Senior Castelar has found time to write a "Life of Lord Byron" which he has just published in Madrid, and which is said to be one of the most original monuments of later Spanish literature.

Col. J. W. Purdy's "Anecdotes of Public Men" which has been running in series in a Washington Sunday School paper for a long time, is in preparation by Harper & Brothers.

Mr. M. D. Conway's new book on "Republican Superstitions," is an attack on the double legislative body represented in Congress, and on the office of President, which he would abolish, and substitute a Executive Committee.

The charming journal and correspondence of one of our friends, which has been running in series in a Washington Sunday School paper for a long time, is in preparation by Harper & Brothers.

It is stated that Mr. Mill has left a full autograph, with directions that it shall be published without delay. He has also left treatises on "Nature," "Theism," and "The Utility of Religion," the first of which was to have been published in the present year.

Many of the chief German papers contain extensive obituaries on Mr. John Stuart Mill. One of the fullest and most highly eulogistic memoirs is from the pen of Mr. Karl Blind.

Without doubt, the most wonderful invention of modern times is the way of gunpowder, the recent invention of Mr. J. P. Taylor, of Elizabethton, Tenn., of a new American Revolving Mortar.

The gun performed much better than the most sanguine expected, firing with wonderful rapidity at the rate of 1,400 balls per minute.

It was patented in this country, July 4, 1871; England, June 27, 1872; France, July 13, 1871; and Belgium, July 31, 1871.

This is the first and only gun of the kind ever made, and so far as the experiments have gone, it now far surpasses the celebrated Gatling gun or the French mitrailleuse.

Gen. Widder will take this gun to Vienna, where it will be exhibited during the Exposition. - N. Y. South.

LIQUOR ABANDONED. - We are glad to learn that plans are on foot in this city to build up some of the waste places of our town, and close up some of the gaps which have been so long an eye sore, and which spoke so loudly of the depression of the place.

GEOLOGICAL DISCOVERIES. - In digging a well the other day, in town, Col. Lemor discovered at the bottom - a depth of forty feet - a stratum of black mud thickly embedded with pine, oak and poplar wood, bark, leaves, and other vegetable remains.

THE LONDON TELEGRAPH says the Queen will find no difficulty in receiving the news - considers what will be done with his three wives.

An almost incredible paragraph is circulating to the effect that Sergeant Bates is actually - after all he has done for his ungrateful country - reduced to the humiliating necessity of working for a living just like an ordinary private citizen.

Mr. Ed. Stanton, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, died on Thursday morning of inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Stanton was a former partner of Daniel Drew; was a leading speculator in the bond and transacted a very large business.

LITERARY GOSSIP.

Garibaldi's history of his "Campaign in Italy During 1849" is to be published simultaneously in England and the United States.

It is understood that ex-President Woolsey, of Yale, is to write a reply to Mr. Caleb Cushing's "Treaty of Washington."

Mr. M. D. Conway's new book on "Republican Superstitions," is an attack on the double legislative body represented in Congress, and on the office of President, which he would abolish, and substitute a Executive Committee.

MR. RO'S, an English barrister, illustrates the old saw that "the lawyer who manages his own case has a fool for a client." Before he died he wrote his will, covering a score of long-drawn foolscap sheets. In searching his papers two pages numbered "four" were found, seeming to be parts of his ultimate testament, and now the Probate Court is puzzled to decide which are the legacies named in the questionable pages. Justly enough, it has ruled that the estate pay the costs of the contest.

MARRIED. At St. John's Church, Cincinnati, O., on Thursday, the 7th of May, by the Rev. Dr. Davidson, Mr. Jarvis B. Borton, of Asheville, N. C., and Miss Eva H. Peabody, of Cincinnati.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Parties having Job Work, Whitewashing, &c., for masons, can get their work done by good mechanics, by leaving their orders at the Intelligence Office.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. MONEY LOST. A small sum of money was lost on the streets of this city on Monday last. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at this office, where description will be given. The money was lost by one who can ill afford to spare it.

BINGHAM SCHOOL. M. J. ROBERT BINGHAM, Superintendent. MAJ. W. B. LYNCH, Capt. T. L. NORWOOD. Fall Session opens 23rd July. For circular, address MAJOR ROBERT BINGHAM, June 12, 1873.

EDITORIAL ENTRIES.

The total number of acts passed by the British Parliament since 1236, exclusive of anti-union acts of Scotland and Ireland, is 18,110.

The Granges in Illinois elected nearly all their Circuit Court Judges. This shows that this new movement has great strength in that State as it has in the entire Northwest.

The cause of the overthrow of the Thiers administration was their fidelity to the principles of Republicanism. Theirs relied upon the ballot-box and not the cartridge-box. His opponents preferred the latter. It was Thiers and the ballot against McMahon and the bullet.

Gov. Wise is very anxious to be Governor once more in his old age. It is supposed that all parties will be willing to run against either candidate. He says: "If I thought I could succeed in opposition to both of the present organizations of the State, I would declare myself a candidate for the office of Governor immediately, but I am without a party and without a press to contend with the two already banded to make nominations. I will not incur the odium by running of either of the present parties."

The canon which forbids any church member from attending a horse race or theatrical entertainment was repealed by a majority of both clerical and lay delegates at the recent meeting of the Protestant Episcopal Convention of the Maryland Diocese. Bishop Whittingham has protested earnestly against the action of the body. He says: "The current of the times and the movement in the population of the country are such as imperatively require of a faithful branch of the Church of Christ increased stringency, and not timid relaxation in the enforcement and enforcement of the rules of holy living, self-denial, and non-conformity to the world."

He further says that he will not be bound by the action of the Convention, and so far as his official conduct is concerned shall be of no force or validity.

NEW TRIAL. When the famous University case was before the Supreme Court, Judge Pearson read his opinion to a gentleman, and that opinion, when telegraphed to New York, did not suit Wall Street and the ring. Forthwith a member of the bar started from that city to this city to have the case re-heard. It is re-heard and a different opinion from the one read by Judge Pearson is strived at by the Court.

In the case of Carrow, it will be next impossible to get a hearing, though the case was tried in the absence of the prosecutor and witnesses.

It were better for justice and the people that trials should be had as Holden proposed, by courts martial, with Kirk, Billy Henderson and Willie D. Jones to comprise the court, than to have trials conducted as Mr. Phillips conducted the case of Carrow and Underwood. In the way of judicial trial, nothing has ever surpassed it in North Carolina.

A motion is made in the Federal Court to transfer the case to the State Court. By some omission or neglect, the motion was not entered on the docket. The witnesses are dismissed from court by a deputy of Carrow's, and not allowed pay for their attendance.

At the next term of the Federal Court one of the defendants in the indictment summons 'he jury, telling one or more of them that he had a little case in which he (the deputy) was interested, and he wanted him on the jury.

We say, when a man can be arrested as was Nathan Underwood, and shut up in jail upon the oath of a perjured detective like Hester, and when he appeals to the courts of the country, to have his case tried as Phillips manipulated it between the Federal and the State courts, it is worse than having no court at all.

The conduct of Mr. Phillips in this two years persecution and imprisonment of Maddox has been worse than that of Hester and Carrow. Underwood, by the trick and art of an attorney, has been denied a hearing in Court. We intend he shall have a full hearing before the people.

OVER THE WATER BY BALLOON. - Prof. John Wise, of Boston, advertises that he will sail for Europe in a balloon about the 4th day of July. He will rise from Boston Common and land in England or France, he is not sure which. We speak for passage for Ben Butler in that ship.

TIPS FROM THE COFFIN. - Brownlock, with one foot in the grave, is still rampant, and will be seen by the following from the New York World. Old person Brownlock still has vitality enough to deal damnation round the lamp. This time it is Alie Southern Lieutenant-General, D. H. Hill, at whom he happens to be spitting his curses. Most of his enemies, the person says, have died of cholera tremors or in some other unnatural way, which makes one shudder for the new avial fate of the profane wretch himself. Person Brownlock was a leading member of the party of great moral ideas. This old sinner is taking advantage of the fact that he is old. We thought the latter's article on old B. had silenced his mouth forever.
