GEN. BLAIR'S SPEECH AT OMAHA, NEBRASKA.

On Thursday last Major General Frank P. Blair was received, on his way further West, by the citizens of Omaha in immense numbers. After a felicitous welcome by the Mayor, General Blair spoke as follows:

"I am here to acknowledge the compliment you have paid me. I assure you that I value the compliment. I am well aware that it is not paid to me as an individual, but rather as one of the representatives of that cause to which you have shown yourself so devoted. (Applause.) It is a cause, my fellow-citizens, worthy of your greatest devotion and your highest enthusiasm. It is the cause of free government and constitutional government in this country, and I am satisfied, my friends and fellow-citizens, from the enthusiasm and feeling manifested here to night, and elsewhere where I have been, that this cause is destined to a great and glorious victory in the next election in November. (Great applause.) I feel, my fellow-citizens, that we are destined to achieve a great victory in behalf of our free government and free Constitution. I feel to-day, not alone from this manifestation, but from all we have seen during the past year in the elections where the policy of the Radical party has been condemned by overwhelming majorities of the people of the United States—(cheers)—and notwithstanding this condemnation by the people—these reckless people who achieved power upon a totally different issue from that which is now before the people, have, in defiance of the popular will, in defiance of the votes of the people of whom they were simply the representatives, have urged forward these measures to a completion, in the hope that they could bind the hands of the people of this country, and wrest from them the power forever. (Applause.) Yes, my fellow citizens, they have by these measures put under foot all the people of our race in ten of the Southern States; they have bound a million of people to the earth with their bayonets, and they have put on the top of them this hideous black barbarism—(applause)—and, my fellow-citizens, feeling that they have lost the confidence of the white race, both North and South, they propose to overcome the charges cast against them at the North in the free States during the last year by the minority of the South, whom they have made supreme over the white race there; and the question comes up for your decision—for the decision of the whole of the people of this country—will you permit a majority in both sections composed of the white race—(cheers)—that race, my fellow citizens, that glorious race of people whose history is the record of intellectual progress among mankind, the only race that have ever shown themselves capable of establishing and maintaining free government. (A voice: "The Blair family, I suppose.") The Blair family will be toured on the side of the white race.—(Cheers.) The Blair family can never be deterred from taking that stand by any man who wishes to assail the fair white race of this country by a mixture with the blacks. (Applause.) My fellow citizens, it is not my intention to detain you by any lengthened remarks. (Cries of "Go on.")—I knew very well that what I had to say would not please a certain set of people, and I will say further, that I did not intend to please them. (Loud cheers.) If any one is displeased that we, the Democrats, intend to restore the Government and the Constitution, they may make their decrees now, for I tell you that after November you will not be able to hear one of them speak. (Applause.) But I am for giving them the largest liberty of speech. I do not intend nor desire that they should be gagged, as they are now endeavoring to gag eight millions of our people in the south. I do not think it will be the policy of the Democratic party when it comes into power and re-establishes the Government to proscribe free speech anywhere in the country. It has always been their policy to give the largest liberty to all men to use the most perfect freedom of speech; for without it we cannot maintain our free institutions. But these things are exceedingly distasteful to our Radical brethren. Throughout the South they put the gag in the mouths of those people whom they have trod under the military heel. Men are arrested, thrown into prison, and tried by military commissions, in defiance of those constitutional guarantees of the rights of free speech, right of trial by jury, and the right to be tried before his peer and the judicial tribunal for any alleged offence. Where are those rights now? They have been stifled, trodden down, and yet we find men in this country who can stand up and defend those acts of atrocity. (Cheers.) My fellow-citizens, I thank you for your attentive audience; this is a gratifying spectacle to any man who loves liberty and the Constitution. This enthusiasm is a sure harbinger of our success next November.—(Cheers.) And that success, under the lead of the distinguished gentleman who has been chosen by a Democratic Convention as your candidate for the Presidency, is certain to restore to you the Constitution handed down to you by your fathers. Gentlemen, I again thank you. (Cries of "Go on.") I find it impossible, my fellow-citizens, to make my voice reach the confines of this immense crowd, and, thanking you from my heart for the kindness which you have shown me to-night—thanking you still more for the enthusiasm you have shown for that cause in which I am now engaged along with you, I now retire. (Loud cheers.)

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)

THE PROSPECT.

There is nothing absolutely certain but death and taxes. It is probably safe, however, to count that the following States will vote for Seymour and Blair, and against Grant and Colfax:

Connecticut	6
New York	33
New Jersey	7
Delaware	3
Maryland	7
Kentucky	11
Missouri	11
California	5
Oregon	3
Nevada	3
Pennsylvania	26
Ohio	21
Indiana	13
Illinois	16
Total	165

We carried Connecticut in April by 1,700 majority on Governor, on the largest vote ever polled in the State. Every opposition ticket had Grant's name on it for President.

We carried New York last fall by 50,000 majority, and we shall, with Mr. Seymour as a leader, increase it this year.

New Jersey is always Democratic. It was so last fall by a majority equal to 80,000 in Ohio. None but a fool supposes she will vote for Grant.

Delaware voted against Lincoln even during the war, and she will go now twice as strong against Grant.

In Maryland and Kentucky the Radicals will not poll for Grant one vote to every three the Democrats poll for Seymour.

In California, at the last election, we had 8,000 Democratic majority, and in Oregon we had 2,000 in June, 1868. There is not an earthly prospect that the Radicals can overcome these majorities.

Pennsylvania is naturally Democratic. We carried it last year, when the opposition did their best, and we will repeat the result with interest this fall.

We also carried Nevada at the last election.

These States, thus named, where it hardly seems possible we can be beaten, have 115 electoral votes.

Indiana and Illinois are old Democratic States, which the war caused to swerve from their moorings. They had no State officers to elect in 1867, but if they had had, the Democrats would have carried them triumphantly. This was evinced by the local county elections, where the Democrats made vast gains, in almost in every instance, throughout the States. The pressure of taxation is severely felt in them, and the desire for a change in the administration pervades all classes, without distinction of party.

In Ohio we polled last year 240,000 votes for Judge Thurman, our candidate for Governor. He was beaten by less than 3,000, on the largest vote ever given in the State. He was beaten by illegal negro votes, because the Democrats were deficient in organization and lacked confidence in the result. Had they had better organization, and as much confidence as they have now, Ohio would have been Democratic by 20,000 majority. We are a Democratic State to day; the Radical strength is all confined to the Western Reserve and to a few Counties in the Miami Valley. Grant has no strength personally in this State. He is the weakest candidate they could have run, and invokes neither the enthusiasm of the outsiders or the energy of the inside party men.

We have not spoken of Missouri, with her eleven electoral votes. She is one of the strongest Democratic States in the Union, and if her people all voted, would give Seymour and Blair 50,000 majority at least. We have been beaten there for several years, because the Democrats have allowed themselves to be disfranchised by illegal test oaths, administered at the polls. These oaths have been declared to be unconstitutional, and this year the Democrats will vote; and the support Grant will receive in Missouri will be small indeed.

But this is but a partial survey of the field. There are 317 electoral votes, if all the Southern States are counted. Of these 159 are a majority. The States above given have six more votes than is requisite for a choice. But Grant is not certain of all the South. He can not, even backed up by the negroes and the military, carry half of it.—He will lose Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Arkansas certain, and they have 50 electoral votes.

If the people in Western Virginia, turn out and vote, as we understand they will, Grant will be beaten in that State by a great majority. The Radicals have been carrying it because not one third of the people have voted. It has five electoral votes.

Nebraska is about balanced politically, and is as likely to go for Seymour as Grant. Wisconsin and Minnesota are in the same category. A vigorous effort by the Democracy will give both States to Seymour. The Radicals only carried them last year by the barest majorities. Even New Hampshire is not absolutely certain for Grant.

Upon the whole, therefore, if the general field, the friends of Seymour and Blair have everything to encourage them, and with proper organization can hardly fail to succeed.
