RADICAL RALLY OF THE REBELS.

We make every supporter of the Radical party a rebel. None others justly bear that appellation in this country. They are rebels against the Constitution—against a harmonious Union—against the Executive and Judicial departments of the government—rebels against the rights of the white citizens of the nation, and rebels against the peace, safety and prosperity of the country.

This party proposes to have a "grand rally" in this city, on the 16th of September next. This they consider essential to counteract the powerful influence of the Democratic State Convention. They are right. It behooves them to do "all" that, and we admit their right fully to hold meetings, make speeches and do all they can legitimately to secure success. Nor do we admit the right of Conservatives to disturb or molest them in any way, as was attempted in Wilmington, we think, in 1866.

The arrangements are made for a grand barbecue and rally. Money they have in abundance, which the Conservatives have not. More than this, they have many men who are ready to work and labor.

Their Committees are appointed and announced. Messrs. G. L. Harris, Tourgee (rather a queer business for a Judge) are the Committee on Railroad Transportation. Of course, Billy Smith's Radical Railroad will allow the negroes to ride for half price, or free, as may suit. Gen. Littlefield is the Chairman of the Committee on Finance. Of course, therefore, money will be plenty. Albert Johnson is Chairman of the Committee on Interpretation for barbecue, and there is, also, a Committee to prepare it. Devene comes on in full uniform. Gov. Holden presides over Committee for speakers, with John Pool to help. Attorney General Guthman is invited also. But the music is the accommodation to the appetencies for officers of the day. Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Edwin G. Reade, is President, and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, W. P. Bridgers, Thomas Settle and R. P. Dick, are Vice Presidents, to be aided by Justice Bailey Rockhill and Reformer Mendenhall of the minor Judiciary. The people who voted for the new Constitution, to make the Judges of the Courts of North Carolina political Judges, will not complain of this.

"Companies and organizations" are invited. What kind of "companies" are they to be? Are they military companies? Are they to be armed? Are the Radicals organizing military companies? If so, the people ought to know it. We used to have a number of excellent volunteer companies before the war. If the Radicals are forming military companies, it will rouse the formation of military companies among the Democratic and Conservative. Why this? Is there any necessity for military or armed militia organizations at all? We think not, and we are opposed to the whole matter. All we want is Equal Justice, to preserve order and enforce the law, a good jury, a good and true Judiciary, and faithful civil officers to enforce the law. We deny combined bodies. The Radicals, who are inducing special militia and military companies now, are acting without discretion and proper reflection. This is no time to encourage bad feeling or to tamper with the disturbed and anxious feelings of the people. Let all strive to do right and keep cool.

The man who in 1861 shouted for secession, now shouts for Seymour and Blair.—Standard.

We had heard that Badger, Battle, Albertson, Blair, of Randolph, Coleman, W. J. Clarke, &c., &c., were all out for Grant and Colfax. We are sorry to be thus officially advised that our information was incorrect, and that they are "shouting" for Seymour and Blair. This is the only encouraging indication we have seen.

Governor Worth once said "Secession is a fine piece." What does the editor think of it?—Standard.

INFLUX OF CAPITAL.

Our telegrams stated, a day or two ago, that Gen. Abbott had asserted, somewhere at the North, that $10,000,000 of capital had been invested in North Carolina since the close of the war. We are not familiar with the speculating operations of Northern gentlemen in this State, to any great extent. We have heard of some purchases in lands, mines, &c., and some of our Railroads have sold their bonds at the North, but we have no means of ascertaining the amount. If Gen. Abbott authorized such a statement, we think he erred greatly as to the amount.

The impression prevails among our people, that the people of North Carolina are poorer to-day, less able to pay large taxes, than at any period since the war. The prospect, so far, is somewhat favorable for a good crop in most parts of the State. If the seasons should do well and prices are remunerative, our condition will be better, but it will require a continuation of good crops for several years, and a vast improvement in the laboring population as to systematic labor, before our people can begin to lift the load which presses upon them.

Years will elapse before the country can recover from the excessive loss of agricultural labor in the State and South generally, occasioned by the unfortunate systems adopted by the Freedmen's Bureau and the Radical policy generally. Men who look narrowly into the future cannot see any daylight in the distance, except in a change of rulers and policy. Men of intelligence and worth look to the election of Seymour and Blair, as the only harbinger of a better day. Let Democrats and Conservatives work for it!

"N. Paige & Co." have only been in the State, according to their own admission, some six weeks. We state this fact, out of the kindness of our hearts, as an apology for their ridiculous blunders about North Carolina men and matters. They will learn something after a while, and, in the interim, let those of their present party friends, whom, in their ignorance, they are, every now and then, digging so unmercifully under the fifth rib, exercise a little forbearance.

How can men, who have only been in North Carolina six weeks, be presumed to know, for instance, when they laud Col. Badham for his great "lotity," that he was, next to Holden, the leading secessionist in the State; or when they bedaub Cantwell with fulsome and silly adulation, that he wore the first secession cockade ever flaunted in the city of Raleigh; or when they are "sweet" on Coleman and Blair, that the former edited a secesh paper, and the latter declared that unless North Carolina followed the example of South Carolina, he would leave the State; or when they associate old man Blythe, that he grieved and whined bitterly a short time back, on account of the persecution involved in being accused of favoring negro suffrage; and so on ad infinitum?

Therefore, we say, some allowance for these new comers should be made, some allowance, we mean, by their own friends, for their ignorance. For their manners, in rushing and traducing, with an unprecedented insolence, the people among whom they have all recently squatted, we confess we owe no apology. Such exhibitions are new and unseemly here. They are among the Yankee importations most sadly to be deplored.

RADICAL LIBERALITY.—A few days ago, when the "Special Militia" bill was under consideration in the Senate, and after four lengthy speeches had been delivered by Radicals, and only two by the opposition, Mr. Sweet moved to suspend the rules, in order to change the relative position of the "Previous Question," so as to have it stand "instead of "8." Mr. Love, of Jackson, resisted the motion, but in vain, under the weight of party influence. The rules were suspended and the transposition followed.

As soon as this was done, Colgrove, a Yankee squatter, who has no permanent interest in the State, called the previous question. Mr. Love asked him to withdraw it but for a moment. Colgrove doggedly refused. Mr. Love then appealed to the Senate, for two minutes, by the clock, to make a statement. This was granted. Mr. Love said that he desired to be heard further in the discussion of the bill, but as he had been heard the day before, on the opposition side, he would not now ask it, if the mover of the "previous question" would withdraw the call, in order that he might offer some amendments to the bill, so as to put himself right before his immediate constituents and the people of the State. But Colgrove, the Yankee squatter, refused. Then, said Mr. Love, "I denounce this action of the Senate, as another gag, fixed upon free speech by the Republican party in North Carolina." Thus, under the operation of the gag-law, the infamous bill passed its third reading.

WE ARE GLAD to see the Northern papers attaching that significance and importance to the recent great demonstration of the Democrats and Conservatives of North Carolina, which they deserve. Our report of proceedings is generally copied by them, in whole or in part. We observe that the Washington Post speaks of the superior enterprise of the Standard in the matter of reporting. The Standard only contained a weak and would be factious caricature of the proceedings (written by the little joker, we suppose,) of the great Convention, which excited disgust even among its own friends. Our report was as full as it could well have been. Besides all this, even with four of our Reporters excluded, with mean malignity, from the Capitol, our reports of Legislative proceedings are far superior to those of the establishment which is literally shingled over with the public money, by a corrupt and wasteful Legislature.

OLD MECKLENBURG is alive, with enthusiasm for Seymour and Blair. The Charlotte Democrat has accounts of meetings all over the county.

LOUISBURG, N. C., Aug. 15th, 1868.

Messrs. Editors—Permit me, through your columns, to say a few words to counteract the report, which has been industriously circulated throughout the section of the State, that Louisburg has been very unhealthy.

I have been a practicing physician in the village for three years, and during that period I have never known any epidemic which has prevailed among us to assume a malignant and fatal type; but generally mild and amenable to treatment.

For several years previous to the fall of '67, I do not suppose that twenty cases of chill and fever originated in the town or vicinity.

During the past year, '67, we had a good many cases of chills and fever, but not a single death—the type of disease being generally mild.

To my certain knowledge, the medical corps for professional attendance on the family of the President and young ladies of the Louisburg Female College would compare favorably with the same number in the Union. For the coming session of '68 this school is expected about fifty costs per head.

At present the village is very healthy; we have had during the summer a few cases of intermittent fever of the slightest type, calculated to excite the attention of the physician.

As one of the physicians of the place, I feel it my duty to make the above statement. I can assure the friends and patrons of our excellent school, that they need have no fears concerning the health of the place.

Truly yours, &c.,

W. R. KING.

For the Sentinel.

The most intense rebel spirit prevails at Chapel Hill. So far has this been carried, that the Superintendent of Public Works, guarding the University property, have been unable to procure ballot boxes from the white citizens, and have been compelled to obtain the necessary supplies from the negroes. [illegible]

Now, Messrs. Editors, Chapel Hill is the most influential village in the State, and if there is one spot on earth where the people must be sure that their statement of the politics of the Standard is untrue, Heaven, what a misrepresentation there is made concerning the men of our Convention who framed the new Constitution!

Are these sent about the country to mislead on the charity of our people? Further, where were the United States troops stationed? Chapel Hill—the Presidency of the United States to Andy Johnson? Where, then, were the troops to be stationed? Chapel Hill is "rotten" to the core, and the "Rebel Flag" is flaunted from every house. Could not, surely the "Star" editor have selected Graham or Chapel Hill for a little while. He will malignantly misrepresent—we have a taste of what the good people of North Carolina will experience, when the "Rebels" of Chapel Hill, called "The Radical Militia," is fully developed.
