The National Democratic Convention.

ADDRESS OF MR. BELMONT.

On calling the Convention to order, Mr. Belmont said:

Gentlemen of the Convention:—It is my privilege to-day to welcome you here in this hall, constructed with so much artistic taste and tendered to you by the time-honored Society of Tammany. I welcome you to this magnificent temple erected to the Goddess of Liberty by her staunchest defenders and most fervent worshippers. I welcome you to this good city of New York, the bulwark of Democracy, which has rolled back the surging waves of Radicalism through all the storms of the last eighty years, and I welcome you, gentlemen, to our Empire State, which last fall redeemed herself from Republican misrule by a majority of nearly 50,000 votes, and which claims the right to lead the vanguard of victory in the great battle to be fought next November for the preservation of our institutions, our laws, and our liberties.

It is a most auspicious omen that we meet under such circumstances, and are surrounded by such associations, and I share your own confident hope of the overwhelming success of the ticket and platform which will be the result of your deliberations, for it is with the American people that our appeal lies; their judgment will be just. The American people will no longer remain deaf to the teachings of the past. They will remember that it was under successive Democratic administrations, based upon our national principles—principles of constitutional liberty—that our country rose to a prosperity and greatness unsurpassed in the annals of history; they will remember the days when North and South marched shoulder to shoulder together in the conquest of Mexico, which gave us our golden empire in the Pacific, our California and our Oregon, now the strongholds of triumphant Democracy. They will remember the days when peace and plenty reigned over the whole Union; when we had no national debt, to drain the energies of the people; when Federal tax-gatherers were unknown throughout the vast extent of the land; when the credit of the United States stood as high in the money marts of the world as that of any other Government; and they will remember with wise sorrow that with the downfall of the Democratic party in 1860 came that fearful civil war which has brought mourning and desolation into every household; has cost the loss of a million of American citizens, and has left us with a national debt, the burden of which drains the resources, cripples the industry, and impoverishes the labor of the country.—They will remember that, after the fratricidal strife was over—when the bravery of our army and navy, and the sacrifice of the people had restored the Union and vindicated the supremacy of the law—when victor and vanquished were equally ready to bury the past and to hold out the hand of brotherhood and good will across the graves of their fallen comrades—it was again the defeat of Democratic candidates in 1864 which prevented this consummation, so devoutly wished for, by all. Instead of trying to wipe out the miseries of the past by a magnanimous policy, dictated alike by humanity and sound statesmanship, and so ardently prayed for by the generous hearts of the American people, the Radicals in Congress, elected in an evil hour, have placed the iron heel of the conqueror upon the South.

Austria did not more to fasten upon vanquished Hungary, nor Russia to impose upon conquered Poland the ruthless tyranny now inflicted by Congress upon the Southern States. Military satraps are invested with dictatorial power, overriding decisions of courts and assuming the functions of civil authorities, while populations are disfranchised or forced to submit to testoaths alike revolting to justice and civilization, and a debased and ignorant race, just emerged from servitude, is raised into power to control the destinies of that fair portion of our common country.

These men, elected to be legislators, and legislators only, trampling the Constitution under their feet, have usurped functions of the executive and the judiciary, and it is impossible to doubt, after the events of the past few months and circumstances of the impeachment, that they will not shrink from an attempt hereafter to subvert the Senate of the United States, which alone stood between them and their victim, and which had virtue enough left not to allow the American name to be utterly disgraced and justice to be dragged in the dust. In order to carry out this nefarious programme our army and navy are kept in times of profound peace on a scale which has involved a yearly expenditure of from one to two hundred millions, prevents a reduction of our national debt, and imposes upon our people a system of most exorbitant and unequal taxation, with a vicious, irredeemable and depreciated currency.

And now this same party, which has brought all these evils upon the country, comes again before the American people, asking for their suffrages, and whom has it chosen for its candidate? The General commanding the armies of the United States! Can there be any doubt left as to the designs of the Radicals, if they should succeed in securing to the rule of government? They intend the annual usurpation of all branches and functions of the Government to be enforced by the bayonets of military despotism. It is impossible the free and intelligent people can longer submit to such a state of things; they will not calmly stand by to see their liberties subverted, the prosperity and greatness of their country undermined, and institutions bequeathed to them by the fathers of the republic wrested from them. They must see that conservative, and national principles of liberal progressive Democracy are the only safeguards of the republic.

Gentlemen of the Convention, your country looks to you to stay the tide of disintegration, violence and despotism. It will not look in vain where, next November, the roll-call be called, and when State after State shall respond by rallying around the banner of Democracy, on which in the future, as in the past, will be inscribed our undying motto: The Union, the Constitution, and the Laws.

Tilton inquires—"Can no one cure Grant of the horrid habit of smoking, whereof the National Anti-Tobacco league complains?" We have it. Let Bishop Simpson telegraph to Senator Harlan and Brother Willey "to preach unto him."

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' CONVENTION.

The Democratic Convention of Soldiers and Sailors was organized in New York on Saturday with Major-General John A. McClernand in the chair. On taking the chair he made an address of very decided character, which was received with great applause.

Immediately after the conclusion of General McClernand's speech, General Lewis D. Campbell presented the following resolutions preceding the introduction with a statement that it was proper that the relations between this Convention of Soldiers and Sailors and the Democratic Nominating Convention now in session at Tammany Hall should be stated distinctly, so that there should be no misrepresentation on the subject, and that while this Convention of Soldiers and Sailors did not assume to dictate any nomination, it had a right to present respectfully its opinions upon the great matter to be decided here. General Campbell's resolutions are as follows:

"Whereas, during the late rebellion, we took up arms on the call of our national government, relying on the integrity of Congress in its solemn and unanimous declaration that the object of the war was to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired, and not in any spirit of oppression or for any purposes of conquest or subjugation; and whereas, since the rebellion was subdued and the war terminated, the Radical party has, by a fraudulent use of its power and by force of arms, in violation of the Constitution, perverted the objects for which the great battles were fought and the victories won by the army and navy of the Union; and whereas that party has forfeited all claim to our confidence and support,

Because it has fraudulently and forcibly kept States out of the Union which the army and navy fought, and hosts of our comrades bled and died to keep in;

Because it has destroyed the dignity and equality and rights of a portion of the States, and continues to treat the people thereof as conquered and subjugated enemies, exercising over them acts of tyranny unparalleled by those of Great Britain which led to and justified before the civilized world the American revolution;

Because it has placed a stigma upon the otherwise untarnished honor of the Union soldier and sailor by imposing upon those who composed the late Confederate armies, since their surrender, conditions of degradation, in violation of the letter and spirit of the capitulation, when a brave though misguided foe laid down their arms;

Because it has practically suspended, if it has not wholly destroyed, the vital principle of our federal republican system of government, ignoring the rights expressly reserved by the Constitution to the States respectively or to the people, by usurping the constitutional prerogatives of the Executive, and rendering nugatory, through legislation and otherwise, the action of the Judiciary;

Because it has practiced a shameful duplicity by recognizing as in the Union and entitled to the high privilege of amending the Federal Constitution to the abolition of slavery States to which it has denied the right of local legislation and of representation in Congress;

Because it has organized and continues to operate under the guise of charity, at an enormous expense, a political machine known as the Freedmen's Bureau, which it has wielded to perpetuate its power, by establishing under its auspices oath-bound leagues of ignorant negroes, has deprived intelligent people of our own race in the Southern States of the right of self-government, and endeavored to place in authority over them, through the power of the bayonet, the negroes lately slaves, who are neither qualified for such high duties by the endowment of nature nor by education;

Because it is guilty of gigantic defalcation and the grossest corruptions in the collection and management of the public treasure, and perversely refuses to permit the same to be investigated and exposed;

Because it has practiced a wanton profligacy in the public expenditures which stands without a parallel in history, and threatens an irretrievable national bankruptcy;

Because it has been partial and oppressive in its measures of finance, taxation, and currency, and has inaugurated thereby a system of legalized robbery that makes the rich richer and the poor poorer;

And because it is guilty of manifold other sins of commission and of omission not necessary to be enlarged herein; therefore,

Resolved, That the great principles in defence of which we took up arms having been practically abandoned by the Radical party, we respectfully and urgently appeal to the Democratic party now in National Convention assembled in this city, to nominate a candidate for the Presidency of such known antecedents as will enable us, consistently with our action during the war, to co-operate cordially with it in restoring all the States to their legitimate rights in the Union, and in redeeming the integrity, fraternity, prosperity, and true glory of the American Republic. We desire only an honorable participation in the achievement of that great victory of peace that is to heal the grievous wounds of war.

The resolution was received with thundering applause, but objection was made to its consideration until the permanent organization. General Slocum earnestly advocated the resolution; but the mover preferred to postpone action, as there was objection.

General William B. Franklin, of Connecticut, was appointed permanent Chairman, and made a speech, in which he said that the Chicago Convention did not represent the soldiers and sailors there assembled.—[Cries of "No, no!"]

General Thomas G. Ewing, of Ohio, made a spirited speech, which drew forth great applause. We make an extract:

"The records of the Adjutant General's office showed 2,700,000 men in the Union armies (2,000,000 would represent the total enlistments). Of this whole number there remain 1,500,000 present voters who fought for the flag of the Union. It was safe to say that one-half of this number were represented by this Convention. [Cries of "Three-fourths," "Two-thirds."] The other half might be saved or lost to the Democratic party by the nomination to-day, whether wise or unwise. [Cheers.] The Republican party represents no issue for which we fought. [Cries of "No, no."] We never fought for negro supremacy—["never"]—nor for the exclusion of any States—["no,"]—nor for the benefit of any party—["Never"]—but we fought for the Whole Union. [Cheers.] If we would preserve the States, their union, their liberties, and those of the people, we must unite with the Democracy.

[Cheers, and "We'll Rally Round the Flag" by the band, the Convention joining in the song and chorus.]

Sergeant Bates, who carried the flag through the South, was invited to the platform.

The rules were suspended, and the following resolution was adopted (without being referred) with great enthusiasm:

Resolved, That the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers and sailors are the especial wards of the nation, and if any class of creditors are to be paid in gold, they above all others, should have the preference.

The Convention adjourned until Monday.
