W. B. PELL, Proprietor.
Their Cruel and Inhuman Treatment.

A GARD FROM THE PRISONERS.

Alpen, regarding our personal liberty, was the undersigned, known as the Columbus prisoners, deem it proper to publish the following...

During the night of the 30th of March 1862, W. Ashburn was assaulted in a low negro brothel in Columbus, Georgia. On the 6th of April thirteen citizens were arrested at the Mills of the United States...

While we were clamoring for the release of our comrades, we were subjected to the most cruel and inhuman treatment...

At the same time some humane spirits were willing to transcribe his order, and a breath of fresh air was felt...

Several of the prisoners have seen the order of the 17th of June, and we were not permitted to see it...
