NEWS BY THE MAILS.

Washington News and Gossip.

WASHINGTON, December 19, 1865.—There is much comment and speculation on the brief and spicy debate in the Senate to-day on the reception of the special message of the President, accompanied by reports from Lieutenant-General Grant and ex-Major General Carl Schurz, on the condition of affairs in the South. In regard to Senator Sumner's remarks (upon calling for the reading of General Schurz's report) that "the message was like the white washing done by Franklin Pierce with regard to the atrocities in Kansas," Senator Johnson expressed his astonishment at such words from the Senator from Massachusetts. He declared that there was no white-washing about it for it was a fair and clear statement of the facts called for by the Senate. In reply, Mr. Doolittle hoped that the Senator from Massachusetts would withdraw or qualify his remarks about the President's message being a white-washing document. Mr. Sumner said "I have nothing to modify, nothing to qualify, nothing to retract."

In former days there was but one Kansas to suffer under illegal power, now there are eleven Kansases suffering as only one suffered. Therefore, sir, as eleven are more than one, so is the enormity of the present time more than the enormity of the days of Franklin Pierce.

Mr. Dixon thought the sufferings of Kansas or the Southern States, had nothing to do with the grave charge made by Senator Sumner against the President. He (Mr. D) supported the President's policy, not because it was the President's, but because it was right. Senator Sumner, however, explained that he did not mean to question the truth of the President, his remark applying more to the Shurz document, it was understood. The debate ended by the adoption of the motion to print the papers.

The bill regulating commerce between the several States, which was rushed through the House to-day under the operations of the previous question, was opposed earnestly by representatives Jno. L. Thomas, of Maryland, and A. J. Rogers, of New Jersey. Both of these gentlemen insisted that the interests which their respective States had in this measure should be heard in the House. The bill, however, passed without debate or amendment. The effect of the bill, it is said, will be the prevention of a per capita tax being levied by any railroad or corporation in any State on the passengers or travel of any other State, should it become a law.

It is given out from an excellent quarter that in all of the Southern States when regular Governors have been elected, the Provisional Governors will be immediately withdrawn, and their successors duly inaugurated, as in the case of Alabama.

To an experienced observer the appearance of things on the republican side indicates what Jack Falstaff denominated a state of general "dissolution and thaw," looking to a division on the main question, unless the radicals abate their haughty pretentions.

Mr. Raymond took notes to reply to old Thad's speech, the views of which have over and over been voted down in the House when presented in the form of resolutions, during the war. Old Thad looks the master more than ever, and is constantly run by his adherents. Mr. Raymond is very closely observant, and appears to be very determined. He is much consulted. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, does not appear to be in the leading strings of Mr. Stevens. One of the joint committee in the case of the Southern States, who was radical last session, is decidedly conservative now.

The Republican breaks ground this evening against General Grant. It has also, by indirection in the nature of special pleading, done so to the administration.

The Postmaster General will cause the remains of Mr. Corwin to be transmitted directly to Ohio, accompanied by some of his old intimate personal friends. The Ohio delegation with other Congressmen, and others who were friends of the deceased, had a meeting to-day at the capitol concerning the subject of his demise, and funeral speeches were made by Chief Justice Chase, Senator Sherman, Davis of Kentucky, Schenck, Secretary Seward, and Johnson of Maryland. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the funeral.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, to reconstruct the Southern States, is more stringent in its provisions than any for a similar object heretofore presented. It provides, among other things, for the appointment of provisional governors, with marshals and district attorneys, for the temporary discharge of civil duties.

The inhabitants of each State, irrespective of race or color, are to be enrolled, and if a majority take the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, the Governor shall, by proclamation, invite the loyal people to elect delegates to a convention to re-establish a State government.

The delegates are required to take and subscribe the oath of allegiance, and no person can thus serve or vote who has held or exercised any civil or military office under the rebel usurpation, or voluntarily borne arms against the United States. Both the oath to support the Constitution of the United States and the oath of allegiance are to be administered to voters.

The Constitution formed must be republican, and not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence, and must provide that involuntary servitude is forever prohibited; that no Confederate State or municipal debt shall ever be recognized or paid; that perfect toleration of religion shall be secured, and that no inhabitant shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his or her mode of religious worship, and that no person shall enter upon any office within the gift of the people until he shall have first taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and an oath to maintain the perpetual Union of the States. This covenant is to be perpetual.

If the Constitution shall come up to these and other requirements, a copy shall be sent to the President of the United States, who, after obtaining the consent of Congress, shall by proclamation, recognize the government so established.

This act is not to operate as a recognition of a State government in the State of Tennessee till the conditions aforesaid are complied with; and till that time Tennessee and all the States recently in rebellion shall be subjected to this law.

NEW GOODS.

New Line Opened! Makes Two Trips to the Old Line's One!

A. CREECH HAS JUST RETURNED FROM the North, where he has bought his second supply of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

Embracing the various New Styles of the Season, together with Ladies' Cloaks Long Shawls, Breakfast Shawls, Ladies and Misses' Goods, Ladies and Misses' Hoop Skirts, Ladies and Misses' Balmoral Shoes, Gent's Boots and Shoes, Boys' Youths and Children's Boots and Shoes, Felt Hats, the Derby the Dasher, the Planter's wide brim and other styles for Men's wear, Boys, Youths and Children's Hats, Wood and Willow Ware, rockery and Glass Ware, and a superior lot of Family Groceries.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a pinard stuck on their backs, "Selling out at cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn shelf-rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them, is a fool—and the man that sells them is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here. I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. Call at the S Smith building, house formerly occupied by Creech & Litchford, Merchants and Auctioneers.

TO THIS CELEBRATED SAFE was awarded the GOLD MEDAL, at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

NOTICE.—This celebrated Fire Proof safe is no longer made and sold by SILAS C HERRING, he licensee to make and sell them having expired.

The thousands of Certificates from Merchants, Bankers and Mechanics of all trades, that have been given in favor of this the only true "ALAMANDER" renders it useless for the subscribers to multiply words in its favor, as full ninety thousand of "WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES," have been manufactured and sold in the United States; and, in almost every large fire that has taken place during the last fourteen years, these Safes have been subjected to the severest tests, and not one of the "Genuine Salamanders" has ever been destroyed.

Safes sold at New York prices, with the freight to Wilmington added. No commission charged in Wilmington. We are prepared to take orders for these celebrated Safes. Samples can be seen at our office in a few days.

Every Merchant should have one of these cheap and secure Safes.
