Local Dots.

The days are now slowly growing shorter. The gardens and crops generally are suffering for rain. The exercises promise to be of the most interesting character. Peaches, pears, and apples are becoming plentiful in the Wilmington market. See advertisement of Graham High School, in another column. One hundred jurors have been summoned for the rape trial to-morrow. This is the weather to hold down items but they are so scarce to-day, they stand in no need of such a process. Blake the negro raper will be put upon trial in Judge Watts court, for his belated crime to-morrow. Rev. A. W. Mangum preached the funeral of the late Mrs. Lynn Adams in the country on yesterday. The conservative county convention was the largest and most intelligent body assembled from the county since the war. The clothing store of R. B. Andrews is to be extended 20 feet back, and the excavation for the foundation is now being opened. R. P. Braden has chosen chewing tobacco, the Peyton Gravely and W. D. Stultz, A. A. A. Lovers of the weed should give him a call.

been spending a few days at Kittrell Springs. Capt. Fuller is in charge of the Yarbrough during his absence. Members of the Grand Lodge and visiting masons to Raleigh on July fourth the occasion of laying the corner stone of the new Federal court building, will be passed for one full day, to and fro by the various Railroads.

The rope with which John Allen Ketekey was hung Friday at Salisbury was obtained by a gentleman from this city, who was present at the execution and has been presented to A. W. Fraps, who has it on exhibition at his saloon. Bennett in his facetious brevities in the Richmond Enquirer says, at 9 o'clock at night, when you see the big dipper with the handle to war is you and the tail of the comet in the bowl, it is about time to take a drink.

An old colored lady being asked if she had ever had her ears pierced by the wails of distress, said she couldn't just exactly remember, but she believed it was done with a shoemaker's awl. That was a rough joke to unlids Colonel Dave Lewis' hat and umbrellas when he was making his champion speech of thanks for the nomination of Treasurer, Saturday. The Confederate joker, we learn, was the perpetrator.

Miscellaneous.

Boston Globe. Interesting question to students: What girls are coming to your school? Interesting question to girls: How many yards are you going to have in your graduation dress?

Kington Freeman. Now that these Session Justices overruled Judge Daniels in sentencing Brooklyn's Charity Commission, nobody cares to have Session Justices in their any more.

The famous Bodleian library at Oxford is not in a fire-proof building, and the danger from fire to which it is exposed has recently been the subject of several articles in the English papers.

A couple of neighbors became so inimical that they would not speak to each other, but one of them having been converted at a camp-meeting, on seeing his former enemy, held out his hand, saying, "How d'ye do, Kemp? I am humble enough to shake hands with a d-g."

The custom-house authorities in San Francisco have discovered a new peculiarity among the artless Chinamen. Each Celestial on landing has been in the habit of wearing a number of silk blouses, one over the other, thereby defrauding the revenue.

The public analyst of Sheffield, under the food adulteration act, lately testified before a committee of the House of Commons. In describing the adulteration of tea, he said (amidst much laughter) that he had found Chinese tea-nuts in tea, but he did not consider or rate that to be an adulteration.

The Piedmont Press says:—Died in Morganton, June 15th, 1874, Mr. James Anderson, in his seventy-ninth year, Mr. Anderson was the father of the Rev. Robert B. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Morganton. He was born in Scotland and learned the printer's trade in Glasgow. He immigrated to America when he was eighteen years old—lived for a number of years in Philadelphia and then moved to Granville county in this State, where he started a printing or book binding establishment. Mr. Evans, of the Milton Chronicle, learned the printer's art under Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson was a devout Christian. His funeral service was preached in Morganton, Wednesday, 17th inst., by Rev. Wood of Statesville. His remains have been taken to Granville county for interment.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Milton Robinson and orderly 12 hours in the lock up. Calvin Goodwin drunk on Winter's Row looked up. Harnett Stroud arrested on suspicion of stealing a watch, was discharged. Jennie Sumpter and Mary Thomas for loud talking, on the street, went below in default of fine for 48 hours. SUPERIOR COURT.—The court met at the usual hour, all the Justices present. The following cases were argued. P. P. Bedwell and vs R. W. King, from Allegheny. No counsel for plaintiff, Hargrove & Farcher for defendants. Nancy A. Johnson et al vs John M. Johnson from Wilkes. Caldwell for plaintiff, Hargrove & Farcher for defendant. A. C. Cowles admr., vs P. Hayes et al from Iredell. Armfield for plaintiff, McCorkle & Bailey for defendant. R. B. Bryan vs A. I. Rossman from Wilkes. Farcher for plaintiff, Armfield for defendant. THE CORONERSHIP.—During the session of the Conservative County Convention in this city Saturday, towards the last of the proceedings when everybody, after five hours sitting, was pretty well heated and worried out, the life of the body was rejuvenated to a great extent, by the nomination of Woodson; of the "News," for Coroner, by a friend. Great merriment was created, and in a few seconds "Wood" was rising to explain, uttering various protestations he only lacked two votes of getting the nomination. Woodson for Coroner would have given the ticket much eclat. With Dave Lewis, the laughster, for Treasurer, and "Wood," for Coroner, the county would undoubtedly be safe.

WOOD AND COAL INSPECTOR.—The Legislature having passed an act authorizing and empowering the Commissioners of Raleigh to appoint an inspector of wood and coal, Mr. James J. Lewis has been elected by the Board of City Commissioners Inspector and he will enter upon his duties July first. The Commissioners at the same time passed an ordinance defining the duties and fixing the tariff fees of that officer. He is required to inspect and measure all wood and weigh all coal that may be sold within the city limits, except such as is exempted by the act creating said office. The office hours of said inspector will be from sunrise to sunset each day, except Sunday. The ordinance giving full particulars is being distributed to-day throughout the city.

FOR THE SENTINEL. Mr. Editor:—Our county candidates are all right, and with a good canvass we will carry the county by several hundred. The colored party have distinctly drawn the lines. The last act on the board was the turning out of old man Holt at the City Cemetery at the last meeting of the City Commissioners and filling the place with a negro. Mr. H. it has given entire satisfaction for many years, and why they should out the old man, none but the Commissioners can tell. We are of opinion that the lines of color were drawn and will rights prevailed. We humbly ask why Osborne Holt was deposed as sexton of the city cemetery? A LOT OWNER. MORE KICKS.—Tom Easterly, came to Hominy section this county during the war, retreating from the Kirk radical outburst of East Tennessee. He was a blacksmith by trade, and worked at his business in Hominy for some time, then moved to Leicester where he remained until about one year ago when he returned to his old home in Tennessee. A few nights ago some men, supposed to have been his old enemies under the Kirk oppression, went to his home, took him out and hung him. Easterly was said to have borne a very good character as a citizen and peaceable. John C. Williams.

The last act on the board was the turning out of old man Holt at the City Cemetery at the last meeting of the City Commissioners and filling the place with a negro. Mr. H. it has given entire satisfaction for many years, and why they should out the old man, none but the Commissioners can tell. We are of opinion that the lines of color were drawn and will rights prevailed. We humbly ask why Osborne Holt was deposed as sexton of the city cemetery? A LOT OWNER. MORE KICKS.—Tom Easterly, came to Hominy section this county during the war, retreating from the Kirk radical outburst of East Tennessee. He was a blacksmith by trade, and worked at his business in Hominy for some time, then moved to Leicester where he remained until about one year ago when he returned to his old home in Tennessee. A few nights ago some men, supposed to have been his old enemies under the Kirk oppression, went to his home, took him out and hung him. Easterly was said to have borne a very good character as a citizen and peaceable. John C. Williams.

WOOD AND COAL INSPECTOR.—The Legislature having passed an act authorizing and empowering the Commissioners of Raleigh to appoint an inspector of wood and coal, Mr. James J. Lewis has been elected by the Board of City Commissioners Inspector and he will enter upon his duties July first. The Commissioners at the same time passed an ordinance defining the duties and fixing the tariff fees of that officer. He is required to inspect and measure all wood and weigh all coal that may be sold within the city limits, except such as is exempted by the act creating said office. The office hours of said inspector will be from sunrise to sunset each day, except Sunday. The ordinance giving full particulars is being distributed to-day throughout the city.

FOR THE SENTINEL. Mr. Editor:—Our county candidates are all right, and with a good canvass we will carry the county by several hundred. The colored party have distinctly drawn the lines.
