THE RADICAL PLATFORM.

The following is the platform adopted by the Radicals at the late Convention at Chicago. We do not call it a platform of principles, for the reason that it is devoid of principles, and is a mere demagogical ruse of what may or may not be the partisan measure of the Radical party. It is really an "omnibus bill," designed to take in every body who can be deluded, or cajoled or scared into the support of Grant and Colfax. Anything more definite could not have suited Grant, though the intense radical character of Mr. Colfax renders the ticket efficiently radical for the party.

THE PLATFORM.

The National Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Chicago on the 20th day of May, 1868, makes the following declaration of principles:

First. We congratulate the country on the assured success of the Reconstruction project of Congress as evinced by the adoption, in a majority of the States lately in rebellion, of Constitutions securing equal civil and political rights to all, and regard it as the duty of the Government to sustain these institutions and to prevent the people of such States from being reinitiated to a state of anarchy.

Second. The great body of the intelligence and worth of the South, and so acceptable to the zeal, laws and negroes, that they may afford cause of congratulation to each party at the Radical party. In many cases the above resolution asserts a falsehood, when it says that the Southern Constitution secures "equal civil and political rights to all." Thousands of the best men in the South, and many of the best Union men, are hopelessly disfranchised by some of these Constitutions. The practical effect of all the Constitutions adopted, if carried out in the spirit of Radicalism, will most certainly limit the people of those States to a state of anarchy, instead of a free, orderly and republican government.

Third. The success of Reconstruction, therefore, still hangs in doubt. Second. The guarantee by Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude, and of justice, and must be maintained, while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States.

Fourth. It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as national facilities will permit.

Fifth. The national debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption; and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can honestly be done.

Sixth. That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as we remain in a state of partial or total anarchy, or are threatened or expected.

Seventh. The Government of the United States should be maintained, with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so abundantly nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call loudly for a radical reform.

development of resources and increase of power of the nation, the system of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy. Twelfth. This Convention declares its sympathy with all the oppressed people which are struggling for their rights.

We append the following judicious observations of the Baltimore Sun, as according with our own views of the above instrument:

The Sun says: "The platform adopted by the Convention, which is the platform more to be judged by than its candidates, is a string of generalities, being, like many political platforms, a careful avoidance of any distinct enunciation of fundamental principles; not an announcement of what is right, or what those who frame it ought to say, but a work formed by those who look around and ask what is politic, and what strings to pull and what to let alone, which, under other circumstances, they would pull most vigorously."

What necessity is there for a State Convention? Delegates have been appointed to the National Democratic Convention, and that body will give us candidates and a platform. The Executive State Committee have ample powers to select two Electors for the State at large, and arrange everything necessary to conduct a vigorous canvass.

We believe that our Executive Committee should meet at an early date to make preparation for the campaign. When the candidates are announced we should be ready to enter at once, with enthusiasm, into the canvass. This can be done without a Convention. Our people are thoroughly united and ready to do their duty.

We endorse entirely the above views of our excellent contemporary. The formation of Clubs in every County and Captain's District of all the true men of the State, who are opposed to Radicalism and in favor of a White Man's government for this State and for the country at large, is essential to complete organization. We understand every man friendly to a Constitutional Union and the preservation of the rights of the States and of the people, to be opposed to the Radical programme, on principle and conviction, and that, therefore, it is a contest for principle alone, to be waged by every such man, in co-operation with the National Democratic party. Names are therefore of small import in this contest.

The suggestion to call a State Convention we judge wholly unnecessary, and for the reasons suggested by the Journal, not at all essential. Besides, the time is so short it would be a failure and attended with needless expense to those who would attend. The National Democratic Convention meets in New York on the 6th of July next. The delegates to that Convention from this State have all been appointed, and most, if not all, of them will doubtless attend. That body is charged with the duty of selecting candidates and laying down a platform, which, we have good reason to believe, will be fully acceptable to all Conservative men, whether in former times known as Whigs or Democrats.

If a State Convention is deemed advisable at all, the necessity for its meeting would be much stronger after the meeting of the National Convention than before. But, as the Journal very properly suggests, even that would be unnecessary, as the State Executive Committee, already organized, is fully empowered to appoint the Presidential Electors for the State at large.

After all, the great nation is County and neighborhood organization; and the constant efforts of the Clubs to promote the cause. The body of our people who read, and who possess sufficient information to understand the questions at issue, are with us, heart and soul. The most important matter to be accomplished is personal effort to instruct and arouse those who have heretofore been indifferent or who have been misled. Let the best methods be adopted to effect this object and all will be well.

Waynes County jail has twelve prisoners—six white and six negro. This is about the ratio all over the South. This is about the ratio in this State. This is about the ratio in every Southern State. This is about the ratio in every Southern State. This is about the ratio in every Southern State.

One of the Resolutions of the Chicago platform declares sympathy for "all oppressed people who are struggling for their rights." Yet the people of ten States in their own country are groaning under the oppressions visited upon them by this party, and the whole nation is suffering from the evil effects of their disastrous measures.

We observe that, at the Chicago Convention, the proceedings were interspersed with singing. Was Littlefield on hand?

published, with pleasure, the proceedings of the Democratic meeting in Raleigh, and it is to be regretted, as reported by our Standard, that in both respects it was suggested to hold a State Convention in Raleigh on the 15th of June. We have declined to give endorsement to this movement because we did not see the necessity, and believed that unless there was some urgent need for this meeting, that in the impoverished condition of our people, and in the busy season among the farmers, it would prove, if not a failure, in no sense a Convention of the people. Being well convinced that our first ideas were well founded, and hearing of no other response, we cannot yet join with our contemporary of the Star, in a call for a county meeting to appoint delegates.

A GENEVOUS OFFER.—A letter received this morning from Mr. W. C. Clarendon, General Western Passenger Agent for the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, informs us that this Road will pay for all delegates to the Democratic National Convention to meet in New York, July 4th, 1868. Arrangements for passage must be made by the Chairman of the State Central Committee, with J. N. McCallister, Pittsburg, Pa., or to the General Agent, Pittsburg, Pa., or to the General Agent, Pittsburg, Pa.

We hope that an arrangement will be made by the various Railroads in the South, and announced in due time, by which delegates and others, wishing to attend the Convention, may be passed for one fare.

LIFE INSURANCE ITS IMPORTANCE AND ITS BENEFITS ARE INCALCULABLE.

A COMPANY PAYING LOSSES PROMPTLY FOR A LONG SERIES OF YEARS, AND IN A stranger to litigation, is entitled to the confidence and patronage of our people. And such is the paid since its organization, may be added the following policies effected in North Carolina to the 1st of March, 1868, thus providing support and comfort to the widow and orphan in their bereavement and distress:

Policy No. 15,478—settled, $5,000 " 15,479 " " 5,000 " 15,480 " " 5,000 " 15,481 " " 5,000 " 15,482 " " 5,000 " 15,483 " " 5,000 " 15,484 " " 5,000 " 15,485 " " 5,000 " 15,486 " " 5,000 " 15,487 " " 5,000 " 15,488 " " 5,000 " 15,489 " " 5,000 " 15,490 " " 5,000 " 15,491 " " 5,000 " 15,492 " " 5,000 " 15,493 " " 5,000 " 15,494 " " 5,000 " 15,495 " " 5,000 " 15,496 " " 5,000 " 15,497 " " 5,000 " 15,498 " " 5,000 " 15,499 " " 5,000 " 15,500 " " 5,000

Total $45,000 The value of all Insurance, either against fire or life, is to know you are investing in a Company of responsibility, and prompt action in discharging all just demands against it. Such is the E.T.N.A. having now:

ASSETS, $8,000,000. No. POLICIES, 48,000. DIVIDENDS SURPLUS, 50 per cent.

Fifty per cent Dividend is now being returned to all who have paid two premiums, and the Dividend will be given hereafter to all such hereafter, who are insured upon the Life plan. The Etna issues policies upon ages from 14 to 65. The Etna gives a policy upon which 10 payments may be paid, and nothing more will be required, though the party might live thirty or forty years, and after the payment of ten years be entitled to the dividends of the Company so long as its continuance. The Etna issues 10 years Endowment Policies to be paid at death or the specified time. The Etna gives a general permit to travel or reside in any part of the United States without any extra charge, and in all respects gives as many advantages to the insured as any other first-class Company. PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. EDSON FESSENDEN, President. JAMES F. BURNS, Secretary.

IN PRESENTING THE CLAIMS OF THE PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, to the people of North Carolina, the Agent invites their attention to the following statements:

1. It is a Mutual Company, the profits being divided among the insured.
2. Its policies are allowed to travel and reside in any part of the United States and Europe, in all cases of the year.
3. Its dividends have averaged 50 per cent yearly, and are payable on the amount of premium paid by the insured.
4. Its policies are all NON-FORFEITING.
5. Its losses have been met by the annual interest received alone, and a surplus of interest left over to swell the general fund belonging to the insured.
6. It has paid over $300,000 of losses, and NEVER CONTRACTED A CLAIM.
7. Its rates of assurance are as cheap as any Company doing a safe business.
8. IT WILL NOT INSURE AN UNCLE LIFE.
9. One-half the premium will be received in the note of the insured—which note, in case of death, will be deducted from the face of the policy.
10. IT HAS NO CONNECTION WITH FIRE INSURANCE.

Relative character of the Companies operating in North Carolina, as to their Assets and Liabilities, taken from the New York Insurance Report for the year 1867, which is the last report—showing how much of Assets each Company has to meet each dollar of Liability:
