Pioneer Line of Steamers

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave New-berne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each --ak at S veloce A M, connecting with the different times of taxmers for the above named points. On and after he first day, of December next they will have on the first day of December next they will inseed or Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE BOOMS and BERTH's capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfert of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without sharge.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to sheri interest to take this line, as they will thoreby ascape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weakly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N. C.

RALEIGH, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1865.

NO. 101.

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION. JNO. BONG.

For the Times, and all Times, to be Considered.

The first stone in the structure of life insurance was laid by the hand of the Almighty when he planted in the human heart the generous impulses of love and affection, which prompt us to provide for our own; but the keystone is this law of aver-age to secure which we hind ourselves together, to bear each other's burdens, the stronger and richer, as the longer lives must be, helping the weaker and poorer brother that is cut down in early life, and by the universal law of compensation it gives us either the blessings of a long life, or the pleasing sesurance of leaving a competency to our loved ones, as the films of death are curtaining them from our night forever. Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefit of life insurance. Business is interrupted. Men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose property depends upon the continuance of the fath-or's life. Should be die, the income would cease: the children must be withdrawn from school; the mether and elder children must resort to every expedient to sustain the family; and, in many cases, with the utmost exertion, this can not be done; the wife will return to her father for support, and the children, separated, must go, the older to seek work, and the younger be distributed among friends. Such reverses befall men the least expecting them. While business is active, and prosperity gives ex-hiliration and hope, men can hardly be made to feel that they are within a hand's breadth of utter reverse, gud that their families may be scattered in a month, by the death of the father. But hard times lead men to think of these things.

Now if a man has insured a sum of one, five or ten thousand dollars upon his life, this anxiety is While he lives, he can support his family. If he dies, ample provision is made for them:

It is every man's daily to provide for his family. That provision must include its future contingent condition. That provision, so far as it is material. men ordinarily seek to secure by their own accumulations and investments. But all these are uncertain. The man rich to-day, is, from causes beyond his reach, poor to-morrow. A war in China, a revolution in Europe, a rebellion in America, overrule ten thomand fortunes in every commercial community. But, in life insurance there are no risks or contingencies. Other investments may fall. A house may burn down. Banks may break. Bonds Bonds and mortgages may be seized for debt, and all pro-perty may fall into the bottomies gulf of bank-ruptcy. But money secured to your family by life insurance, will go to them without fail or intercuption, provided you have selected a sound and honorable insurance company. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family destitute, and the other of which assures them a comfortable support at your decease, can there be a doubt which is to be

The benefits of life insurance are not confined to provision for families, but are as numerous as the s provided to the second series of individuals. It enables a person to make a provision for a wife, a parent, a child, a friend or domestic, depending on him, and he lives secure, that while his industry is providing for their support, his savings are effectually guardent the second want in the event of his death ing them against want in the event of his death, thus doing his whole duty toward them instead of only one half of it. It enables a person to raise money on loans where real security can not be offered, to provide for the prompt payment of his debta in the case of his death, and to secure the eventual payment of doubtful dobts By it a charitable individual may donate a legacy to some beneficent institution; or a congregation a support to their minister's family in case of his

It provides means to reimburse the sum expen-ded in the purchase of any life estate, on the death Our Stock of Shoes, for Gents, Ladies of the person during whose life it is held; to remove incumbrances, payable on events connected with the late styles.

It is a subject, then, which concerns the poor as well as the rich, the man living on his income, the well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanis the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short all classes of the community. Surely, such an institution deserves the connectenance, the consideration and support of all reflecting men, and is doubly recommended, when it is considered bow very small a sacrifice of some personal gratification, will secure, by its means, the independence and happiness of a family.
