, whether by Dr. D. Ashley or Governor Holden, we do not know, but it is a deliberate insult to the people...

THE WEALTH OF THE SOUTH

The Northern people have fabulous ideas of the wealth of the South, arising chiefly from their ignorance of the true condition of the Southern States...

THE NEW CONSTITUTION

Sec. 6. Article 10, of that precious document, the present Constitution of North Carolina, reads as follows:

"Sec. 6. The real and personal property of any female in this State, acquired before marriage, and all property, real and personal, to which she may be entitled by her husband, shall be deemed her separate property, and shall not be liable for his debts, obligations or engagements...

On reading the foregoing one is led to inquire, what disposition is made by the new instrument of the husband's property. Not a word is said about it and therefore the old law remains as to him.

A man marries a woman, she dies and her whole estate goes to her husband and children. He dies and she takes down in his land, a year's allowance and one half of his personal property.

Suppose the marriage she be in debt, the husband by law is bound to pay her debts as well as his own, out of his estate, and her husband's estate.

The fact is Mr. Editor, matters have under the new Constitution been somewhat on the side out, upside down and wrong end foremost in North Carolina.

Queer! Is she not entitled to both dower and her husband's homestead if he has one? And if not, is not a creditor's widow likely to be a little seely?

For the Sentinel. - Sir - I am in no degree surprised to see in the Standard, a notice of the late Convention of the Southern States, and the fact that the people of our much oppressed old State, are to be re-constituted...

A much lamented friend once gave me an account of an interview with the wise and good Judge Kent, who remarked, "I have examined the constitutions and laws of nearly the whole civilized world, and have come to the conclusion, that you people of North Carolina have the best constitution and laws, the best administration of law, and are the most law-abiding of any people on earth."

Now North Carolina is extremely impoverished by the present system, and can, with difficulty, bear any further strain on her exhausted resources.

What say you to making a call on each county, to respond to this or some better proposition? Of course, the hotel keepers would accommodate on the most liberal terms.

For the Sentinel. - Sir - I am in no degree surprised to see in the Standard, a notice of the late Convention of the Southern States, and the fact that the people of our much oppressed old State, are to be re-constituted...

THE CODE AND THE CODE COMMISSIONERS. - If there were but a nuisance offending the public health, that nuisance Code and Code Commissioners are one. When they are swept away, I shall feel more relieved than by the removal of an over tight boot or a straight jacket.

The journals show that a bill was passed by the House at the last session, repealing and abolishing that detestable Code Commission. The bill got lost in the House.

For the Sentinel. - Sir - I am in no degree surprised to see in the Standard, a notice of the late Convention of the Southern States, and the fact that the people of our much oppressed old State, are to be re-constituted...

THE UNIVERSITY. - This time honored institution calls up in the memories of the past, many of the most sweet, tender and pleasant recollections. Her alumni are to be found in every county, State, and less seldom in every State of the Union.

Our jails are full of criminals. There are probably one thousand men now in jail in North Carolina. Several poor devils have died in jail this summer in my county.

For the Sentinel. - Sir - I am in no degree surprised to see in the Standard, a notice of the late Convention of the Southern States, and the fact that the people of our much oppressed old State, are to be re-constituted...

CONVENTION. - We understand that the late Convention of the Southern States, instituted by Governor and March for justice, which was organized in Raleigh, was organized in Raleigh, was organized in Raleigh...

A very interesting revival of religion is now in progress in the Methodist Church at Salisbury, under the ministrations of Rev. Mr. Burkhead.
