National Union Convention.

A National Union Convention of at least two delegates from each Congressional District of all the States, two from each Territory, two from the District of Columbia, and four delegates at large from each State, will be held at the city of Philadelphia, on the second Tuesday (14th) of August next.

Such delegates will be chosen by the electors of the several States who sustain the Administration in maintaining unbroken the Union of the States under the Constitution which our fathers established; and who agree in the following propositions, viz:

The Union of the States is, in every case, indissoluble, and is perpetual; and the Constitution of the United States, and the laws passed by Congress in pursuance thereof, supreme and constant, and inviolate in their obligation;

The rights, the dignity, and the equality of the States in the Union, including the right of representation in Congress, are solemnly guaranteed by that Constitution, to save which from overthrow so much blood and treasure were expended in the late civil war.

There is no right, anywhere, to dissolve the Union, or to separate States from the Union, either by a voluntary withdrawal, by force of arms, or by Congressional action; neither by the secession of the States, nor by the exclusion of their loyal and qualified representatives, nor by the National Government in any other forth:

Slavery is abolished, and neither can, nor ought to be re-established in any State or Territory within our jurisdiction;

Each State has the undoubted right to preserve the qualifications of its own electors, and no external power rightfully can, or ought to dictate, control, or influence the free and voluntary action of the States in the exercise of that right;

The maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially of the right of each State to order and control its own domestic concerns, according to its own judgment exclusively, subject only to the Constitution of the United States, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depend, and the overthrow of that system, by the usurpation and centralization of power in Congress would be a revolution, dangerous to republican government and destructive of liberty;

Each House of Congress is made, by the Constitution, the sole judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its members; but the exclusion of loyal Senators and Representatives, properly chosen and qualified under the Constitution and laws, is unjust and revolution ary;

Every patriot should frown upon all those acts and proceedings, everywhere, which can serve no other purpose than to rekindle the animosities of war, and the effect of which upon our moral, social and material interests at home, and upon our standing abroad, differing only in degree, is injurious like war itself;

The purpose of the war having been to preserve the Union and the Constitution, by putting down the rebellion, and the rebellion having been suppressed, all resistance to the authority of the general Government being at an end, and the war having ceased, war measures should also cease, and should be followed by measures of peaceful administration, so that union, harmony and concord may be encouraged, and industry, commerce and the arts of peace revived and promoted; and the early restoration of all the States to the exercise of their constitutional powers in the National Government is indispensably necessary to the strength and the defence of the Republic, and to the maintenance of the public credit.

All such electors in the thirty-six States and nine Territories of the United States, and in the District of Columbia, who, in a spirit of patriotism and love for the Union, can rise above personal and sectional considerations, and desire to see a truly National Union Convention, which shall represent all the States and Territories of the Union, assemble, as friends and brothers, under the national flag, to hold counsel together upon the state of the Union, and to take measures to avert possible danger from the same, especially requested to take part in the choice of such delegates.

But no delegate will take a seat in such Convention who does not loyally accept the nation's administration, and cordially endorse the principles above set forth, and who is not attached, in true allegiance, to the Constitution, the Union, and the Government of the United States.

A. W. RANDALL,
President.

J. R. DOOLITTLE,

EDGAR COWAN,

APPROVAL OF THE PUBLIC MONEY.—The Radical Congress does what it pleases, without any reference to the Constitution. We have no objection to any proper benevolence to the people who lost their homes and property in the great conflagration at Portland, Maine, but we do most earnestly protest against an appropriation which has no warrant in the Constitution. The Government was made for certain purposes that are clearly enough defined, and it is certain that it was never intended to distribute the benefits at the caprice of Congress. Once admit precedents of the kind which this Portland donation represents, and where shall we stop?

The history of the country shows very plainly that it was never before considered competent for Congress to appropriate money except for the public service.

THE SCHERBORN.—The coup de soleil has been a fearful scourge this summer. In New York there have been already "two hundred and fifty" sunstrokes, of which "one hundred and fifty-five" proved fatal! The cholera, so feared by everybody, has been outdone by this, of which few had any apprehension. The heat has been excessive, and Professor Loomis says that it has been the hottest weather since 1776, and probably for a much longer period. Baltimore has a fearful list of deaths by this summer sun. Let us hope that the hot spell is over and that we can go and come from our business without fear of sudden death by the way.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in the State.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of X. C. and Va.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution, as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals and discipline, are well known.
