LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1868.

THE STATE ELECTION.

ONslow.—This county, with a registered white majority of only 77, given over 400 majority against the carpet-bag Constitution, and elects the entire Conservative ticket. Right polly done!

FRANKLIN.—The official majority in favor of the Black-Cook Constitution, in this county, is 196. We hear that the scalawags put upon their county ticket, without authority or consent, the names of five or six gentlemen, all of whom voted the Conservative ticket.

TYRRELL.—Majority against the Mongrel Constitution 157, and entire Conservative county ticket elected. R. J. Jarvis, Esq., is the member elected of the House of Representatives.

CALDWELL.—This county (official) give 310 majority against the infamous Constitution. Col. Jas. C. Harper is elected to the House, and E. W. Jones, Esq., is probably elected to the Senate from the District of Caldwell, Burke and Watauga, though we have no advices from the latter county. No county in the State is more creditably represented than Caldwell.

GATES.—Majority (official) against the Kowles Constitution 292, and the entire Conservative county ticket elected, as heretofore announced.

CLEVELAND.—This county gives only 222 majority against the infamous Constitution. Mr. Ashe leads Holden 253. Capt. Plato Durham is elected to the House of Representatives and the full Conservative county ticket chosen.

ASHE AND SURRY are reported to have gone Conservative by small majorities, Watauga, Yadkin and Alleghany Radical by very small majorities, and Polk, Rutherford and Wilkes Radical by large majorities.

THE LEGISLATURE.—As far as heard from eleven Conservative Senators and thirty-seven Conservative members of the House of Representatives have been elected.

B. B.—Our readers have read, we doubt not, with profit and pleasure, the able letters of our excellent Washington correspondent, B. B. We hope to be favored with them throughout the summer. They evince an acquaintance with political matters, a vigor of thought and a loftiness of tone that highly commend them.

THE RADICALS, you are beginning to warm Raleigh-wards. Among other arrivals, we notice the pale bulk of the delegation from Granville—Jno. W. Ragland and R. W. Lassiter. French, of Washington City, has been on hand for several days—Chickie Guster and Silas Burn have left, Congleton and Hoffer have passing engagements at home. It is confidently expected that Cuffus Mayo will soon be on hand, or he may write an epistle.

EDUCATIONAL AND LITERARY.—The annual Sermon before the Senior Class of Wake Forest College, at the approaching Commencement, will be preached by the Rev. W. Hooper, D. D. The address before the Alumni will be delivered by the Rev. A. McDowell, D. D.

The Consecration of Louisburg Female College will take place on the last Thursday in May.

On Tuesday evening of the same week, Rev. Wm. H. Bobbitt will preach the annual Sermon.

On Wednesday, Maj. Seaton Gales, of this City, will deliver the Literary Address—Concert at night.

NEW BEGINS.—Messrs. Williams and Lambeth, Book-sellers of this city, have laid on our table the following School books, forwarded to us by the publishers, Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co., New York:

Williams' Readable Dictionary.—This is a volume of nearly 100 pages, in which several thousand words in the language are classified, with brief but appropriate definitions attached. The arrangement appears to be a good one. The words selected pertain to science, morals, &c.

A Summary of English and French History.—This is a very brief compend—too brief to be of any value to young students of history. It may serve well to revive the recollection of the historical student, as the head-line of a page indicate the subject treated of.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—N. C. Fish or consignment.—No. 1 Shad and Gross, Cut and Roe Herrings; Coward & Harbin, Commission Merchants, 26 Commerce St., Norfolk.

Hardware, Cutlery, Carriage Materials, Household Furnishing Goods, Mill Stones, Gentry, Furniture Iron Work, &c., &c.; Thos. H. Brigg, Fayetteville St., Raleigh.

W. Robt. Andrew, Family Grocer and Provision Dealer, Fayetteville Street, makes a variety of attractive announcements. He has one of the most complete establishments in the South, containing everything that is good, edible and drinkable.

OUR AFTERNOON Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON—MR. NELSON PROBABLY AFRAID TO TRUST "SPONS."

Washington, April 29, 1868.

In the House, a resolution was offered to print 500 copies of each of the Southern Constitutions. In the Court of Impeachment, Sumner moved to censure Mr. Nelson for language towards Butler likely to provoke a duel. Several objections were made.

Mr. Nelson produced letters, dated March 9, with Butler's and Logan's signatures, regarding Alia Vira.

Butler refused to see the letters.

Mr. Nelson desired some pledge that they would be returned.

Judge Chase made some objection, when Mr. Nelson said he would prefer depositing them with the Secretary of the Senate who could show them to Butler.

Here the matter stopped and Mr. Garrison proceeded.

OUR MIDNIGHT Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON—IMPEACHMENT AND OTHER MATTERS.

Washington, April 29, 1868.

Mrs. Editors.—Accident came in my way the Standard, of April 27th, and I noticed it. To all whom it may concern, at first transportation from "Scallawag," Late Carpet Baggers." Since it concerns me very much, allow me to answer it through your excellent and wide-spread paper.

To leave my native State, dear old North Carolina, should W. W. Holden ever be elected to her gubernatorial chair, has been my resolution of ten years standing— "Scallawag" takes for granted his election, and offers for him, on application, on and after the 15th, of June next, to Col. C. L. Harris, free transportation for all of like sentiment to any point in the direction of "Hell or Roaring." He being the Chief of the Roaring to those points, has a perfect right to grant transportation.

However, I cannot avail myself of his kind offer, for myself and family, for two reasons. First, in leaving the State, my principal desire is to be rid of W. W. Holden and his partisans; in going to the former place, I would certainly meet him. Secondly, no disposition to improve my acquaintance with the Nutmeg State amates my soul. Thanks to W. W. Holden, I bear his kindness. My husband, knowing the mean, groveling, vindictive feelings of the man, and his influence over his colored brethren, considered his election among the might be, and has already gone in search of a home for his family. Too poor to sacrifice real estate, we cannot leave by the 15th of June, unless W. W. Holden comes to our rescue.

Can buy our valuable home in His Majesty, LADY OF NORTH CAROLINA.
