IMMIGRATION.

We charge that the real causes why the efforts which have been made to promote immigration in this State have not been successful, are various, but chiefly owing to Radical policy and Radical rule. The Standard on the other hand in a series of false statements, charges it upon the existence of Ku Klux outrages, and the encouragement given to them by Democrats and Conservatives.

So far as the influence of the Standard and its cotemporaries of the Radical school, could prevent immigration by highly colored and false presentations of the outrages which have occurred in the State, it has been done. That paper has labored incessantly to keep the Northern people, as far as it could reach them, and it has been aided by Northern Radical papers in this work, in a state of alarm in reference to lawless outrages, by magnifying the number of them, by withholding the real facts of the cases occurring, and by falsely charging all of them upon Ku Klux.

But these bugaboo stories of the Standard have had but a partial influence in restraining immigration. Those who have been exerting themselves to promote immigration have not had the earnest co-operation of the people or of the State. In Virginia, the case has been different. Men of [illegible] have encouraged them—their Railroad Companies have largely contributed to it, and while Northern planters have come among them to purchase lands, the owners of lands have been ready to sell at prices low enough to tempt the purchasers. Besides, being more contiguous to Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, persons seeking lands have easily been turned away from this State and induced to settle in Virginia. Moreover, Virginia not having been reconstructed until recently, she did not become the prey of carpet baggers as North Carolina has. Her Convention which passed her Constitution, did not so entirely revolutionize her as our carpet bagger Convention did North Carolina, nor did her Legislature recklessly plunge her into a [illegible] which she never could pay.

North Carolina, under the rule of an imbecile, corrupt and swindling officiary—had no hope of finding it where labor and agriculture had as little to expect, from a government hampered by a debt so heavy as to be compelled to tax them beyond all precedent. These are the principal causes why sensible men, have failed to come among us in great numbers. The case is palpable, that you can scarcely find an intelligent Northern Republican who has come among us to pursue agriculture or any other business vocation, who has not abandoned the party and at the late election who did not vote with the Democratic Conservative party. Of course we do not include in this number any man, who has been an office seeker or who has his eye upon political promotion.

Immediately after the adoption of the new Constitution in April, 1868, property went up in all parts of the State, and there was every reason to believe that immigration would turn toward the Southern States, and especially North Carolina. This era of good feeling soon passed away, and such a state of things took place, as to deter almost every man of capital from our midst. Standard.

The Radicals promised, as soon as they passed our present Constitution, and started the machinery of Radical government, that lands would at once appreciate in value, the treasures of the North would be poured into the State, money and capital would be plenty and everything would be fat and flourishing. Who has witnessed the fulfilment of the pledge? Where is the evidence of it? None but carpet baggers and scalawags have seen that good time. They have stolen and wasted every dollar which the State Treasury has had and bankrupted the State. It is not true that property went up in all parts of the State, soon after the adoption of the Constitution. In those towns where trade was improved by cotton, there has been some rise in property, but high rents soon after the war had already given property an advance in those cases, before the Constitution was adopted.—Money and capital have been so scarce, there has been no substantial or general improvement at any time in the price of property. Nor was it an era of good feeling. No one felt good but the carpet baggers and their abettors, who saw their schemes of swindling and robbery about to succeed. As to the intelligent and virtuous people of the State, from the day the Constitution was adopted until the recent Radical defeat, it has been a continuous scene of despondency and gloom.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER.—This old paper has been removed from Washington City to New York, and is now issued under the management of Alex. Delmar and N. H. Lewis. It does "not claim to be a party organ, but proposes to present all that is best in the doctrines of both parties and to address a class of readers anxious for the greatness and good government of our country."

Wilmington wants a loan of $30,000 at 12 per cent.

WHAT IS GERMANY?

During the present great hubbub in Europe between Prussia and France, we hear a great deal said and see a great deal written about Germany and a German confederation; and many, no doubt, who read and talk about these things, have a very imperfect idea of what Germany is; indeed, if they were asked the question, what is Germany, no two would agree in the answer.

The term, Germany, is very indefinite.—Prussia is an independent nation; then there are a number of small principalities more or less dependent on Prussia; the kingdoms of Wurtemburg, Baden, Hesse and Bavaria are independent. All these are German. Besides these are the Republic of Switzerland, German Austria and the kingdom of Holland. It will take all these to form a German unity. It may be that the present European disturbances, may give rise to new combinations and different organizations than those heretofore existing, and what has been known as the German confederation, consisting of Prussia and some dozen small Principalities, may be enlarged, but it is not likely that these will enter into one kingdom or empire, to be known as "Germany."

TOWNSHIP TAXES.

We learn that in some of the townships, the taxes assessed are very heavy. This is one of the evils of the Radical regime, which cannot be remedied without the call of a Convention. The condition of our affairs, would be bad enough, if the taxes upon our people were confined to what is absolutely necessary and legitimate, but to subject them to three or four different assessments by different parties, (often persons who are not free holders or tax payers themselves,) as the present Constitution allows, will prove a burden which cannot be borne.

The General Assembly now fixes the rule of taxation for State and county purposes. These taxes are assessed upon the valuation fixed by appointees of the County Commissioners, in each township. The town and city Commissioners then assess the taxes for town and city purposes, by a distinct board of assessors. The only safe plan is to return to our old system, and let the valuation of property made by the assessors appointed by the County Courts, being free holders, be the only assessment made for all purposes.

ELECTIONS.—Gov. Holden has issued his proclamations, ordering an election to be held in Wake county, to fill the vacancy in the House occasioned by the death of H. A. Hodge, Esq., also in the Senatorial District of Craven and Carteret, to fill the vacancy in the Senate, occasioned by the resignation of Col. W. J. Clarke, also in the Senatorial District of New Hanover and Brunswick, occasioned by the death of A. H. Galloway,—all to take place on the 10th of November next.

U. S. SUPREME COURT.—At the present session of this Court a case comes up from Illinois, upon an appeal from Mrs. Myra Bardwell, whose application to the Supreme Court of Illinois for license as an attorney and counsellor at law, was refused because the applicant was a married woman and because the laws of Illinois did not recognize the eligibility of females.

For the Sentinel.

THE UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—I notice that a number of your correspondents take the position, that the Legislature should select for the United States Senate, a man whose disabilities under the 14th Amendment, have been removed without reference to his ability to take the "test oath." I wish, therefore, to respectfully suggest, that if the Legislature intends to cut off all who labor under disabilities it will have to go the "whole hog" and elect a man who can take the "test oath." In other words, no man is eligible, as I am informed, to a seat in Congress unless he can swallow the "test oath." Let us see, suppose Gen'l Sherman and Ransom be each elected to the United States Senate; the oath having been prescribed for all members, the former would, of course, have to take it, notwithstanding he served in the Federal army during the late war. Now, is it reasonable to suppose, that Congress intended to put Gen. Ransom on a better footing than Gen. Sherman, when it pardoned the former for the crime of which the latter was never guilty? I think not; and I learn from a Republican who served in the last Congress that the removal of the disabilities imposed by the 14th amendment did not necessarily excuse one from the odious "test oath." Besides, as is generally known, the Chairman of the National Executive Committee of the Democratic party, Mr. Randall, recently telegraphed Judge Stevens of the Democratic Executive Committee of Georgia, advising him to nominate no one for office who could not take the test oath; for the reason, as was stated, that Congress will not admit any one simply because he does not labor under the disabilities imposed by the 14th amendment.

If the foregoing views are correct, it might be well to elect a man who can take the oath, provided, a good and capable man of that class can be found. But as it would be next to impossible to find such a man, would it not be the part of wisdom to let all our political war horses on the track and give them an even start? I submit these cursory remarks in the hope that the points I make may receive elucidation from the pen of a more competent writer than

SCRIBO.

Our correspondent is mistaken in supposing that any one has advocated in these columns the election to the U. S. Senate of any one who can take the "test oath."—Discussion has been confined to the simple proposition, whether the General Assembly, in making the selection, shall have regard to the disabilities of the party or not. The practice of the Congress has been, if we are not mistaken, not to require of those whose disabilities have been removed to take the "test oath," but a modified oath.—EDITOR.

The Wadesboro' Argus assures its readers that the disabilities of Col. A. M. Waddel, member elect to Congress from the 3rd district will certainly be removed.

"WE STOOD BESIDE THE RIVER."

We stood beside the river,
Whence all our souls must go,
Bearing a loved one in our arms,
Our hearts repeating the alarms
That came across the river;
And saw the sun decline in mist,
That rose until her brow it kissed,
And left it cold as snow.

Watching beside the river,
With every ebb and flow
Fond hopes within our hearts would spring,
Until another warning ring
Came o'er the fearful river,
We saw the flush, the brightness fade,
The loving lips how grieved and sad,
The white hands whiter grow.

Watching by the river,
With anguish none can tell,
And trembling hearts and hands, we strove
To save the darling of our love
From going down the river!
Oh, powerless but to weep and pray,
And grieve for one who, far away,
Had said his last farewell!

Weeping by the river,
There came a blessed time,
A solemn calm spread all around,
Making it seem like holy ground,
Beside the silent river;
The world receding from our eyes,
Caught gleams of that dear land which lies
In Canaan's happy clime!

And there, beside the river,
Came lessons strange and sweet,
The perfect work of patience done,
The warfare finished victory won
At the dark river's brink,
The peace at Jesus' feet!

Waiting by the river,
Through mingled night and day,
Sweet memories round our hearts we bring,
Of Jesus' love and Heaven we sing,
To soothe her by the river;
And wept for one whose heart would break,
Be pitiful to Jesus' sake,
Father in heaven, we pray!

Standing by the river,
We closed the weary eyes,
In Jesus' arm we laid her down,
A lovely jewel for His crown,
He bore her through the river,
And clothed her in a robe so white,
Too beautiful for mortal sight,
And took her to the skies!

The crops of Cotton, peas and potatoes are said to be very short in Greene County.

Cotton stealing is in vogue in Goldsboro and the vicinity.

DIED,

At his residence, in Franklin county, on the 17th of September, BENJAMIN JOEL KING, in the [illegible] year of his age.

He was a native of Virginia, but had resided in Franklin county for many years. He was a man of unblemished character, and in all the relations of life, as a husband, father, neighbor, and friend, he was greatly esteemed and much beloved. He was, for a number of years a Magistrate, and by the faithful and intelligent discharge of the duties of that office, he so secured the confidence of the community as to enable him to exercise a wholesome moral influence over it which makes his death a serious loss. How much he was regarded by his neighbors, is evident by the fact, that though the Conservative party, to which he belonged, was defeated in the county of Franklin, yet he was elected on their ticket, one of the Commissioners for the county, having received, without any solicitation on his part, not only the entire Conservative vote of the county, but many Republicans. We have lost a kind neighbor. A good man has gone from among us, as the one sentiment of his neighbors, and as no one was more useful, none was more beloved. He leaves a wife and four children to experience the loss of an affectionate husband and kind father. May Heaven bless them.
