ANOTHER FEARFUL CALAMITY.

Terrible Earthquake on the Coast of Peru and Ecuador--Loss of 32,000 Lives and Millions of Property--Whole Cities Swept Away--Rush of A Tidal Wave--Vessels Dashed to Pieces--Loss of the United States Storeship Fredonia, with all on Board--The Wateree Beached--Unparalleled Destruction of Life and Property.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Guiding Star, from Aspinwall yesterday, brings the following:

On the 13th ultimo a terrible earthquake visited the cities along the coast of Peru and Ecuador, whereby thirty-two thousand lives were lost and property valued at three hundred millions of dollars destroyed.—Rumbling sounds preceded the earthquake; the sea was terribly agitated and flooded the land for a great distance. Arequipa, a city of thirty-five thousand inhabitants, was washed away, and scarcely a vestige remains. Only four hundred lives were lost here. Arica, a town of twelve thousand inhabitants, was also destroyed, leaving not a house standing. Five hundred perished here. The tidal wave, which was forty feet high, rolled with a terrific roar on shore, carrying ships further on land than ever before known.

The United States storeship Fredonia was capsized, and all on board lost. The Fredonia had one million eight hundred thousand dollars' worth of naval stores. The vessel was rolled over and smashed to atoms. The United States steamer Wateree was carried half a mile inland, and left high and dry. Only one sailor was drowned. Owing to the great distance she was carried, she never can get afloat again.

The Peruvian corvette American was also carried ashore. Thirty-three drowned from her. The American merchantman Rosa Rivera, the English ship Chancellor, and the French bark Eduardo were also lost.—The towns of Iquique, Moquega, Locumbia and Pisagua were entirely destroyed. Over six hundred perished at Iquique. The American merchants lost heavily—nearly all—and are totally ruined. The towns of Ibarra, San Pablo, Atumtaqui, and Imantad are in ruins. Where Costachescki formerly stood is now a lake. The population of the above named towns were almost entirely swept away. Pancho Puellaro and Cachiquanjo were also destroyed. The dead are so numerous that the surviving inhabitants have been forced to fly from the stench of their putrefying bodies.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

New York, Sept. 13.—Letters from Lima, Peru, give additional details of the earthquake and its effects. The earthquake commenced at half past five o'clock, on the 13th. of August, extending from Bolivia to the Southern ports of Chili, on the coast, and over one hundred miles inland. The towns and cities mentioned in last night's dispatches were literally ruined. All buildings not destroyed are so badly injured as to require demolition for prudential reasons. All public edifices in Arica were destroyed, including the custom house, which contained over $4,000,000 worth of goods, all of which were lost. The following description is given of the loss of the Fredonia and the landing of the Wateree. They were both at anchor in the harbor of Arica, near each other:

After the first shock had occurred on land, which created great consternation on both vessels, Dr. Dubois, surgeon and paymaster of the Fredonia, took a boat and went on shore to inquire for the welfare of friends and offer the services of the ship.—In a few moments after leaving the vessel a great upheaving of the waters in the bay commenced, and the Fredonia, parting her chains, was dashed about at the mercy of the sea, and finally went to pieces on a reef. Nothing of the vessel was saved. The officers and crew, 27 in number, were all lost; also Mrs. Dyer, wife of the lieutenant commanding. The officers' names were: Lieut. R. Dyer; D. Organ, master; J. G. Cornwell, purser; S. Lunt, secretary to the commander.

The vessel had nearly $2,000,000 worth of naval stores on board, all of which were totally lost. The Wateree was more securely anchored, but a great tidal wave swept her 450 yards inland, about two miles north of the ruined town, where she now lies between two hillocks of sand, very slightly injured. It will be utterly impossible to save her, and Admiral Turner is only hopeful of saving her battery and stores. Only one sailor was washed overboard and drowned. Lieutenant Johnson, of the Wateree, was ashore at the time, and while carrying his wife in his arms to a place of safety she was struck and instantly killed by a portion of a falling building.

The Peruvian corvette America shared the same fate as the Wateree. She lost three officers and thirty men. Commander Gillis, of the Wateree, after the disaster, together with Dr. Winslow and Dr. Dubois, of the Fredonia, were of great service to the inhabitants, dividing their provisions among the suffering inhabitants, and the physicians saving many lives by their medical and surgical skill.

A letter from Arica, dated August 20, says two other vessels, the brig Chanceralle, and the bark Eduardo, are also high and dry, the former losing eight men.

The scene beggars description. Railroad rails, cars, machinery, gun carriages, household furniture, barrels, dead animals and mutilated corpses are lying about in confusion. The city numbered seven thousand inhabitants, and its multitudes stand helplessly beggared on the beach. Three hundred lives were lost. A conflagration burned nearly all that was not demolished by the earthquake, and a drunken rabble robbed and despoiled what remained. Heavy cannon were carried up from the island battery, and now lie buried in the sand.—On shore the stench is sickening.

At Lima there was not much damage done, although the shocks lasted about four minutes, causing the utmost consternation, the inhabitants fleeing to open places, where they sought protection from the Almighty.

Admiral Turner, with the frigate Powhatan, left Lima with a full cargo of provisions, and had arrived at Arica to succor American seamen there and the inhabitants, and also to save the effects of the Wateree. The Kearsarge had also reached Arica, from Coquimbo, with provisions. A French man-of-war also left Lima to aid the inhabitants at Arica, and other places on the coast. The American minister, Mr. Harvey, at Lima, was energetically aiding, to the extent of his power, in alleviating distress. Merchants and citizens of Lima are contributing thousands of dollars to equip and load vessels with clothing and provisions, and the government is using all its means to alleviate the suffering entailed by the terrible catastrophe.

The Congress of Peru unanimously passed resolutions giving the President unlimited power to succor the inhabitants of the Southern coast. The President has issued a proclamation and the Archbishop a pastoral letter, calling upon Peruvians for liberal contributions, which have been nobly responded to, over $4,000,000 having been raised.

The business houses of Lima having connection on the coast have suffered immensely, one house, Gibbs & Son, losing over $1,000,000. Nearly all the towns and villages in the mineral province of Huanca were destroyed and reduced to shapeless masses. The cities of Pano and Cuzco were not damaged. The port of Mallerdo, where were stored the materials for building Dr. Mesigg's railway, was completely destroyed, nearly all the tools, rails and provisions being ruined by the earthquake and the succeeding tidal wave.

The Chincha islands felt the earthquake and wave, but not seriously as yet known. The cities of Ica and Pisco also suffered heavily, forty houses being overthrown and twelve lives lost at the former. Nearly all the population of Callao fled to Lima.—The steamer Santiago, bound from Callao to Valpa, put into the port of Chada, when, on the 13th she was seized by a great wave, her chains snapped, and the vessel carried to sea. In a few moments the wave returned towards the shore, carrying the steamer with it, and taking it, with all the passengers, safely over a high cliff and leaving it safely inside a channel.

The port of Chala was completely covered with water. At Caldera a wave and earthquake completely destroyed everything, former dwellings being left a heap of rubbish. No traces of the streets are to be seen. The inhabitants fled to the mountains, but many were drowned or killed.—Thirty-seven bodies had been discovered at last advices. At Iquique the shock lasted four minutes, after which a wave came and destroyed about three fourths of the place, with many lives, nearly all the provisions and the condensing machinery which supplied the inhabitants with drinking water. Provisions and water had been sent there from Valparaiso. One German house at Iquique lost over $400,000 worth of property.

Over 600 people were drowned at One Quita. The earthquake commenced a few minutes past P. M., and in five minutes every house in the city was levelled to the ground.

The tower of Santa Coteus Church is the only thing left standing, and that will have to be pulled down. Nearly all the inmates of prisoners and hospitals perished in the destruction of those buildings. Shocks occurred at intervals. Nearly one hundred heavings occurred in three days. The city is a complete mass of ruins. The river has changed. Mt. Misti is actually throwing out lava, smoke and quantities of mud.—The river emits a sulphurous odor, and rocks and earth are constantly falling from the mountain's crater. No one dares to go where the city was. The survivors are living in tents on the banks of the river Pancarbata. Hundreds of lives were lost by falling houses.

From Guyaquil, under August 25, we have brief accounts of the earthquake in Ecuador. In the city of Guyaquil little damage was done. The towns of Ibarra, the capital of the province of Imbaburro, San Pablo and Alcuntoqui are in ruins.—The entire population of these towns and of Otovato perished, amounting to nearly 30,000. At Quito the earthquake commenced at 1.20 A. M. Aug. 16, and continued at intervals of a few hours up to dates, the last the 19th.

The churches, public buildings and private dwellings were already in ruins, and the people were living in tents in the great square. Towns adjoining Quito—named Yerucho, Pueliaro and Archiquango—had almost entirely disappeared with their inhabitants, the few left alive being obliged to flee to escape the pestilence arising from decomposing dead bodies. The towns of Viniche and San Antonio had also disappeared. The number of deaths in the city of Quinto (Quito?) was not yet known. A large proportion of the wealthy inhabitants died from pestilence or disaster.

A Valparaiso letter, of August 17, says that advices received from Talbahuano state that, at 9 o'clock on the night of August 14, three earthquakes occurred.

The second caused an immense tidal wave, which swept away fully one-half of the town, and rendered the other half almost uninhabitable. Only four lives were lost, the inhabitants fleeing to the hills. At Tome the same occurred, but being higher, but little damage was done. The port of Constitucion suffered from a wave, but was not much damaged. Several small vessels were driven ashore, and five men drowned. The town of Conception was also damaged by the same causes. Cubija, Merrillones Islands, Pisaqua, and all cities and towns, in fact, from Cape Francisco, in Ecuador, to Magellan straits, suffered more or less.
