

The Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

RABIGI, N. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1872.

VOL. 7.—NO. 78.

THE HONORABLE THE CIRCUIT JUDGE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA, JAMES BRADY AND JOHN PERKINS.

Your petition checked the matter of the presentation by depositing a writ with Commissioner Shaffer as bail for the appearance of Underwood and Underwood were released from jail, and on the 17th day, with your petition, demanding trial. Date and challenge are only words and not to be used before this honorable court, per your petition, causing a writ to be issued, and a date set, and that the court, Philip and Underwood, who are bound by a solemn oath, that they be made to try.

From the papers of the COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

My Father, The fact is, that the court, in the case of the State of North Carolina vs. James Brady and John Perkins, has rendered a verdict of guilty, and has sentenced them to the State Prison for the term of ten years, and has ordered that they be confined in the State Prison, and that they be kept there until the expiration of the term of their imprisonment.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

THE HONORABLE THE CIRCUIT JUDGE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA, JAMES BRADY AND JOHN PERKINS.

Your petition checked the matter of the presentation by depositing a writ with Commissioner Shaffer as bail for the appearance of Underwood and Underwood were released from jail, and on the 17th day, with your petition, demanding trial. Date and challenge are only words and not to be used before this honorable court, per your petition, causing a writ to be issued, and a date set, and that the court, Philip and Underwood, who are bound by a solemn oath, that they be made to try.

From the papers of the COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

My Father, The fact is, that the court, in the case of the State of North Carolina vs. James Brady and John Perkins, has rendered a verdict of guilty, and has sentenced them to the State Prison for the term of ten years, and has ordered that they be confined in the State Prison, and that they be kept there until the expiration of the term of their imprisonment.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

THE HONORABLE THE CIRCUIT JUDGE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA, JAMES BRADY AND JOHN PERKINS.

Your petition checked the matter of the presentation by depositing a writ with Commissioner Shaffer as bail for the appearance of Underwood and Underwood were released from jail, and on the 17th day, with your petition, demanding trial. Date and challenge are only words and not to be used before this honorable court, per your petition, causing a writ to be issued, and a date set, and that the court, Philip and Underwood, who are bound by a solemn oath, that they be made to try.

From the papers of the COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

My Father, The fact is, that the court, in the case of the State of North Carolina vs. James Brady and John Perkins, has rendered a verdict of guilty, and has sentenced them to the State Prison for the term of ten years, and has ordered that they be confined in the State Prison, and that they be kept there until the expiration of the term of their imprisonment.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

DR. BARNARD'S POSITION.

The great object of medicine is to relieve suffering, and to restore the system to its normal state. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health. It is not the object of medicine to kill, or to maim, or to cause any other permanent injury to the human system. It is the object of medicine to cure, and to restore the patient to his normal state of health.

MR. CONGLAND'S SERMON.

We surrender most of our editorial space today to the publication of the eloquent speech from Edward Congland, Esq., one of the truest patriots and most gifted men in Eastern North Carolina.

MR. CONGLAND'S SERMON.

We surrender most of our editorial space today to the publication of the eloquent speech from Edward Congland, Esq., one of the truest patriots and most gifted men in Eastern North Carolina.

MR. CONGLAND'S SERMON.

We surrender most of our editorial space today to the publication of the eloquent speech from Edward Congland, Esq., one of the truest patriots and most gifted men in Eastern North Carolina.

MR. CONGLAND'S SERMON.

We surrender most of our editorial space today to the publication of the eloquent speech from Edward Congland, Esq., one of the truest patriots and most gifted men in Eastern North Carolina.