

THE SENTINEL.

Friday Evening, Aug. 17, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. — Pulliam, Jones & Co., offer a choice variety of the finest wines and spirits.

Wade H. Garrison, of Northampton Co., offers $50 reward for the recovery of a horse stolen on the night of the 31st ult.

G. W. Wilkins Gaston, will sell 150 barrels of nice white corn at $1.25 per bushel.

PENDER COUNCIL, No. 3, FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE. — We learn that a Council, with the above title, was formed in this city last night. The Council was organized by Maj. D. S. Hill, of Louisville, an officer of Pettigrew Council, No. 1, at Louisville. The following officers were elected for Pender Council: Ex-President, Josiah Jones; President, W. W. Best; Associate President, Jas. H. Moore; Secretary, J. C. L. Hardie; Financial Secretary, Jesse Jones; Treasurer, Wm. H. Cunningham; Conductor, John Armstrong; Assistant Conductor, J. V. Wilson; Inside Sentinel, A. Hardie; Outside Sentinel, W. H. Spencer; Chaplain, Rev. H. T. Hudson. — There is certainly room for the energetic labor of this Association, and we wish it much success.

THE VOTE. — We have now official returns from 36 Counties, in which the vote stands:

For Rejection 14,646
" Ratification 12,159

Majority for Rejection 2,487
We shall hereafter only give official returns. When the full vote is received, and the result ascertained, we shall give the vote of the entire State by Counties.

LITERARY BOARD. — Governor Worth has summoned the Board of Literature to meet in this City, on Thursday, the 23d, inst.

DURHAM TOBACCO. — We are indebted to R. Morris & Son, Durham's, for a large package of their splendid Spanish flavored Smoking Tobacco, which we do not hesitate to commend to the public as the most superior article we have ever used. A few puffs will smooth "the wrinkled brow of care" at all hours. Messrs. Morris & Son are very extensively engaged in the manufacture and will fill orders to any amount.

THE RALEIGH EXCHANGE HOTEL has been re-opened by Mr. J. M. Blair, and is said by travelers to be in all respects a model institution. Mr. B. is an accomplished hotelist, and with his fifty-six rooms refitted and garnished, and a table groaning with luxuries of the season, makes himself deservedly popular. The South Carolinian will always be found in his reading room. — Columbia South Carolinian.

WE REGRET to learn that the venerable mother of Gov. Worth is lying at the point of death at her residence in Guilford. Gov. Worth left on the train this afternoon, to be with her in her last moments.

NORTH CAROLINA IN THE CONVENTION. — Hon. Nathaniel Boyden was chairman of the North Carolina delegation in the Philadelphia Convention. Hon. Wm. A. Graham was one of the Committee on Resolutions; Hon. Jno. A. Gilmer one of the vice Presidents; and W. A. Wright, Esq., one of the Committee on organization.

CAPT. TEAL'S SUCCESSOR. — A. Dilworth, Esq., of this place, has been appointed Agent of the Bureau in Greensboro, vice Capt. Teal, who recently resigned. Mr. Dilworth is well known in this community, and will no doubt make an acceptable officer. — Greensboro Patriot.

We believe Mr. Dilworth is an old resident of Greensboro', if not a native. This is a movement in the right direction. A citizen, reared up among the blacks and the whites of the South, is the right kind of man, if he has other requisites, to perform the duty of looking after the interests of the colored population.

ROW IN WILSON. — The Newbern Times, learns that quite a disturbance occurred in the town of Wilson last week. From the account, it appears that an affray took place between some whites and negroes, in which one or two of the latter were severely wounded.

ARRIVALS AT THE YARBOROUGH HOUSE, AUGUST 15TH, 1866. — I. C. Jones, Fayetteville, N. C.; C. B. Mallett, Fayetteville, N. C.; C. P. Mallett, Jr., Fayetteville, N. C.; Jno. Endy, Greensboro, N. C.; J. F. Wright, Tarboro, N. C.; Sam'l Jordan, Abbeville, N. C.; Dr. T. H. Scott, Nash Co., N. C.; Miss Laura Scott, Nash Co., N. C.; Miss Parcie Freeman, Nash Co., N. C.; R. R. Bridgeman, N. C.; S. S. Clayton, Baltimore, Md.; Gen. Phil. Hawkins, N. C.; S. Resemburg, Petersburg, Va.

AUGUST 16.—Mrs. Dr. Moore, child and servant, Miss Mary Sellers, Miss Sarah Sellers, B. A. Sellers, Company Shultz, N. C.; J. B. Bachelor, Warrenton, Capt. Jas. Gregory, Petersburg, Va.; L. E. Gandy, Boydton, Va.; S. R. Birdsey and Lady, Fayetteville, N. C.

UNSTAMPED INSTRUMENTS. — The following in the "Amended Act to provide Internal Revenue," &c., in regard to unstamped instruments, has been handed us for publication, and will be of general interest to our readers. The extract is a "true copy" from the recent law.

"In all cases where the party has not affixed the stamp required by law upon any instrument made, signed, or issued, at a time when and at a place where no collection district was established, it shall be lawful for him or them, or any party having an interest therein, to affix the proper stamp thereto; or if the original be lost, to a copy thereof; and the instrument or copy to which the proper stamp has been thus affixed prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and the record thereof, shall be as valid to all intents and purposes as if stamped by the collector in manner hereinbefore provided. But, for right acquired in good faith before the stamping of such instrument or copy thereof, and the recording thereof, as herein provided, if such record be required by law, shall in any manner be affected by such stamping as aforesaid."

SEABOARD AND ROANOKE R. R. — We are pleased to learn, as we do from the Norfolk Day Book, that this road is doing a very encouraging business. The company is under very efficient management and is fairly on the road to prosperity.

THE STAMPE TWINS passed through Lynchburg the other day bound northward; whence newspaper men grow funny. One says that being practical unionists it is supposed they were making their way to the Philadelphia Convention. Another states they came by the same train. And another, that they seemed as much attached to each other as ever.

THE ACCOUNT of the New Orleans Int. has a startling and melancholy interest to those who look beneath the surface. Just as the trembling of the earth or the eruption of flames tells of the interior fire deep buried from eternity in the bosom of the globe, so these excesses of rage, thirsting for blood, show how strangely operative are the oppositions of races. In vain has history shed its philosophic light on the past. In vain has the antagonism of races produced its startling effects through all the tide of times. To no purpose did St. Domingo run red with blood, so cruelly shed, because of the repulsion of colors. So fanatics seem to square their theories to human nature — they try to bend human nature to their theories. They make no allowance for time or circumstance; their own of progress must advance, though amazed at every revolution of life wheels with the blood of human sacrifice. Pursuing their darling dream of negro equality at all hazards, they have opened the doors to violence at New Orleans, uncaused the blood of the ignorant instruments of their passions to flow.

Whilst we profoundly regret the outbreak of fanatic rage, and would earnestly counsel all persons at the South, and elsewhere in our country, to abstain from force and religiously respect the laws, we cannot but condemn the course of the Radical conservatives in invoking the agency of a dead convention to establish their policy. They undertook fraud, under circumstances of the most aggravated character, with the most violent threats, to subvert the institutions of the State and erect a party despotism resting on negro suffrage. The melancholy consequences of their act might have been foreseen.

The question of the difference of races at the South requires to be handled with the most exact delicacy. If it is handled roughly the saddest results past history may be looked for as natural consequence.

An effort is made in certain quarters to throw blame upon the President. The President's defense requires the "civil authorities" to be satisfied. The President could do nothing else. It is his duty to sustain the law and the existing civil institutions of the country. The attack of the mob on a Convention was not the work of the "civil authorities," but done in spite of them. The mob, representing the civil power, protected the convention, and those who were killed were led by the mob in spite of the police. — National Intelligencer.

GENERAL LIBBY. — A correspondent of the Louisville Courier, writing from Toronto, Canada, says:

"General Libby arrived here a few days since, from Halifax which route he had come from Cuba and Meo. He looks as well as when I saw him complaining the dome of the Capitol from Pradlair's lawn in July, 1864, notwithstanding extensive travels by horseback, from Lynchburg to Galveston, and thence, by vessel, to Meo and here, as stated. It will be gratifying those who take an interest in the truth of story to know that General Libby has written narrative of his operations during the last year, the war, including his services with Gen. L. Armistead from the Rapidan to the James, and campaign into Maryland and in the Shenandoah valley against Sheridan. His manuscript nearly ready for the press, and will make, issue of maps, an octavo pamphlet of about hundred pages. Gen. Early, declining to take it a source of profit, will publish it at his own expense, as a contribution to history. It will create a sensation, and will be very readable."

EVERY CH SHOULD BE SUPPLIED WITH IRONSON'S NEW BOOK.

THE JUDGE, the first edition of which, TWENTY THOUSAND COPIES, will soon be sold, says: He considers the new work excels in many important features the author's previous work, the "Harp of Judas." Price $1.50, receipt of which "The Jubilee" will be sent post paid. Chords supplied at $12 a dozen.
