THE RECONSTRUCTION.

The friends of Congress to remove the disabilities of those who have been recommended as Senators, by the Senate, as well as to amend the Constitution, and admit to representation those Southern States which have complied with the Reconstruction Act, is a noble and patriotic enterprise. It is one which should be supported by all who are true to the principles of the Constitution and the Union.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.
While the newspapers of the State and of the South ordinarily treat, at this season of the year, with accounts of the closing exercises of our Male Colleges, Academies and Schools, it is a matter of regret that only a secondary consequence should have been bestowed on those for the education of the daughters of the land. Full as much of the virtue of society, the healthfulness and conservatism of public sentiment,—and the character of our political institutions,—depends upon the intellectual cultivation and judicious mental and moral training of the female, as upon those of the male, youth of the country.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

The robust commencement exercises of the large and flourishing Female College, in the intelligent and refined village of Louisa, under the auspices of that excellent scholar and learned Divine, the Rev. T. M. Jones, evidenced, in a most pleasing degree, the progress which has been made, in this State, in the cause of female education.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

On Wednesday morning, the annual literary address before the young ladies of the College was delivered by Seaton Gales, Esq. before a very large and intelligent audience of both sexes, which completely filled the spacious and handsome Chapel of the Institution. The address was devoted to an exposition of the true mission of woman and a discussion of the theory of her alleged intellectual inferiority.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

On Thursday evening, the Chapel was again crowded with one of the most brilliant audiences it has ever seen. The exercises consisted of vocal and instrumental music by the young ladies and their instructors; the whole under the supervision and direction of Prof. Hair, of the Institution. The entire programme was of the highest order, presenting a pleasing variety of the most skillful operatic renditions and simple melodies, and was almost faultlessly executed.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

On Thursday the exercises by the Graduating Class took place. We present below the programme, with the names of graduates.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

The closing exercises of Hendrix College, at Searcy, Arkansas, took place on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 29th and 30th inst. The ladies speak in high terms of the intelligent and energetic management of the excellent Principal, F. A. Foster, Esq.

In these days of competition between Life Insurance Companies much is said by rival Agents, and claiming that the company he represents to be the best. Without saying anything in disparagement of any Company, or by simple assertion, anything in its favor, the ETNA has been left to the unbiassed public, and its success is the result of its own merits.
