

ATTEN OF ADVERTISING.
Advertisements will be inserted in the Daily...
Each additional square week... $1.00

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.
Regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners held this evening...
Wm. D. Haywood, Esq., Mayor, presiding.

GENERAL NEWS.
General Beckner was sued in the Chancery Court of Kentucky by the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the destruction of the Green River bridge...

TELEGRAPHIC.
Friday Evening Dispatches.
THE PRESIDENT.
Friday, June 28, M.
The President has passed the new train bill...

SPECIAL NOTICES.
KNOW THY DESTINY.
MADAME E. E. THOMPSON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrist...

DRY GOODS.
ARRIVED AT LAST.
T. Ellis & Son's New French Cash Merino, Fine French Cash Ostrich...

DRY GOODS.
S. H. & W. J. YOUNG, AT THE OLD STAND OF S. H. YOUNG.
ARE now receiving from the South a large and well selected stock of the most desirable and fashionable...

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The attention of parties interested is called to the Court advertisements from Washington county...

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
Sundry persons applied to the Board for a reduction of their taxes. Their communications were read, and on motion of Mr. J. J. Overby, they were referred to the following ordinance...

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
The following are the school districts in this county for the year 1867-68:
1. The school district of the City of Richmond, Va., containing 12,000 persons had died.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
The following are the school districts in this county for the year 1867-68:
1. The school district of the City of Richmond, Va., containing 12,000 persons had died.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
The following are the school districts in this county for the year 1867-68:
1. The school district of the City of Richmond, Va., containing 12,000 persons had died.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
The following are the school districts in this county for the year 1867-68:
1. The school district of the City of Richmond, Va., containing 12,000 persons had died.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
The following are the school districts in this county for the year 1867-68:
1. The school district of the City of Richmond, Va., containing 12,000 persons had died.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
MAYOR'S COURT.—J. Maroon, white, and Matthew Freeman, colored, charged with being engaged in an affray, were fined $10 each.
Mary Foster, colored, charged with assaulting Betty Edwards, colored, was fined $5.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.

THE SENTINEL.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1867.
THE MANNER OF THE MAN.
General Sheridan's dispatch of the 22d to Gen. Grant, detailing military orders and the registration in Louisiana, is a novel exhibition, not only of military discipline and subordination, but of the delicacy of office. In such form of communication as any one else would regard as an order, (says the Baltimore Sun) it is suggested to him by his superior officer to extend the registration in Louisiana to the Republics leaders, and not to Gen. Grant. If officers of the army may, with impunity, question the orders of their superiors, and even make a display of contempt, by telegraphing to the country, there must be an utter subordination of all military discipline. Even worse than this is the virtual recognition, by General Sheridan, of the leaders of a party as superiors to whom he is to report, as well as to his commanding officer, and whose approval is to be courted rather than that of his military chief.