The Mother's Prayer.

BY THEO. H. HILL.

"But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to dogs." "And she said, 'Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table."—ST. MATT. XV. 25, 27.

'Truth, Lord: it is not meet
That thou should'st give me bread;
Yet famished dogs, where children eat,
May on their crumbs be fed.

I may not let Thee go
While I have heart to pray;
Nor will Thou hear me pleading so,
And cast me quite away!

They say that Thou canst save,
And I for mercy call:
No crumbs to me, Thy children gave,
But Thou art Lord of all.

Vexed by my sore distress,
"Send her away," they cry;
Yet through the murmuring throng I press,
Low at Thy feet to lie!

Behind me chilled my heart;
But Lord, how dare I brook,
If honored not hopeless, I depart,
My frenzied daughter's look!

A fire burns in her brain,
And fiends torment her soul:—
All other help, I've sought in vain;
Lord, make my daughter whole!"

Prone on the earth she lay,
Clutching the Master's gown,
And turned her tortured face away
Fearing a darker frown!

Then all grew still as death;
They who had gathered there,
Like her, await, with bated breath,
The answer to the prayer.

A face divinely sweet—
The WOMAN FACE DIVINE,
Beams o'er the suppliant at His feet
A radiance benign.

A voice—a tender voice,
Replete with tearful grace,
Bids the poor sufferer's heart rejoice
Ere she beholds His face!

In loving accents He
The woman's faith commends:
"Even as thou wilt, so let it be,"
The benediction ends.

Abashed His followers stood,
Then reverently made way
For her of alien speech and blood
They had despised that day.

And rugged hands were brushed
Over eyes that seldom wept,
As some that joyful mother rushed—
Where, lo! her daughter slept!*

How should this story cheer
Those, no less than Saint,
To sit on Him while He is near—
To pray and never faint.

Today, as yesterday, the same,
He heeds the mourner's cry;
To seek—to save the lost He came—
Fly—to His bosom fly!

*St. Mark VII—30.

JOHN T. DEWEESE.

A correspondent of the La Grange Democrat, from Oxford, N. C., desires to know the history of the above carpet-bagger, who was elected by negroes to Congress from that State—and who is daily addressing meets of negroes and inciting them to insurrection and begging a re-election. This is the same man who made the violent and ridiculous speech in Congress, a day or two after they let him in—asking Congress to authorize the raising of negro troops and to send arms to that State to arm them—otherwise the whites would carry the State. He admitted reconstruction was a failure, unless the negroes were armed, and then neither the Northern men—could carry any election they please—otherwise they, the carpet baggers, would all have to leave the State. His Radical friends shut him up very summarily—refused to raise militia, and took a recess—and Deweese and this class of Radicals have been clamoring ever since for a September session.

Deweese came from Indiana, and we think had a store in Indianapolis. He came to Vicksburg a camp follower—kept a small store—to trade through the lines with the Confederates—and was continually boring Gen. M. L. Smith and other Federal commanders for permits for goods and passes for Southerners. He was very conservative then, and in addition to his trading privileges, professed to be a jack leg lawyer and very influential with the Generals and with military commissions, and humbugged the late lamented D. C. Merwin, a Confederate officer, into a law partnership, but who, finding out that he was neither a lawyer or an influential man, soon dissolved partnership. Deweese, finding neither trading in goods or the law any longer profitable, left for Georgia to follow Sherman's army, and seems to have brought up in North Carolina, and finding conservatism don't pay, has "turned up as a Radical politician, which we have no doubt he will make profitable.

The Indiana Democrats can tell his origin, calling and career in that State, and his speculations on loyalty.—Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald.

GENERAL FRANK BLAIR'S SPEECH AT COLUMBUS.—THE POLITICAL PROSPECT.—On Friday last, General Frank P. Blair, while in Columbus, en route for Cincinnati, was called out by a large crowd of citizens, when he delivered a short speech, from which we make the following extract:

"Fellow citizens,—I make to you my acknowledgment for this kind expression of your feelings toward me. I feel assured, however, that it is not intended as a personal compliment, but to evince your devotion to the principles of which I am a representative. They are principles which have aroused unbounded enthusiasm throughout the last Congress; is that of the country and the Constitution. It is a cause against the despotic measures of the party in power, and it is because of those measures that the people have become aroused for the purpose of restoring the Democracy to the control of the Government. During this campaign I have traveled considerably, and I have seen enough to assure me that the Democratic party will carry the country like a tornado for Constitutional liberty.—Even the prestige of the General of our armies, against whom I have nothing personally to say, will not prevent Radicalism from being overthrown. [illegible] I can not here make any extended remarks. I see assembled in Pennsylvania [illegible] Indiana, [illegible] people are [illegible] with unabated [illegible]

NORTH CAROLINA.

THE VOTE IN THE APRIL ELECTION.

We publish below, for the sake of reference, the official tabular statement of the vote in the April election in this State.—The 20,774, who did not vote, were men who were registered, and entitled to vote, at the time of the election. In addition to this, it may be safely estimated that 15,000 men in the State are now enfranchised, who could not vote before.

RAILROADS.
TO SHIPPERS.
NORTH CAROLINA
ALL STATE
RAILWAY LINES, (THAT USED TO BE!)
THE OLD RALEIGH & GASTON RAIL ROAD, THE SHORTEST, QUICKEST, SAFEST AND BEST LINE, NORTH AND SOUTH, TO BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD UNLESS SHIPPERS SPECIALLY SAY VIA. R. & G. R. R.!
WE inaugurated and are the Great Through Inland Air Line Route to all the Northern Markets, and have successfully worked the Line to the entire satisfaction of shippers, North and South, for the last two years, as the ten Thousand shippers in North and South Carolina will testify. We paid the State over Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $40,000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South, than any other Line.
NOTICE!
The Great Inland Air Line Freight
