LIGHTENING THE SHIP.

The Republicans are acting like mariners in a heavy tempest, who pitch overboard a great cargo to save the ship and crew. The first bale of freight tumbled into the sea was the liquor law in Massachusetts. All the prohibitory laws in that State have been Republican measures, advocated by Republican papers and stump speakers, passed by Republican Legislatures, executed by Republican constables, and opposed by Democratic speeches, votes, law-suits, invective and ridicule. But the Republican State Convention, warned by the sudden fall of the barometer, have declared that the Republican party must not be considered responsible for the liquor law; trying to save their ship by heaving it over, with some dim hope that it will float of itself.

The next valuable piece of freight that is to be flung into the devouring waves, is the Constitutional Convention of this State.—The calling of the Convention was a Republican movement. No Democrat desired or favored it. But since the Maine and California elections, the Convention is seen to be too heavy for the Republican ship, and although it has been decided by a caucus not to sacrifice it, it is nevertheless certain to go. The vessel careens so dangerously when this heavy incumbrance is carried to the edge of the dock, that there is nearly as much peril in casting it over as in keeping it on board; but over it will go, even if at the stern.

Even that precious part of the cargo, negro suffrage in this State, must go where Jonah went in the voyage to Nineveh; but it is doubtful if any compassionate monster will give it a subaqueous passage and vomit it up on dry land. It may be said that negro suffrage will be necessarily lost with the failure of the Convention. But this is not so. The article containing it was long ago completed, and the Democrats will generously propose to submit it at once, as a separate amendment. In the stress of political weather, the Republicans will not dare to do this; so urgent is their necessity of lightening the ship. They will, of course, contrive all sort of plausible excuses; but whatever may be their excuse for not submitting it, the real reason will be that they are scared by the certainty of its defeat.

The impeachment of President Johnson is another part of the Republican cargo that is destined to go overboard. Although the President has more boldly confronted and defied them since Congress adjourned than ever before, we shall hear little more about his impeachment, and that little will be fainter and fainter. The party is getting seriously alarmed, and the more discreet of its journals are warning and exhorting it against raising or reviving any issues on which the party is not a unit. All such warnings are, of course, signal-guns of distress.

GALVESTON, TEXAS.—A Federal officer at Galveston writes as follows:

"As to this city, there is no language adequate to describe the fearful reality. September is destined to prove its extreme results. Yesterday, and the day previous, each thirty-two deaths from yellow fever, and to-day, with the wind from the south, which to the afflicted brings not healing, but death on its wings, a large number of the thousands who are sick must die. It is said that over five thousand persons have had the disease, and that there is no day now when there is not at least fifteen hundred sick. The city is really 'a place of sickness and death.' There is nothing more appalling than the condition of things here. The groans of the dying on the battlefield are not more agonizing than the moanings of the sick and dying here. It is simply impossible to give a correct idea, and equally impossible for the medical and charitable associations to render anything like the necessary attention to the sick and dying. The Howard Association, the Charity hospitals, the Masons and Odd Fellows have exhausted treasure, time, and energy, and are now almost at their wits' end. Aid cannot come with requisite speed—sympathy is useless unaccompanied with material aid. Nursing and attention are far more necessary, and fraught with more beneficial results than even the physician's skill. Remittances to the Howard Association will be received with weeping gratitude by the suffering and their friends. Something must be done immediately for relief. Stores have been closed for weeks with none to furnish the needy. Many who have means have offered all for nursing and attention, while many who have nothing die for want of attention. A new cemetery, just opened, is already crowded; and the city of Galveston is doomed, with no hope for actual relief until cold weather, which in this latitude is in November or later. May the kindly disposed, who have abundance, give of their means. It will be casting 'bread upon the waters,' and 'after many days' they may 'find it.'"

MILITARY ORATORY.—In Washington, Monday night, Generals Sheridan, Hancock, and Sickles were serenaded at their respective hotels. In reply to a complimentary address, General Sheridan said:

"I sincerely thank you for this very earnest welcome, and shall always recollect the occurrence of to-night. The thought will give me a great deal of pleasure and pride. I feel greatly honored, especially as a portion of this assembly is composed of gallant officers and soldiers. I return again my thanks."

General Hancock responded to the address in his honor as follows:

"In going to a new field of duty, it will be a matter of pleasure and relief to know that I carry with me the sympathies, good wishes, and confidence of my old comrades in arms. I therefore, have to thank you, soldiers, for this ovation which will tend to lighten the burden of care which may follow me in the performance of the arduous and delicate duties of a district Commander in the Southern States."

General Sickles, being more politician than soldier, spoke at considerable length, defending Congress in placing the Southern States under military rule, and applauding the action of the Commandants of those States. In rehearsing the benefits that had been derived by the communities from this rule, it must be confessed that he got upon delicate ground when, in sight of the scene of the Key tragedy, he ventured to say "the mischievous practice of carrying weapons, that baneful source of affrays and disorder in Southern communities, has been suppressed."—Richmond Whig.

NEGROES GOING TO OHIO TO VOTE.—The Memphis Avalanche has information from several responsible gentlemen, who happened to be at the State line upon different days, that they found there from thirteen to fifteen cars filled with blacks who had been brought from Alabama, Georgia South Carolina and Southern Tennessee, and were going northward. A majority of them did not know where they were going to, but said the "Board was sending them some whar to vote." Some of the more intelligent ones said they were going to Ohio for that purpose. They were to go through Louisville without stopping, and all their expenses were to be paid by the Freedmen's Bureau. They were to vote as they were told, and were assured that the Bureau would take care of them and see to their getting farms for doing as they were directed. This is a fair specimen of the manner in which the people's money is squandered by the reckless Radical politicians, who swarm in the South under the guise of Freedmen's Bureau agents.
