

THE SENTINEL.

W. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, Editors.

Saturday Evening, Oct. 13, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS, NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR, JONATHAN WORTH, OF RANDOLPH.

Election Thursday, October 19th.

Gov. Worth and his Administration.

Gov. Worth's administration has been so quiet and unpretending, and he is himself so unambitious of display, that our people do not fully know the extent of his obligations to him.

We have been several times challenged to specify what Gov. Worth has done for the people in his Executive capacity. It is not necessary, in fixing the usefulness of a public officer, to point to prominent or notorious acts of service.

Through Gov. Worth's official and personal influence at Washington, he has obtained pardons for hundreds of our fellow-citizens, who, up to the time of his accession to office, had fallen to procure them, either by having been placed under the ban by the Provisional Government or for other reasons.

Next Thursday—Howard Amendment. The election comes off next Thursday. Remember that Gov. Worth is the representative National Union candidate in the State.

It was through Gov. Worth's prudent agency and quiet, but diligent, efforts, that the State is now in possession of the large amount of land scrip donated by Congress in 1862 to be converted into a fund for the establishment of agricultural schools.

Some men, outside of those immediately cognizant of the facts, are aware of the patient and unwearying investigation which Gov. Worth has bestowed upon the diversified and intricate matters, great or small, that have been referred to him from every part of the State.

We have heretofore stated that the South is not authorized, from anything that is tangible, to regard the Howard amendment as a proposition from Congress as a necessary condition of reconciliation.

Something New. We learn that information has been communicated to the State Department, at Washington, that, in different localities in the South, schemes are on foot to induce the colored people to emigrate, under the auspices of those connected with these schemes, to some foreign country, and especially to Peru, with pledges of bettering their condition. The facts have, we learn, been brought to the attention of the Governors of the Southern States, with the view of discouraging any such movement.

To POSTMASTERS AND NEWSPAPER BORROWERS.—We have complaints from our subscribers that they do not get their papers. We dare not say that mistakes never occur in this office, but we doubt if any office in the State has a superior Clerk, so more attentive, than ours. We therefore do our best. We are inclined to think that sometimes our subscribers' papers are delivered to other persons by mistake, or loaned to others, so that some of them do not get them.

The Past and the Future.

The history of ultra-abolitionism in this country is not yet written up. Whether it has yet even attained its culminating point is doubtful. The world may yet be astounded at its rigor, its demoralization, its transcendent malice, its recklessness of law, of humanity and of religion.

Conceived and born and cradled in infidelity, it has slowly but surely infused its virus into the Church of Christ, the schools of learning, the markets of business, the courts of justice, the legislative halls, the offices of honor and profit, into the National Councils, the executive and judicial departments of the government, subordinating them to its unholy purposes, mixing itself up with every phase of politics, to gain the greater ascendancy, and it now seeks to invade the sanctity of the Constitution itself.

Such is a brief but faint description of the history and progress of this demon spirit, which is again ready to trench the land in blood and to destroy, in its demagogic rage, the last vestige of American liberty.

The strictures of this bloody but heartless Jugernaut have been so rapid and so astounding, that the wise, the patriotic and true statesmen of the country have almost entirely shrunk away from its encounter, and have committed the destinies of the Republic to the control of demagogues and political charlatans, who are ready to bury out of sight the fair fabric of our fathers, consecrated by their blood and toil, to elevate the God-cursed sons of Ham, not simply to a level with the white race, but above it.

There is, in this city, a Woolen Factory of dimensions and a character that are unknown to many of our people, and only serves as another illustration of a fact, alluded to in a former letter to you, and that is, that we know far too little of ourselves here in North Carolina.

The company consists of Gen. J. A. Young, John Wilkes, M. L. Wriston and Jan. Earnshaw, who say they are determined that no cloth shall be made in America superior to theirs.

A Soldier's Estimate of Gen. Butler. Gen'l James B. Steedman made a speech at Toledo, Oct. 1, and in the course of his remarks thus alluded to our esteemed fellow-citizen, General R. F. Butler:

There is a plantation in Georgia that will yield a bale of cotton in the season which has always been considered worth $25,000, now offered for $5000 and nobody is willing to buy.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 12, 1866.

MISSISSIPPI EDITORS.—The Synod of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina is in session in this place. It convened on Wednesday night, and was organized by the election of Rev. R. H. Chapman, D. D., of Hendersonville, as Moderator.

The war gave rise to another division of both branches, into sub-divisions: Old School, North, and New School, North, and Old School, South, and New School, South, and the New School, South, have united.

Charlotte has a population of about 12,000, and is the centre of a good section of country. It is cheering to a North Carolinian to fall upon such a busy town as this. It relieves the sadness of our depressed old State. All its life and motion is in Charlotte.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

There have been, in all, four cases of impeachment since the beginning of our government, namely, that of William Blount, 1797; John Pickens, 1803; Samuel Chase, 1805, and Jas. H. Peck, 1831. The law governing such trials, as stated by Judge Story, is founded on the precedents furnished by these four cases.

Impeachment of President Johnson.

Commenting on Butler's scheme of impeaching the President, by which the President is to be declared suspended from his office during his trial, the World argues:

This ingenious fallacy rests upon an assumption which a little scrutiny will easily expose. The assumption is, that an officer under impeachment stands in the same relation to the tribunal appointed to try him that an ordinary criminal does to an ordinary court. Because a court of justice never tries a criminal unless it has custody of his person, it is inferred that the same rule holds in the trial of an impeached officer by the Senate.

There is a story of an illiterate Western lawyer who asserted vehemently that all the actions of his client had been "ad res and above board."

At Cottage Home, Lenoir Co., N. C., on the morning of the 9th. inst., SOPHIA ALEXANDER, Daughter of Dr. S. H. and Laura W. Evans, aged four years, nine months and twenty days.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. RALEIGH AND GASTON RAIL ROAD CO. SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE. RALEIGH, N. C. Oct. 12th.

ALLAN & JOHNSON. WHOLESALE. Seedsmen, Nurserymen and Florists. 1504 MAIN ST., (UNDER ST. CHARLES HOTEL) Richmond, Va.

JUST OPENED. AT 44 FAETTEVILLE STREET, 15 Sets Plated Castors, Extra and Plain, Cut Glass Cruets, to fill up broken Sets, Painted and Ornamented Foot-Tubs and Slop-Jars, With a great variety of useful articles for House keeping.

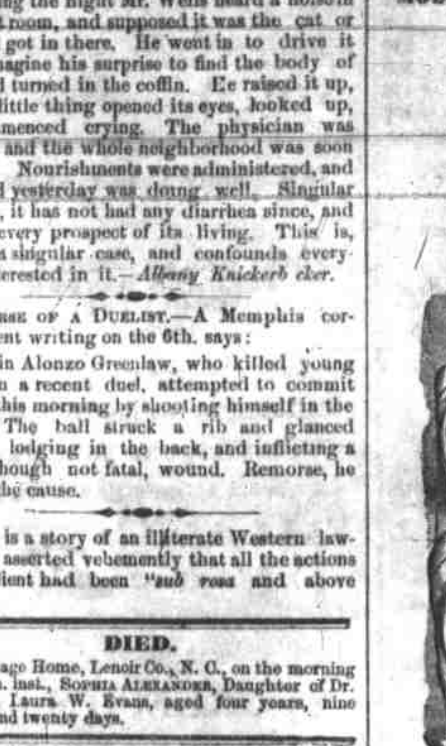

ANOTHER CASE. Of those beautiful fashionable Cashmere HATS, Just received at G. T. COOKER'S.

NORTH CAROLINA CASSIMEREES. Beautiful quality of Black, Steel mixed and Heavy mixed N. C. JEANS, at G. T. COOKER'S.

SOOTHEN BELLE HOOP SKIRTS. Full size for Misses and Children, Just received at G. T. COOKER'S.

DAN CASTELLO'S "GREAT SHOW," AND TRAINED WILD ANIMALS.

FORMING A MODELL AND MORAL EXHIBITION.

Knights in Real Armor. Ladies in Regal Robes. Queen's Carriage of State. The Mounted Zouaves. The Cornet Band. Golden Chariot. Horses, Ponies and Mules will be prominently seen and admired, but THE NOVEL FEATURE will be the LIVE LION LET LOOSE IN THE STREETS, TAKEN FROM ITS CAGE, by the Intrepid HERR LENGLI, AND PLACED UPON A CAR, and CARRIED IN TRUMPH.

At Cottage Home, Lenoir Co., N. C., on the morning of the 9th. inst., SOPHIA ALEXANDER, Daughter of Dr. S. H. and Laura W. Evans, aged four years, nine months and twenty days.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. RALEIGH AND GASTON RAIL ROAD CO. SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE. RALEIGH, N. C. Oct. 12th.

ALLAN & JOHNSON. WHOLESALE. Seedsmen, Nurserymen and Florists. 1504 MAIN ST., (UNDER ST. CHARLES HOTEL) Richmond, Va.

JUST OPENED. AT 44 FAETTEVILLE STREET, 15 Sets Plated Castors, Extra and Plain, Cut Glass Cruets, to fill up broken Sets, Painted and Ornamented Foot-Tubs and Slop-Jars, With a great variety of useful articles for House keeping.

ANOTHER CASE. Of those beautiful fashionable Cashmere HATS, Just received at G. T. COOKER'S.

NORTH CAROLINA CASSIMEREES. Beautiful quality of Black, Steel mixed and Heavy mixed N. C. JEANS, at G. T. COOKER'S.

DAN CASTELLO'S "GREAT SHOW," AND TRAINED WILD ANIMALS.

FORMING A MODELL AND MORAL EXHIBITION.

Knights in Real Armor. Ladies in Regal Robes. Queen's Carriage of State. The Mounted Zouaves. The Cornet Band. Golden Chariot. Horses, Ponies and Mules will be prominently seen and admired, but THE NOVEL FEATURE will be the LIVE LION LET LOOSE IN THE STREETS, TAKEN FROM ITS CAGE, by the Intrepid HERR LENGLI, AND PLACED UPON A CAR, and CARRIED IN TRUMPH.

At Cottage Home, Lenoir Co., N. C., on the morning of the 9th. inst., SOPHIA ALEXANDER, Daughter of Dr. S. H. and Laura W. Evans, aged four years, nine months and twenty days.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. RALEIGH AND GASTON RAIL ROAD CO. SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE. RALEIGH, N. C. Oct. 12th.

ALLAN & JOHNSON. WHOLESALE. Seedsmen, Nurserymen and Florists. 1504 MAIN ST., (UNDER ST. CHARLES HOTEL) Richmond, Va.

JUST OPENED. AT 44 FAETTEVILLE STREET, 15 Sets Plated Castors, Extra and Plain, Cut Glass Cruets, to fill up broken Sets, Painted and Ornamented Foot-Tubs and Slop-Jars, With a great variety of useful articles for House keeping.

ANOTHER CASE. Of those beautiful fashionable Cashmere HATS, Just received at G. T. COOKER'S.

NORTH CAROLINA CASSIMEREES. Beautiful quality of Black, Steel mixed and Heavy mixed N. C. JEANS, at G. T. COOKER'S.