

The Daily Sentinel.

VOL. II.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

Friday Evening, March 8, 1867.

SOMEBODY'll Come To-Night.

"I must bind my hair with the mystic bough,
And girt it with bands of white;
And drive the bairn from thy burning bower,
So that he'll come to-night.
And kiss his own shall grace
The bairn and find in my tell-tale face
The spell of his wondrous power."

"I sing day the role which he fondly calls
A vision of enchanting light;
And all where the mellowing moonlight falls,
For somebody'll come to-night.
The piano shall seem
But the veriest freak of chance,
He's sure to know that his eye will bear
With a tenderer, happier glance."

"I know where the years were won
That lay on my stony head,
And where the flowers sit in fancy green,
Were stoned with golden thread.
And somebody's hand is on the whisper there
That I have not won up in prayer,
But I know my soul went up to night,
And somebody's here to-night."

"I blushed no more at the whispered vow,
Said in the soft moonlight;
My heart has a tint of another hue;
And I sit by the window.
And the looks that rest with the glowing wreath
Have passed to the silver gray,
But the secret of the world is with down then
Is a softer love to-day."

News and Miscellany.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION.

From the New York Gazette.

When phrenology first began to attract attention, and claimed to be a science, high foreheads of women, as well as men, were associated with intellect. Every member of the opposite sex, however dull or uncultivated she may be, admires mental gifts, and has an objection to the reputation of possessing them herself. Consequently she determined to have the seeming if not the reality, and stripped her forehead, of the clustering tresses, and even removed the hair by artifice, which would awake the enthusiasm of Galor spartans. For a number of years this mania for high foreheads raged in spite of the patient fact that they detracted from their feminine loveliness, giving it a hard, bold, masculine expression that should be sedately avoided. All the classic models of beauty, whether in marble or flesh, from the Venus and Phryne down to the Mary's of Raphael and Magdalenes of Murillo, the picturesquely damaged of the Campagna, and the classic Sistine maidens, instead of high, have quite low foreheads—something our own women seem at last to have discovered.

Horus and Catulus and Ovid all sang of the fair, fond creatures whose white foreheads gleamed like the crescent moon beneath the dark cloud of silken hair. Artists have so painted feminine beauty. Men of taste and gallantry have admired such. Phrenology has caused to be connected with aesthetic susceptibilities, and therefore we have, turned to nature an art.

Indeed the present now is rather for exceedingly low foreheads, for fair over the temples, and love-looks that shade the lighter of deep eyes. This weather overdone; but still it is preferable to lofty foreheads and striped brows that make the face more fitting for a Roman senator than a gentle tender, womanly woman. Every man of taste must rejoice that something like an approximation to the old models and the correct standard of feminine loveliness has been established; and we are no longer pained with high white fronts that tell of power.

Which is it fashion'd by the gentle heart?

Victor Hugo once said of Louis Napoleon, "He lies more and more to his object, until the hour for action comes; he then turns his head and leaps upon his prey." His policy starts out on you abruptly, at some unmeaning turning, pistol in hand, at "tar." There is in his table, in his study, a drawer, frequently half open—"He takes then a paper, reads it to a minister. It is a decree. The minister bows and dissent. If he dissent, Louis Napoleon throws the paper back into the drawer, where there are many other papers, bundles of papers—the dreams of an all-powerful man—until the drawer takes out the key, and leaves the room without saying a word. The minister bows and retires delighted with the deference which has been paid to his opinion. Next morning the decree is in the Moniteur."

Governor Orr, in his message delivered to the State Legislature on the 27th November last, said:

"History furnishes few examples of a people who have been required to concede more to the will of their conquerors than the people of the South. Every concession we have made, however, so far from touching the magnanimity or generosity of the victors, has sharpened their inaction, and intensified their malice."

The Legislature of Ohio wants a Brigadier for that piece of the Old Dominion too. It means positively refuse to grant the colored citizens equal rights with the whites. The rebellion grows—Kentucky, Kansas and Ohio. Ten and three make thirteen.

A mad pugnacious of the house of Bourbon, on being asked why the reges of queen were in general more prosperous than the reigns of kings, replied, "Because, under kings, women govern; under queens, men."

When a Spaniard eats a peach or pear by the roadside, he makes a hole in the ground and covers the seed. Consequently, all over Spain fruit is in great abundance and always ripe.

THE LARGEST PAPER IN THE WORLD.—Through the courtesy of Mr. Robert Bowell of this city, we have been permitted to examine a copy of the Australasian, published at Melbourne, Australia, the largest paper in the world. It contains thirty-two pages of five columns each, and if printed on a single sheet would be nine feet long by three wide. Leicester Journal.

A PREDICTION.—The Radical candidate for Mayor of Alexandria is reported to have told the negroes at a meeting Monday night, that in three months the white people would be disfranchised, and the negroes would have the upper hand.

WE THE NEGROES DID NOT VOTE AT ALBEMARLE.—It is said that the Attorney General of the United States (Mr. Stacey) declined to give his opinion on the question in so short a time, but said he was inclined to the opinion that they would not be entitled to vote until the Government had formally taken possession of the State.

The Common Council of Charleston have passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Peasey for his gift to the Southern schools.

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 8, 1867.

NO. 179.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

Members of the Legislature of North Carolina—Session 1866-'67.

SENATE.

1st district—Pasquotank and Perquimans Dr.
2nd district—Cumberland and Currituck—Wilson D. Ferguson.

3rd district—Gates and Chowan—J. H. Wiley.

4th district—Tyrrell and Hertford—Jones Spencer.

5th district—Northampton—J. C. Edwards.

6th district—Hertford—John L. Morris.

7th district—David Outlaw.

8th district—Martin and Washington—J. E. Moore.

9th district—Halifax—M. L. Wiggins.

10th district—Edgecombe and Wilson—Henry T. Koonce.

11th district—C. P. Perkins.

12th district—Deacons—Josephus Craven.

13th district—Mathias E. Manly.

14th district—Carteret and Jones—Calvin D. Koonce.

15th district—Green and Lenior—J. H. Coward.

16th district—New Hanover—D. H. Hall.

17th district—Pender—James B. Eggers.

18th district—Bladen, Brunswick and Columbus—Salter Lloyd.

19th district—Cumberland and Harnett—Archibald McLean.

20th district—Sampson—John C. Williams.

21st district—Wayne—J. H. Peacock.

22d district—Edenton—Thomas D. Head.

23d district—Wake—Willis D. Jones.

24th district—Nash—J. N. B. Battle.

25th district—Franklin—Washington Hartness.

26th district—Granville—John Bulluck.

27th district—Pender—John Cunningham.

28th district—Orange—John Berry.

29th district—Alamance and Randolph—M. S. Hart.

30th district—Stanley and Cabarrus—Mr. Marcellus.

31st district—Rowan and Davie—Robert F. Johnson.

32d district—Davidson—J. M. Leach.

33d district—Stokes and Forsyth—J. E. Mathews.

34th district—Ashe—A. C. Cowles.

35th district—Iredell, Wilkes and Alexander J. H. Hill.

36th district—Burke, Swain and Avery—J. A. Clegg.

37th district—Lincoln, Gaston and Caldwell—M. L. McCorkle.

38th district—Rutherford, Polk and Cleveland—J. W. Thompson.

39th district—Buncombe, Henderson, Ac., L. S. Gash.

40th district—Buncombe, Henderson, Ac., J. R. Love Jr.

41st district—Rowan and Davie—Robert F. Johnson.

42d district—Davidson—J. M. Leach.

43d district—Stokes and Forsyth—J. E. Mathews.

44th district—Ashe—A. C. Cowles.

45th district—Iredell, Wilkes and Alexander J. H. Hill.

46th district—Burke, Swain and Avery—J. A. Clegg.

47th district—Lincoln, Gaston and Caldwell—M. L. McCorkle.

48th district—Rutherford, Polk and Cleveland—J. W. Thompson.

49th district—Buncombe, Henderson, Ac., L. S. Gash.

50th district—Haywood, Macon, Ac., J. R. Love Jr.

51st district—Franklin—Capt. Joseph J. Davis.

52d district—DeWitt Clinton—Dr. W. H. Lee.

53d district—Granville—W. H. Jenkins, H. Freeman.

54th district—Fayetteville—Dr. F. C. Williams.

55th district—John H. Corbett.

56th district—John S. Cameron, F.

57th district—Simon Cameron, F.

58th district—Rhode Island—J. W. Lovell.

59th district—Wm. H. Mullings.

60th district—John H. Johnson.

61st district—Vacancy.

62d district—Vacancy.

63d district—John H. Johnson.

64th district—Vacancy.

65th district—Vacancy.

66th district—Vacancy.

67th district—Vacancy.

68th district—Vacancy.

69th district—Vacancy.

70th district—Vacancy.

71st district—Vacancy.

72d district—Vacancy.

73d district—Vacancy.

74th district—Vacancy.

75th district—Vacancy.

76th district—Vacancy.

77th district—Vacancy.

78th district—Vacancy.

79th district—Vacancy.

80th district—Vacancy.

81st district—Vacancy.

82d district—Vacancy.

83d district—Vacancy.

84th district—Vacancy.

85th district—Vacancy.

86th district—Vacancy.

87th district—Vacancy.

88th district—Vacancy.

89th district—Vacancy.

90th district—Vacancy.

91st district—Vacancy.

92d district—Vacancy.

93d district—Vacancy.

94th district—Vacancy.

95th district—Vacancy.

96th district—Vacancy.

97th district—Vacancy.

98th district—Vacancy.

99th district—Vacancy.

100th district—Vacancy.

101st district—Vacancy.

102d district—Vacancy.

103d district—Vacancy.

104th district—Vacancy.

105th district—Vacancy.

106th district—Vacancy.

107th district—Vacancy.

108th district—Vacancy.

109th district—Vacancy.

110th district—Vacancy.

111th district—Vacancy.

112th district—Vacancy.

113th district—Vacancy.

114th district—Vacancy.

115th district—Vacancy.