VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 31, 1867. NO. 302.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. R. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

"NOJOQUE."

Helper, the author of "Nojoque," has sent to the New York World the following communication:

SIR: May I correct, through the columns of the World, a few items of the very unwarrantable misrepresentation which some of the newspapers are now making in reference to my new book? In the first place, the designation of the work as "Black Book," is, I contend, a positive misnomer. An exactly opposite or contrary designation would certainly be much more in accordance with the truth. This will be sufficiently apparent when I tell you that the work contains two chapters (among others), one of which is headed "Black, A Thing of Ugliness, Disease and Death," and the other "White, A Thing of Life, Health, and Beauty," and further, that it was a part of the contract with my publisher, that no copy of the book should ever be bound in black. You will readily perceive, therefore, that with more correctness, perhaps, than could be used in regard to any other work that has ever been published in this or any other country, "Nojoque" might be designated or described as a White Book.

It is not true that I was recalled from my Consulship in Buenos Ayres. More than two years ago I voluntarily resigned that office. Between the party now in power and myself there is this difference: While they have degenerated from their nationa) and constitutional character as Republicans, and have become Radicals, and are sectional, I am still a Republican—a white Republican—and am not sectional.

There is no truth whatever in the statement that I was ever an advocate or champion of any black thing—certainly of no animated black thing; for the few black things that possess excellent qualities, are all inanimate. I have always maintained, and still maintain, that we shall have at the South great States, like you have here at the North, only when our States there, like yours here, shall be peopled exclusively, or in a manner exclusively, by white men, white women, and white children. On these subjects, the old line abolitionists and myself always disagreed.

I was quite as strenuously opposed to negro citizenship, negro suffrage, negro testimony, negro jurors, and negro generally, in 1857 as I am in 1867. I then, in my "Impending Crisis of the South," gave unreserved expression to my dislike of both slavery and negroes; and now, in my "Nojoque," negroes and slavery have been portrayed and denounced as the chief objects of my displeasure. I believe I was right then; and I believe I am right now. Certain it is that there has been no change in my views, and that no inconsistency of essay or statement can be pointed out or shown as existing in or between the two books here mentioned. Abundant evidence of this fact is furnished in the eighth chapter of "Nojoque," which is headed, and which embraces, "Thirteen Kindred Pages from "The Impending Crisis of the South."

Bad as slavery was, it was not slavery alone that retarded the Southern States.—The negro race itself, was, and is, the very basis of our backwardness throughout all the South. Under slavery, the negro race increased so fast as to cause, at times, serious apprehensions that the gloomy and deleterious pall of blackness would soon be spread over the entire Southern half of our continent. Under the most just and beneficial operations of freedom, the black and bi colored inhabitants of our country are gradually yielding (and ought not, in any way, to be hindered or restrained from yielding) their unworthily-filled places to the whites, who are, in every respect, infinitely superior and better, and therefore far more desirable. It seems to me that, as a matter of simple fairness and justice to the whites, and also as a matter of proper concern for the welfare of others, we ought to find for the blacks a home somewhere beyond the present limits of the United States.

Those who have ascribed to me the origin of the title of my new book are mistaken.—I got the word on the Pacific coast of our possessions, at least sixteen years ago, and it is there descriptive of a thing of great value.

HINTON ROWAN HELPER.

New York, July 22, 1867.

THIRTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS.

This is the estimate for carrying on the military governments in the Southern dukedoms during the next fiscal year. The estimate is based upon information received at the Treasury Department, and may, therefore, be relied upon.

As actual expenditures usually exceed estimates in advance, it would not be surprising if the sum total should run up to forty millions of dollars before the year is out.

Now, this money is taken out of the pockets of the people for no earthly purpose but to keep the Republican party in power. Not one nickel cent of it is needed to support the Government, for the Government does not need the support of the dukes, nor the dukedoms. These Southern people can and will govern themselves, if the Radicals will only give them a chance.

The military is no more necessary to maintain order, nor to execute the laws, now, in Louisiana, Carolina, or Virginia, than in New York or New England. Hence, we repeat, these thirty-five or forty millions of dollars is just so much of an electioneering fund to keep the Southern States out of the Union, and to keep the Butlers, Stevenses, and Kelleys in power, at least until after the next Presidential election, when they expect a lease of power and plunder for four years longer.

If this money came out of the pockets of the Radicals themselves, there would be less cause for complaint; but as Democrats and men who never voted for a Republican in their lives have to pay their proportion, the operation presents the completion of a positive swindle. Still, it is a swindle that must be submitted to, until the masses of the people, tired of supporting these dukedoms, and tired of being taxed for the maintenance of the most wicked faction with which a great country was ever afflicted, rise in their might and sweep the whole concern away.

The best beginning to that end is to prepare for the fall elections. If we can whip the Jacobins as well as they deserve to be whipped, this autumn, they will want more than thirty-five millions to enable them again to cheat into the Presidential chair a man after their own heart.

Meanwhile the $35,000,000 is just so much to be added to house-rent, food, fuel, and clothing, so much subtracted from wages and salaries. The high tariff and big bounty lords will not feel the burthen any more than the dukes in the military dependencies; but it will fall with crushing weight, as usual, upon those who are the least able to bear it—the workingman, the mechanic, the day laborer, the artisan, the farmer, the salaried clerk, the man of small incomes, and others of all that class.—New York Express.

RECONSTRUCTION,—SUPPLEMENTAL BILL NO. 2.

PASSED AT THE JULY SESSION.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it is hereby declared to have been the true intent and meaning of the act of the second day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, entitled an act for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and of the act supplementary thereto, passed on the 24th. day of March, in the year 1867, that the governments then existing in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas were illegal and void, and thereafter the same governments, if continued, were to be continued subject in all respects to the military commanders of the respective Districts and to the authority of Congress.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the commander of any district named in said act shall have power, subject to the approval of the General of the armies of the United States, to have effect till disapproved, whenever in the opinion of such commander the proper administration of said act shall require it, to suspend or remove from office, or from the performance of official duties and the exercise of official powers, any officer or person holding or exercising, or professing to hold or exercise, any civil or military office or duty in such district, under any power, election, appointment, or authority derived from or granted by, or claimed under any so-called State or the government thereof, or any municipal or other division thereof, and upon such suspension or removal such commander, subject to the approval of the General aforesaid, shall have the power to provide from time to time for the performance of the said duties of such officer or person so suspended or removed, by the detail of some competent officer or soldier of the army or by the appointment of some other person to perform the same, and to fill vacancies occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise.

SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That the General of the armies of the United States shall be invested with all the powers of suspension, removal, appointment and detail granted in the preceding section to district commanders.

SECTION 4. And be it further enacted, That the acts of the officers of the army already done in removing in said districts persons exercising the functions of civil officers and appointing others in their stead are hereby approved, and any acts done by officers heretofore or hereafter appointed by any district commander to exercise the functions of any civil office may be removed, either by the military officer in command of the district or by the General of the army; and it shall be the duty of commanders to remove from office, as aforesaid, all persons who are disloyal to the government of the United States, or who use their official influence in any manner to hinder, delay, prevent or obstruct the due and proper administration of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the boards of registration provided for in the act entitled "an act supplementary to an act entitled 'an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,'" passed March 2, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, before allowing the registration of any person, to ascertain upon such facts or information as they can obtain, whether such person is entitled to be registered under said act, and the oath required by said act shall not be conclusive on such question, and no person shall be registered unless such board shall decide that he is entitled thereto; and such board shall also have power to examine under oath (to be administered by any member of such board) any one touching the qualification of any person claiming registration. But in every case of a refusal by the board to register an applicant, made in every case hereinafter provided, the board shall make a note or memorandum, which shall be returned with the registration list to the commanding Generals of the Districts, setting forth the ground of such refusal, or such striking from the list: Provided, that no person shall be disqualified, as a member of any board of registration, by reason of race or color.

SECTION 6. And be it further enacted, That the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed in said supplementary act is (among other things) that no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State or who has held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and whether he was holding such office at the commencement of the rebellion or had held it before, and who has afterward engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, is entitled to be registered or to vote; and the words "executive or judicial office in any State" in said oath mentioned shall be construed to include all civil offices created by law for the administration of the general law of the State, or for the administration of justice.

SECTION 7. And be it further enacted, That the time for completing the original registration provided for in said act may, in the discretion of the commander of any district, be extended to the 1st. day of October, 1867; and the boards of registration shall have power, and it shall be their duty, commencing fourteen days prior to any election under said act, and upon reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of three days the registration lists; and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered, to strike the name of such person from the list. And such board shall also during the same period, add to such registry the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said act who have not been already registered, and no person shall at any time be entitled to be registered or to vote by reason of any executive pardon or amnesty for any act or thing which, without such pardon or amnesty, would disqualify him from registration or voting.

SECTION 8. And be it further enacted, That section 4 of the said last-named act shall be construed to authorize the commanding general named therein, whenever he shall deem it needful, to remove any member of a board of registration, and to appoint another person in his stead, and to fill any vacancy in such board.

SECTION 9. That all members of said Boards of Registration and all persons hereafter elected or appointed to office in said military districts, under any so-called State or municipal authority or by detail or appointment of the District Commanders, shall be required to take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

SECTION 10. That no District Commander or member of the Board of Registration or any of the officers or appointees acting under them shall be bound in his action by any opinion of any civil officer of the United States.

SECTION 11. That all the provisions of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary, shall be construed liberally, to the end that all the intents thereof may be fully and perfectly carried out.
