THE SENTINEL.

The crimes of the radicals are more strous indeed, but the means they adopted accomplish their devilish purposes are quite as much so.

The Constitution of the State framed by them, contains the basis of the huge compiracy by which they have plundered. robbed and impoverished the people They well knew the impoverished condition of the people at the time they came into power, that the State Treasury was trumpped up charge of being kuklus; empty, and the only thing they could use to thereby deterring them from the free, unthe State. They knew too, that if they andertook to increase the public debt while the people were poor and unable to pay the interest on the " old debt," that the bonds of the State would not sell unless extraordinary means were employed to disswinte the crudit of the State. Let | dated that they will not vole us see how they did this.

In the bill of rights, it is provided that the public debt, regularly contracted before and since the rebellion, shall be regarde las inviolable and never be ques-

This provision alone would not be regarded as very extraordinary, if it did not put in the words " since the rebellion !"

But this provision was not sufficient to forrethe bonds of the State to be issued on and extraordinary provision was inserted in the Constitution It is this "The General Assembly shall by appropriate legislation and by adequate taxation, provide for the prompt and regular payment of the interest on the public debt, and after the year 1880 it shall lay a specific an cual tax upon real and personal property of the State, and the sum thus realized shall be set apart as a sinking fund to be devoted to the payment of the public

But this extraordinary provision was not regarded as sufficient, and hence, another provision still stronger was insert ed, to the effect that all acts of the legislature making appropriations to complete unfinished railroads, should contain a provision levying a special tax to pay the interest on the lowls issued for such purpose, and hence, see have the bonds called " special with these strange provisions in it, al- Ireland was ever so persecuted and afflict though the people were poor and impoverished, and could not pay the interest on ever Grant and all who support his wild the ante-war debt and have not done so, the radicals undertook to increase the public debt estensibly for railroad pur poses, to the enormons sum of $26,000,-The bonds of the State were thrown upon the market of the worbimillions of dollars of them at a time, and then these strange and extraordinary provisions of the constitution came into served the purpose of the conspirators. They said to capitalist in New Ku Klux. Of these only six were tried York, " See these provisions in the constitution of the 'Old Tar-heel State.' they don't intend to repudiate-they can't if they would-see what guarantees of good faith they have put in their new

There provisions were put into the constitution by precencert, upon agreement, in sursuance of a deliberate conspiracy to rub and plunder the people of the State. They were put in for the purpose of "bulling the bonds" at the proper time. This must be clear to any reasoning mind, And thus the radical constitution con tains the ground work of a huge conspiracy to swindle the people on a scale that staggers human belief.

The Bonds were sold and several millions of dollars realized for them. Where Corwin than any man I have met in ers were considered. He decided not to is the money! The sworn testimony of twenty years," We read last year all of witnesses shows that ten per centum of the to get the bills making the appropriations through the Legislature, and the same testimony shows, that over $241,000 were day-" there is no rubbing that out." spent to secure the passage of one bill. Of all the money realized, a mere pittance went into the railroads.

Tops wicked work was done by the radical party while they had complete control of every department of the State government. They now pretend to say that some democrats helped them thus to plun der and rula the people. They have never been able to prove the truth of this suggestion, but suppose it were true, does this in any wise excuse them? It only proves that they were willing to combine with thieves and robbers to perpetrate unheard of crimes upon a helpless people.

A SIGNIFFICANT FACT. Has it occurred to the reader that the three Southern States that have been sub-是有数据是195 m Total to be to be those States in which the opposition to Grapt has been in the minority ! Will any one tell how it is that the three States, in which Grant's followers have enjoyed the largest liberty and done the tallest stealing, should have State gov ernments that were so incapable of protecting their party, when no actual resistance to constituted authority is uprecord, and no failure of the courts to ex ercise due authority can be pointed out. except in the case of the "exhausted Judiciary," and that was in the interest purely of Grant ! Now I do believe that the true reaswhy Secretary Delano has thus refused to meet me before the people is because he is aware that I am in possession of facts which he knew I would have publicly stated before his political friends, and challenged denial. I should have desired to know by what honest process said Saretary Delano, Simon Cameron and others of Grant's partizans became the lessens of the Georgia State R. We should also have inquired relative to his personal interest in Light House Light, House at Southwest Pass, near the mouth of the Mississippi river. Drawings and specifications were made by the Light House Board, and advertisements inserted in many of the public journals inviting proposals from competent bidders, stipulating the condition of award forfeiture, &c., &c. > AN INTERESTING CORRESPON-DENCE

Sr. Louis, July 22, 1872. St. Louis, July 22, 1812.
The lonowing correspondence was read by Senator Schurz in his speech to-night.
St. Louis, June 26, 1872.
Dear Sir:—In your letter of asceptance.

you promise a thorough reform of the civil service, in general terms. The question, how the problem of civil service re-form presents itself to your mind is one of great interest and I would suggest, it is e consistent with your views of propriety, that you give me such explanations as

Yours truly, C. SCHURZ.

The following is Mr. Greetcy's reply "My Dear Sir: Yours of the 20th uit, only reached me three days ago. I respond a promptly. The problem civil service reform is rendered difficult by an alliance between the executive and legislative branches of our Federal franchise government. Those members of Those members of Congress who favor the administration habitually claim, and are accorded a virtual monopoly of the Federal officers in their respective States or districts, dictated and suddenly alarmed and no appointments and removals as interlegislate in subservience to his will, often opposition to their own convictions. Unless all history is unmeaning, this confusion of executive and legislative respon-sibilities and functions could not full to distemper and corrupt the body politic. I hold the eligibility of our President to re-election the main source of this cor-reption. A President should be above the hope of future favor or the far of alienating powerful and ambitious partisans. He should be the official chief, not of a party, but of idings from Moore county, and says, that the Republic. He should dread nothing but the secusing voice of history and the inexorible judgement of God. He should fully realize and never forget that congress in its own sphere is are have declared for Greeley. And so and in no wise amenable to his supervision, and that the heartiest good will to his Administration is perfectly compatible with the most pointed descent from his of finance or political economy. It is the first step that costs. Let it be settled that a President is n t to be re-elected no longer difficult. He will need no organ, no subsidized defenders. He will maturally select his chief counsellors from among the ablest and wis at of his emi-nent fellow-citisens, regardless alike of the shricks of locality and the suggestions of a seitheh policy. He will have no interest to conciliate, no chief of a powerful clan attach to his personal fortunes.
