Veto Message. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. The President's veto of the Colorado bill was ent in to day and is as follows:

With the corresponding of the exception to the bill acception of an additional clause, it is the same that was vetoed in May last, which still awaits the Senate's reconsideration, and I am unable to see any reason for confirming the former vetoes additional reasons for confirming the former vetoes.

bjectionable. The Constitution of Colorado mises that the laws existing shall continue. Among these is one absolutely prohibiting nagro-suffrage, and the recent territorial legislature almost unanimously refused to repeal it. And, pending the passage of the act by Congress, the territorial legislature passed an act denying jury rights to negroes.

The bill before me grants rights den the Legislature and Constitution of Colorado. This incongruity, and the protest on the part of the people against a State government, clearly indicate the impolicy and injustice proposed in the ensetment. It is a subject of serious enquiry whether the enactment is not an attempt to exercise powers not conferred by the Constitution.

The total population of Colorado; is 27,809, only one fifth of what is required for Congressional representation, and argues the injustice of allowing this small community, one representative and two Senators. Such admission of States was not practiced in the early days. Florida's a mission in 1845, resulted from sectional strife, which we would do well to regard as a warming of evil, rather than an exam-
