VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 13, 1867. NO. 183.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

Wednesday Evening, March 13, 1867.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

The Course of the South--Its Duty and its Power to Check Radicalism--Effect of Conforming to the Sherman Bill, etc.

WASHINGTON, March 11, 1867.

I have yet to meet among those who are friends to the South (and they are not few in this District) a single individual who counsels resistance to the terms which are now offered the non-represented States. A conformity to the provisions of the measure tendered them is urged as the most complete check to the career of radicalism that can be made. That party lives on what its members please to style "advancement"; but now they have advanced to a point beyond which (if they are met by the South in the way best suited to protect its welfare, and that is by adopting the plan of reconstruction now on the statute books,) they dare not go. It is very true that there are parties who will upon no condition admit southern representatives until after the next presidential election, and these politicians would be heartily glad if the act of Congress should be rejected, as they would then have a better excuse for their conduct; but these are in a minority, and any disposition to reject any State after the requirements of the Sherman bill are complied with will raise a great commotion in the Radical party. I have heard this asserted by prominent representative Radicals, and it may be set down that just so soon as the States south of the Potomac have complied strictly with all of the provisions of the Sherman bill, without leaving a loophole for cries of inconsistency, that moment the strength of the great dominant party commences a rapid ebb. That the people of the South will treat the situation in the proper manner, no one with whom I have conversed on the subject presumes to doubt.

There is as yet no certainty as to when Congress will adjourn, but the general impression seems to be that it will not be much under a fortnight, and that then it will be until autumn, if not until the first Monday in December. In that instance, impeachment will be an entirely dead letter. TIMON.

The United States and France.

Minister Dix has addressed a letter to Secretary Seward, dated Paris, February 19, 1867, enclosing a translation of the facts of the annual "Exposition of the condition of the French Empire," presented by the government to the Senate and Corps Legislatiff, relating to the United States and Mexico, from which we make the annexed extracts:

"No subject of disagreement exists at this moment between the two countries; on the contrary everything is contributing more and more to bring them nearer to each other in their policy. His Majesty has received, on a recent occasion, the assurance of sentiments of friendship which were expressed to him in the name of the United States, and which correspond perfectly with our own feelings.

We need not recur at this time to the necessity which caused us to undertake the expedition to Mexico. We sought redress of grievances of every description, and denials of justice from which our people had suffered for many years, and animated by that generous sentiment which will always induce France to render her intervention useful wherever she shall be led to carry her arms, we did not refuse to unite in an attempt at regeneration by which all interests would have profited; but in lending its interests to this work the government of the Emperor had assigned beforehand a limit to its sacrifices, and the Emperor had fixed the end of the present year as the extreme term of our military occupation. The evacuation was to have been made in three detachments, the first leaving in the month of November, 1866, the second in March, and the third in November, 1867. These arrangements, conformable to our own previous intentions, had been made in the fullness of our liberty of action. Anything which had partaken of the nature of external pressure could only have placed us in the position, in spite of ourselves, of prolonging a state of things which we wished to abridge. Reasons, arising out of our military situation, determined the Emperor to modify the first arrangement by substituting for a partial evacuation, at succeeding periods of time, the simultaneous transportation home of our whole corps d'armee in the Spring of the present year. These measures are now in a course of execution, and during the month of March next our troops will have left Mexico. Far from desiring to free itself from engagements which it has contracted on its own account, the Government of the Emperor will thus hasten their fulfilment.

WHAT DID MARY SAY?—During the trial of one Cogzell, for kidnapping, which took place lately at Hillsborough, N. C., an incident occurred which created considerable fun at the expense of wigs and counsel. A Miss Sloan was testifying, and was requested to state all that she knew about a certain transaction. Witness: "I was in a sitting-room, when Mary came from the kitchen hurriedly, and Cogsell after her. He caught hold of her at the sitting-room door, and said: "Mary, you have been here long enough; come and go home now." "What did Mary say?" Attorney for State: "Stop there; I object to the question." Here a discussion took place, in which four lawyers participated; after which the judges held a long, serious, and excited discussion on the subject, and finally, in a very formal and pompous manner, stated that it was the opinion of the court that the question should be answered. The court-room was crowded almost to suffocation, and the most intense interest was manifested at this stage of the proceedings. The question was repeated: "What did Mary say?" and the witness answered: "She didn't say a word!"—Spartanburg (S. C.) Express.

PIUS IX. is the two hundred and fifty seventh Pontiff who has sat in St. Peter's chair. He is now seventy-five years old, and has been Pope for twenty-one years.

A man named Douglas, on Saturday waved a flag from an upper window of a hotel in Providence, shouting, "I am almost there." He meant Heaven, but was taken to the lunatic asylum.

A woman in Chicago, who was divorced from her husband a year and a half ago, has found time to fall in love with another man, and to sue him for a breach of promise.

WE OFFER TO THE PUBLIC THIS CELEbrated Oil, and in doing so we unhesitatingly pronounce it SUPERIOR to ANY BURNING OIL IN USE. It is Non-Explosive. Free from Grease. It will not grease the hands. It will not soil or grease the clothing. It is more brilliant than Gas. It produces a soft and beautiful light. It is not so trying to the eyes. It can be used in any Kerosene Lamp by adopting our LIGHT HOUSE OR RACITCHET BURNERS.

It has been most favorably received, and pronounced by judges to be the

THE BEST AND MOST RELIABLE OIL

now in the market; and in consequence of the many serious accidents arising from the EXPLOSION OF KEROSENE, this Oil is extensively known and used in preference.

We are now prepared to furnish the trade with this valuable Oil, and we solicit from the public an examination and trial.

We have on hand a large stock of

LAMPS, BURNERS, CHIMNEYS, WICKS, &c.,

and can supply the trade on liberal terms.

First Premium Awarded at the Louisiana State Fair held in New Orleans, from Nov. 20 to 27th, 1866, against all Competitors.

(Formerly HATHAWAY & Co., Importers of MOLASSES and SUGAR, Wilmington, N. C.)

Shipping and Commission Merchants,

171 PEARL STREET, NEW YORK.

We solicit consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores, Shootings, Yarns, Tobacco, and other Southern Products, to the sale of which our prompt personal attention will be given. We will make liberal advances upon receipt of Invoice and Bill of Lading. All Merchandize and Produce shipped to us for sale are insured from point of shipment, with or without advice, unless we should always accompany each shipment.

Both of us having had over twenty years experience in business in the South, and our J. L. HATHAWAY three years in New York, we feel confident we can secure full prices for our friends who will favor us with their consignments.
