NEWS BY THE PAPERS.

From Tennessee.—Governor Brownlow's Message.

NASHVILLE October 2.—Governor Brownlow's annual message to the Tennessee Legislature, which met today congratulates the people in witnessing the termination of the rebellion. Amendments and additions to the franchises laws are recommended. The restoration of civil law, he says, has worked well and prosperity is promised in every section. Guilty rebels should be tried with severity in proportion to their offenses, the mass with neither mercy or forbearance. Emigration should be fostered and encouraged. He is convinced that white and colored people cannot live together, politically or socially, as equals, and he advocates their removal to some portion of the national territory best adapted for a nation of freemen. The resumption of negroes he recommends to be taken in the courts. President Johnson's reconstruction policy is strongly endorsed as the sole hope of the country.

General Grant on the Mexican Question & Doubtful Statement.

A Philadelphia dispatch asserts that General Grant in a recent conversation, declared that the Government of the United States will vindicate the Monroe doctrine at an early day, and that Maximilian must leave Mexico. It is further stated that General Grant said that the Administration at Washington held the above as a settled purview, and only await the meeting of Congress to take open action in the matter. A very doubtful story.

Grant Again Advocates Secession.—A despatch to the Chicago Times gives an account of the lecture of Horace Greeley at St. Paul, Minnesota, on the 20th ultimo. He spoke before the Library Association of that city, and his topic was "The East and West." He deprecated any hostility between those sections; advocated a protective tariff; said the very differences between the East and West were to their mutual advantage; charged the whole world and credited New England with organizing public schools; alluded to his famous position that the Union could never be plucked together with bayonets; said he had nothing to retract—it was as true now as when he said it. Whenever any portion of this Union were deliberately convinced that the Union was oppressive or contrary to their highest interest, that moment the Union was at an end. He said if the Pacific States should at any time deliberately make up their mind to quit the Union, and would apply peaceably and politely for the privilege, he would be in favor of letting them go, and that he was opposed to coercion. These sentiments, it is said, were freely applauded.

The Minnesotans press signified this as South Carolina doctrine; and the dispatch says truthfully that if a Democrat had made such a speech he would have hazard his personal safety.

Between the doctrine of Summer, that the Southern States have gone out of the Union and are extinct, and the theory of Greeley, that the Western States may go out whenever they deliberately resolve to do so, what becomes of the Union!—Abingdon Argus.

The President has ordered the release of Gov. Charles Clark, of Mississippi, who has been imprisoned for some months past at Fort Pulaski, near Savannah.

Lieutenant and Professor Maury is in Washington, seeking pardon.

The Grand Masonic Lodge of Tennessee met at Nashville, for the first time in four years, on Monday last. Large delegations were in attendance from all parts of the State.

Speech of Gen. McCook at Home.

A telegram was given to General Sloane, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, of New York, at Syracuse, on the 28th ult., upon his return from Mississippi, which was numerously attended. W. C. Roger, Esq., was deputed by the citizens to welcome the General, who in response replied as follows:

"My dear Mr. Sloane:—For the first time since the commencement of the war I have returned to my home with the expectation of remaining here permanently. All the armed forces of our Government have been subdued, and peace, with all its gentle influences, has again descended upon our land. Its effects are felt in every city and in every field. We have abundant reason to hope that civil law will soon prevail throughout the entire country, and that the question as to the treatment of the States recently in rebellion will, under the wise policy adopted by the President, be settled in a manner best calculated to promote the true interests of all classes of citizens in those States."

DEATH OF PRESIDENT WAYLAND.—Rev. Dr. Wayland, for twenty-five years President of Brown (Baptist) University, in Providence, Rhode Island, died on the 30th, of paralysis, aged 68 years. Few of our college presidents have won and retained a more enviable fame than Dr. Wayland, or have left their labors with a better record for the further instruction of their pupils. The deceased will be better remembered as an author than as a teacher. He published "Elements of Moral Science," "Elements of Political Economy," "University Sermons," "Limitations of Human Responsibility," "Lectures on Rev. Adam Smith," "D. D.'s Intellectual Philosophy," "Notes on the Principles and Practices of Baptists," "Occasional Discourses," "Sermons to the Clergy," and a correspondence carried on with Rev. Dr. Fuller (of Baltimore,) in 1843 styled "Unscrupulous and Slavery."

PDX OFFICE MISSION.—Mr. B. B. Vassall, special agent post office department, in charge of the post office in this city some time since, and who has just been relieved by Mr. Poisson, the regularly appointed officer, leaves this afternoon for Newbern, where he will remain for a few days before proceeding on a mission through the States of North and South Carolina, regulating the mail service and attending to other matters connected with the postal service. The efficiency displayed by this gentleman while here guarantees the mission a satisfactory result.—Wilmington Journal.
