VOL. IV. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1868. NO. 65.

The Daily Sentinel.

WM. L. POLE, Proprietor.

From the New York Express.

FACTS TO THINK OF.

1. That this Government has given away to corporations half as much of the public domain, since 1861, as was given away during the previous seventy-two years, and that the amount thus bestowed is equal to $300,000,000.

2. That the [illegible] of the U. S. Treasury by the present Congress—in the taxes of which certain manufacturers are relieved in their own interest—is equal to $65,000,000 direct, and $15,000,000 in the reduced rate on tobacco, liquors, &c.

3. That the [illegible] Pennsylvania and New England manufacturers, as the price of their allegiance to Radicalism, demanded either that there should be a new tariff, such as was reported, adding from ten to fifty per cent. to the duties on imports, or, in the event of this failing, that taxes should be thrown from all manufactures except gas, tobacco, and whiskey, and the general tax on trades and business. The loss of $80,000,000 to the Government is just so much in the pockets of those who demanded the reduction. The effect has been literally to make the rich richer, and the poor poorer.

4. That in three years the secret income put into the Treasury has been over $2,000,000 a year for three years, or $28,000,000 a year for three years, which the Wellses and Atkinsons take very good care to conceal from the people in the way of expenditure. This is beyond all that is paid by the people.

5. The Government is to-day living beyond its income. It must so live as long as Radicalism reigns in the land.

6. The election of Gen. Grant means the perpetuation of Radical power. We say this with a full knowledge of the men of whom we speak.

Gen. Grant will acquiesce in the Tenure of Office Bill, in negro suffrage, in one kind of suffrage for States North and another for States South; and as this is unjust, oppressive and detestable, there can be no peace under such a policy as this. Besides, it means enforced negro suffrage by Military Power, and ends in no peace, but discord, dishonor and despotism. Again, the act to engraft and to keep engrafted upon Southern Constitutions the disability to hold office from men who took prominent part in Rebellion, embraces all the intelligent people of the South. Southern people are called upon

First—To make negro State Senators.

Second—To make negro Assemblymen.

Third—To make negro Justices of the Peace.

Fourth—To make negro Policemen.

Fifth—To make the negro legislators generally.

It is not merely the Ballot which the North puts into the hands of the Southern negro, by the aid of Federal bayonets, but Office.

We do not commit this injustice upon ourselves. Why should we insist upon the great wrong of degrading great States and millions of white people, merely to give these States over to the Radical power and influence?

[From the Land We Love.]

In his great speech at Atlanta, Ben Hill, of Georgia, after exhausting his wonderful vocabulary of epithets of contempt and contumely for the base creatures, who have sold themselves and country for a mess of black pottage, paused to search for another expression of scorn, stronger, bitterer and fiercer than any he had yet employed, and then bellowed forth, "O, ye vile, unnameable things!" Others like the great Georgia orator, have felt the utter inadequacy of the English language to tell the degradation and infamy of this class. The word Scalawag has therefore been imported from the Pacific coast. But grant that it imports mean, mangy dog, as alleged by some, still, it only partially reveals the baseness of the renegade. It does not speak of that prurient thievishness, which makes the renegade restless, itchy and miserable, as he is apt to be since office where stealing is practiced. It is with unfeigned diffidence that we approach a subject encompassed with such difficulties, and it may seem presumptuous in us to suggest an expressive epithet, when the master of denunciation may have it to say in despair. But it has often happened, when men of science had labored for years to make a particularly discovery, some unlearned farmer or mechanic has stumbled upon it unawares. So we think that we have stumbled upon the expression, which Ben Hill sought for and found not. Does not the epithet, "Fetich," fit the whole tribe? Does it not aptly portray the renegade class? No stronger or better word can be found than "loyal" to express that itching desire for other people's money. It is beautifully suggestive, significant and suggestive.—The people all over the land in its length and breadth understand it to mean just that and nothing more. Fetichism is the lowest and most brutal form of negro worship in their native Africa. The Fetich are the worshippers. Hence the "loyal Fetich" are thievish whites engaged in beastly negro-worship. So a single simple term embraces all the foul mass. The loyal Governor is the Fetich Chief. The loyal judge is the Fetich Priest. He sits in the temple of justice surrounded by negro jurors, and offers up his odorous incense.—The Chief Justice [illegible] becomes the High Priest of Fetichism. So far as we can learn, the Hon. Reuel Jos. Borne, who is chosen in all the reconstructed States. Some of his subordinates are [illegible] notorious inmates of penitentiaries, some in State prisons, and some, more elevated, have only taken their degrees in Counties [illegible].

A WARNING.—A New York paper warns people in the country not to come to New York in search of employment:

"To come here to-day is the extreme of destitution, hunger and despair. A man may run around for months in search of work, without finding what he wants, or that he is compelled to take anything that is offered. There are sometimes chances for certain people in certain branches of business, but they are few and far between, so far that it is much better for people to remain in the country and work for lower wages, than to come to New York after work, which they have such difficulties in obtaining. If the country people would know how much money and destitution is in store for those who, of healthy, able-bodied men and women, come now until next spring, they would think it over up all idea of coming here. Let them go South or West, to the mines or the woods, where the cost of living is low, and where there is always some sort of work to be had. If they love themselves, they must stay away from this city."

HAD HER THERE.—An old, deformed negro woman was passing along Fourth street, yesterday afternoon. A fashionable Miss, troubled considerably with the "Grecian bend," turned around and looked after the poor, old, negro woman, and was rather disposed to make fun of her deformity.—The old negro woman stopped and looked at her a minute or two, and very truthfully remarked: "Lor, Miss, you needn't be pokin' fun at me, kase the Lor' a' 'mighty hose you'se a bigger curiosity to look at dan I is." The young lady "humped" her self.—Louisville Journal.

NORTH CAROLINA

THE VOTE IN THE APRIL ELECTION.

We publish below, for the sake of reference, the official tabular statement of the vote in the April election in this State.—The 29,774, who did not vote, were men who were registered, and entitled to vote, at the time of the election. In addition to this, it may be safely estimated that 15,000 men in the State are now enfranchised, who could not vote before.
