THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

Our Richmond Correspondence.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 29.

Dear Sentinel:—Our city is all astir this week, for Robinson's Circus and Menagerie has arrived in all its pomp and pageantry. Its procession through our streets was magnificent. Little and big, white and black, crowded the canvass last night, and all seemed highly amused and entertained, pronouncing it the best Circus that has ever visited Richmond. The Equestrianism, tight-rope performance, sayings of the witty clowns, and all, were excellent. To particularize, we may mention, especially, the daring acts of horsemanship by a negro boy, apparently not over 15 years old, who is said to have been born in Charlestown, Va., and afterwards carried to the State of Mississippi and sold to Mr. Joe Davis, a brother of our late honored President, and whose skill was discovered by the proprietors of this Circus, and cultivated somewhat. He now bids fair to excel, in the art of bare-back riding, any performer in the country. It was amusing to see how the negroes enjoyed his different feats and the vociferous applause elicited whenever "Mr. Henry Willis, the African Equestrian," appeared in the ring.

Several side shows, of course, are along, and the same "feller," (with the organs in side) in his stentorian voice, is proclaiming, "Here's your fat woman." "This way to see the man "swallow the sword." "Right along to see the educated hog, Riley, sir." This latter is worth seeing. He is surely trained well, and is quite a wonder. On our entrance Riley and a visitor were playing a game of "Euchre;" the hog, of course, somewhat assisted by his trainer in the way of punching to tell him which card to play, &c. The visitor won the game, when the trainer said to Riley, "its nothing to beat a hog, is it, Riley?" when Mr. Piggie gave a shake of the head, with an audible grunt, "no."

Robinson is going South and will soon be in Raleigh with his "bill sticker," and, no great while thereafter, with his show.

In the way of amusements, this fall and winter, the new Richmond Theatre is to be opened in September, Mr. R B. Ogden as Manager, with a fine stock company, and the public are promised many of the most celebrated actors and actresses of the country, including among them Madame Ristori. By the way, without positively being informed, we should suppose that arrangements could easily be accomplished, during "lulls" here, to have Ristori, or any others of those expected and shortly to be announced, pay the "City of Oaks" a flying trip, now that you have "Tucker Hall" completed, and such a Hall, with a Raleigh appreciative audience, could be nothing but pleasant to all.

Quite a scene occurred, a few evenings since, at Grand Mogul Hunnicutt's head quarters, the New Nation office. It seems it was pay-day for the hands employed on this sheet, and Hunnicutt's treasury not being over full for some time, they have (a majority of them of the African persuasion and color) not been regularly paid up. Now everybody wonders, as they, the negroes, said, "how we gwine to work for you, Mistur Hunnicutt, and you don't pay us, and you selling so many papers round town, too. How we going to lib, feed our children, wives, &c." They made various other demands upon this old ——, until it's reported old H., being fired up with a pint or so of the "Craythur," fairly roared with rage, and it is said used profane language to an extent not common with those wearing the white cravat; telling his employees that his finances were in a deplorable condition and that a man without money couldn't pay. However, a call was that evening made, and a meeting held, composed, of course, of all the low mean whites and of the same class of negroes. The object of the meeting, as afterwards leaked out, (mind you, the reporters were all excluded,) was to devise means for the support of this aforesaid dirty sheet; and after a huge speech from old Hunnicutt, of considerable length, his proposition was finally carried. It was this: That each negro voter should contribute 25 cents per month for the support of the New Nation. This, in addition to recent Congressional "pap," will float the old pirate clear of the breakers. Hunnicutt has an inventive brain, to say the least; especially for gulling the foolish negroes, all of whom look upon him as one of the gods.

We would like to sketch him for you, but too much time would be uselessly employed. He is the meanest looking critture (save one, perhaps,) we have ever met with.

The Tredegar Iron Works, of Confederate cannon notoriety, in our late war, are now performing large amounts of work for the different Rail Roads, South, giving employment to great numbers of hands. Gen. J. R. Anderson is its President still, as of yore. Its work chiefly, now, is moulding car wheels, rails, re-rolling old rails, making chains, spikes, &c; and its daily shipments are very extensive.

Three small iron steamers are near completion at these Works, intended for the oyster inspection for the State of Virginia. They will be of light draft, so as to ascend any of the various Creeks, collecting that tax which has been hitherto evaded by those from other States, oystering in her waters. They are expected to be quite fast and a source of much revenue—reflecting great credit upon the "Tredegar."

It will be interesting to the travellers, North, to state that the city connections between Rail Roads of both Richmond and Petersburg have been completed, and passengers proceed from Weldon, N. C. to Acquia Creek without a change of cars, and vice versa; of course, only making stoppages at Petersburg and Richmond a few moments, with a change only of conductors and engines at each place.

Richmond trade seems to be brightening up and getting livelier as the fall approaches. The girls with their pretty little short walking dresses, and the boys, with their dittoes, toilet coats, are at this time crowding our principal streets.

Everything looks gay and happy, even if "Reid is up" and Grant and old Andy are about to "mix."

GRAPHO.

The Petersburg Index is authorized to state that Dr. Beckwith has not formally accepted the Bishopric of Georgia. Dr. B. left Petersburg on Monday, and will return in a short time to his charge in New Orleans.

With regard to the mention of Stanton for the Presidency, the New Haven Register says that with Conover for Secretary of State, he might run well, for a short pull.
