Having been appointed agent for the above Company, I respectfully call the attention of the citizens of this section of North Carolina, to the fact that this is a Southern Company with an authorized Capital of $500,000. It's business is ably conducted, by influential, reliable and wealthy citizens of Tennessee.

It has the finest references, and has always been exceedingly prompt in its payments, as can be shown by its records, being sustained by wealthy gentlemen.

It takes both Life and Fire risks on terms as low as any Eastern Company.

This Company is just being introduced into its sister State and I hope it will be well patronized.

Let us support and encourage each other and keep all our money at home.

A Characteristic Picture.

LOCATION—RALEIGH.

The following dialogue, as reported by one of the interlocutors, occurred a few days since on Main street:

Ex-P. G. How are you to-day, Uncle Billy?

Fat man. Tolerable, thank you—how is it with yourself, Mr. Holden? So you've been to Washington, eh? What's the news there?

Ex-P. G. Oh, we've got things all straight there, Uncle Billy. We're going to have things our own way pretty soon.

Fat Man. Why, how's that, Holden?

Ex-P. G. Well, the colored population and the poor white people, such as you and me, Uncle Billy, (leering at him,) are going to have our rights at last. But it will all be out in the Standard to-morrow. You take the Standard, don't you?

Fat Man. Why, no, not now. I used to, but haint got the money now.

Ex-P. G. Take the paper again, Uncle Billy, and I'll trust you twelve years. I'll take your note, due twelve years hence. That'll do, won't it?

Fat Man. Why, no, not adzactly. I'd rather pay you now, and not take the paper at all. I don't want it no how.

At this particular juncture of the negotiation, the Ex-P. G. turned away to shake hands with Boots, the barber, and inquiring after his health and the health of his neighbors, and of the colored population in general. Uncle Billy walked off in a titter, and told his poor neighbors how awfully distressed "Bill Holden" was about poor folks and niggers—and how he came to be so distressed, and what he expected to make by it; and Uncle Billy swore, for he is sometimes a little profane when provoked, that he did not thank Holden for putting him with niggers, nor with himself neither.

The famous Anacharsis Klootz was the friend of the human race. His heart was large, and his universal philanthropy recognized no distinctions. But Klootz was a crazy man. He was not shrewd like our ex-P. G. His heart is just large enough to embrace all who will join in making him Vicar of Bray, and no more.—He beats of the hand he had in framing the bill of Thaddeus. In that bill the right of voting for members of the Convention to frame a new Constitution in true republican form, (as though our own Constitution was not in that form already,) is accorded only to those "who can read or write, or may own in fee real estate of the assessed value of $100 or more." This will, of course, exclude nearly all the freedmen. And it is believed here, that not many of those thus admitted to vote could be induced to vote for him. Since his return, he doubts whether the right of suffrage should be so restricted.—He now thinks it "more than probable that what is called manhood or general suffrage will be adopted," and insinuates an approval of this change of plans. He is almost decided, also, to act with the "Unionists in all our portions of the country"—(North Carolina, mind you) in extending the test oath in the act to voters as well as office holders. By these two small changes in the scheme, to which he calls "the attention of our friends in Congress," he hopes to be able to swim again. But even that will not save him. The detestation felt for this miserable ingrate is universal. W.

Union Feeling in North Carolina.

From the National Intelligencer.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 1866.

I am sorry to see native North Carolinians engaged in misrepresenting the political sentiment of the great mass of their fellow-citizens. I think I know the sentiments of the large majority of the people of North Carolina. We have extreme men on both sides, and always have had, and, no doubt, always will have. Neither represent the great majority; but either and both extremes are dangerous rulers. The present Radical agitators would be quite as dangerous as ever the extreme secessionists were, provided they were invested with the same power. I claim to have always belonged to the moderate class; fought secession to the last; and insisted on a compromise on the best terms that could be got at any and every stage of the rebellion; and I am still for the Union in its original purity. Had President Johnson's policy been adopted by Congress twelve months ago, we would to-day have been a more united people, both North and South, then we ever had been for the last forty years, and more so than we ever will be in the next fifty to come. Every day we are kept out of the Union only serves to alienate our people more and more from the Government; and, if persisted in much longer, the great body of our people will love the Union like Ireland loves England, which, sooner or later, will likely prove to be about as profitable to the Government of the United States as Ireland is to England. Such a course of policy can have no other effect, as long as human nature remains as it was from the days of Adam to the present time. The majority of Congress seem demented, unless their intentions be to alienate us forever. So long as men tax their ingenuity to invent and manifest their oppressions and hatred to a conquered people, it can but beget hatred in return. Nine-tenths of the intelligent people of the South religiously believe that the pretexts and subterfuges resorted to by Congress for the exclusion of the Southern States are intended solely to perpetuate their own power in office, and that the real cause of our exclusion is to prevent our voting in the next Presidential election and the election of Conservative men to Congress. Our conscientious belief is, that if we could give a satisfactory guaranty to Congress that we would never vote for none but Radicals for office; no further objection would be offered to restoration. We are unable to give the guaranty; hence we have no hope of restoration during the next Congress, if ever. We cannot believe that any sane man can credit the cock and bull stories respecting our loyalty. If we could believe otherwise, we would try to convince the Congress of their error; but we cannot understand how men of ordinary intelligence can be so much mistaken in relation to the true loyalty of the South as Congress pretends to be. Yours, &c.,

L. S. G.

A letter from Little Rock states that there are not over half a dozen members of the Arkansas Legislature who will vote in favor of the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment.

WILSON MALE AND FEMALE HIGH SCHOOL,

WILSON, N. C.

THIS School will open the Second Monday in January, in the large and commodious buildings formerly occupied by Dr. Downs.

The Principal has associated with him Professors AVERETT and LADY, of Halifax County, Virginia.

Professor AVERETT is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is a teacher of many years experience—was Professor of Mathematics in the Danville Female College until he resigned his position to take his place in the Confederate army. He is known to be a ripe scholar and an accomplished gentleman. Mrs. AVERETT is also well known, both in Virginia and North Carolina, as a successful teacher, in both the Literary and Music Departments of the best Female Schools.

In a word, the Principal has resolved to make this School all that it professes to be, viz: A High School of the first grade. In order to this, he has employed only such teachers as are known to be accomplished scholars, and who have established a reputation as successful instructors.

The number of pupils will not hereafter be limited; and additional teachers will be employed as soon as the patronage will justify it.

The Music Department will be committed to Mrs. AVERETT, who will be assisted by Mrs. ARRINGTON.

All the teachers will reside in the College Buildings. Young ladies can obtain board with the Principal, and boys can secure board with private families in the town.

The session will comprise twenty weeks. The terms per session will be—

Primary Department,	$15 to $20
Higher English Branches,	25
Latin and Greek, each,	5
French and Drawing, each,	12
Music and Painting, each,	25
Board, exclusive of lights and washing,	60
Incidental expenses,	1

The above prices are in specie or its equivalent, one half in advance.

Pupils will be allowed to attend church according to the wishes of their parents or guardians.

Debts cannot be contracted without permission from parents or guardians.

Pupils boarding with the Principal must furnish one pair of sheets, pillow cases, blankets or comforts and four towels.

The government will be mild but firm.
