IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE.

President Johnson's Response to Senate Resolutions of January 5th and February 27th.

From the message of the President, covering the correspondence with the Provisional Government, sent to the Senate in compliance with its resolutions of January 5 and February 27 last, we make the following interesting extracts:

North Carolina. STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Raleigh, N. C., June 19, 1865. SIR: I shall soon have to give directions to county boards, making provisions for the enrollment of voters.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, June 24, 1865. SIR: I have received your letter of the 19th inst., asking whether it will be necessary for me to send soldiers to obtain a special pardon from the President, or whether the taking of the amnesty oath only will entitle them to vote at the election to which you refer.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, May 29, 1865. SIR: A copy of the President's amnesty proclamation of this date is herewith appended. By a clause in the instrument, the Secretary of State is directed to establish rules and regulations for administering and recording the amnesty oath, so as to insure its benefits to the people and guard the government against fraud.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, July 8, 1865. SIR: Your letter to the President of the 26th ultimo was delivered by Mr. Worth. The President is gratified with the opinion expressed favorable to the prospect of State organization in North Carolina. Your remarks in regard to collisions between colored troops and white persons have been referred to the War Department.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22, 1865. Information comes to me that reports are being circulated in influential quarters, and where, without contradiction, they are calculated to do harm, to the effect that in appointments to office, and in the recommendations for appointments, the true Union men are totally ignored, and the provisional governors are giving a decided preference to those who have participated in the rebellion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22, 1865. Every dollar of the debt created to aid the rebellion against the United States should be repudiated finally and forever. The great mass of the people should not be taxed to pay a debt to aid in carrying on a rebellion which they, in fact, if left to themselves, were opposed to.

"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

RALEIGH, North Carolina, August 26, 1865.

The President: SIR:—In reply to your dispatch of August 23, I have the honor to state in no instance in making appointment to office, or in recommending for appointment, have I shown any preference for persons who have participated in the rebellion; on the contrary I have been very careful to prefer and appoint persons who were originally Union men, and persons who were in favor of restoring the authority of the Federal Government.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 27, 1865. Governor W. W. Holden, Raleigh, N. C.: My telegram was merely intended to call your attention to the impression being made by those who are opposed to the Southern States resuming their former relations with the federal government, and to making appointments to guard against it as far as practicable, and thereby to deprive them of all excuse for opposing a restoration of State governments.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 30, 1865. Gov. W. W. Holden, Raleigh, N. C.: Major General Meade has been sent South for the purpose of inspecting all the troops, with power to assign them as the interest of the country seems to demand.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21, 1865. Governor W. W. Holden, Raleigh, N. C.: Your decision is correct—that under the proclamation they cannot vote for members, or sit in Convention as members, without first being pardoned or taking the amnesty oath.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 17, 1865. His Excellency the President of the United States: SIR: Contrary to my expectation, the Convention has involved itself in a bitter discussion of the State debt made in aid of the rebellion. A continuance of this discussion will greatly excite the people and retard the work of reconstruction.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18, 1865. W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor, Raleigh, N. C.: Every dollar of the debt created to aid the rebellion against the United States should be repudiated finally and forever. The great mass of the people should not be taxed to pay a debt to aid in carrying on a rebellion which they, in fact, if left to themselves, were opposed to.

trust to aid in carrying on the rebellion. I trust and hope that the people of North Carolina will wash their hands of everything that partakes in the slightest degree of the rebellion, which has been so recently crushed by the strong arm of the Government in carrying out the obligations imposed by the Constitution of the Union.

ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 20, 1865.

The President of the United States: SIR: The Convention has adjourned: It has promptly repudiated every dollar of the rebel debt, and bound all future legislatures not to pay any of it. Your telegram had a most happy effect. The Worth faction is working hard, but will be defeated by a large majority. Turner and other continuance leaders ought to be handled at the proper time. Please pardon no leading men unless you hear from me.

W. W. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor, Raleigh, N. C.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27, 1865. W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor, Raleigh, N. C.: I accept my thanks for the noble and efficient manner in which you have discharged your duty as Provisional Governor. You will be sustained by the government.

The results of the recent elections in North Carolina have greatly damaged the prospects of the State in the restoration of its governmental relations. Should the action and the spirit of the legislature be in the same direction, it will greatly increase the mischief already done and might be fatal.

ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States.

PROSPECTUS OF THE COSMOPOLITE. ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country, in an literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall attempt among its contributors some of the first literary men of the North, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter original will be carefully selected from the nearest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the very first magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon a national basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be unshaken by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following Subscription: Single Copies, for one year, $4.00 Five Copies for one year, 18.00 Ten copies for one year, 35.00

The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South and West, and for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates, are inserted and new subscribers.

NEWSPAPERS publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address DE LEON & CO., P. O. Box 280, Baltimore, Md. Jan. 18, 1866.
