THE SENTINEL.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The Sentinel is published every day, except Sunday, at the following rates:

Single copy, one year	$3 00
" six months	1 50
" three months	75
" one month	25
Weekly Sentinel, one year	1 00
" six months	50

Subscriptions to be paid in advance.

Advertising rates made known on application at the office, No. 58 Clinton street.

Job Printing of every description executed with neatness and dispatch.

Communications should be addressed to the Editor, and all business letters to the Publisher.

STATE AFFAIRS.

We any THERE MUST be a change in the spendthrifts of Albany.

We hope this custom will become general.

The following are items from T. Dewese's list of Western county. John Hyman, the colored delegate from that county, knew far better than Dewese the character of the people he represented, and if Dewese's people in the north counties had been as intelligent, as well informed, as honest, as John Hyman's people have been, Hyman would have been elected, and he would have been a member of the Convention. It is really appreciated that, while almost every county in Western New York was represented by a number of colored delegates, this county, and the other two counties of Wayne and Seneca, which have a larger colored population than any other counties in the State, should be without representation. The charge is not true that the people of Wayne county, and those counties, are unwilling that colored men should do as they would do for others. They were not consulted, and had no opportunity to express their opinions. Wayne county, and the other counties referred to, would have elected colored delegates, had they been consulted. The charge is false, and no one knows how utterly dishonest it is better than the people of Wayne county, who have been misrepresented in this matter.

The following are items from T. Dewese's list of Western county. John Hyman, the colored delegate from that county, knew far better than Dewese the character of the people he represented, and if Dewese's people in the north counties had been as intelligent, as well informed, as honest, as John Hyman's people have been, Hyman would have been elected, and he would have been a member of the Convention. It is really appreciated that, while almost every county in Western New York was represented by a number of colored delegates, this county, and the other two counties of Wayne and Seneca, which have a larger colored population than any other counties in the State, should be without representation. The charge is not true that the people of Wayne county, and those counties, are unwilling that colored men should do as they would do for others. They were not consulted, and had no opportunity to express their opinions. We have confidence in our people, and believe they would have taken Hyman's name as readily as Joseph W. Holden's. He was addressed by a number of radical speakers, and was elected by a majority of 1,500. Dewese's people in the north counties, and in the State, have been misled by the radical leaders, and they will be entirely justified in rebuking them for it. We have confidence in our people, and believe they would have taken Hyman's name as readily as Joseph W. Holden's. He was addressed by a number of radical speakers, and was elected by a majority of 1,500. Dewese's people in the north counties, and in the State, have been misled by the radical leaders, and they will be entirely justified in rebuking them for it.

To-night a mass meeting of citizens was addressed by a number of radical speakers, among whom was Joseph W. Holden. He said the Democratic party was composed of "dirty men." Holden was formerly a Democrat, and it is presumed that he was referring to himself when he used the above expression. It is really appreciated that, while all the newspapers in the State, except the Democratic papers, have been attacking Dewese, and the Democratic party, for the course they have taken in relation to the colored delegates, the Democratic papers have defended them. Nearly all the Democratic papers in the State have spoken in favor of the delegates, and have condemned the course of the Republican papers. The Democratic papers have been right, and the Republican papers wrong. The Democratic papers have been honest, and the Republican papers dishonest. The Democratic papers have been consistent, and the Republican papers inconsistent. The Democratic papers have been fair, and the Republican papers unfair. The Democratic papers have been just, and the Republican papers unjust. The Democratic papers have been true, and the Republican papers false. The Democratic papers have been honorable, and the Republican papers dishonorable. The Democratic papers have been manly, and the Republican papers unmanly. The Democratic papers have been generous, and the Republican papers ungenerous. The Democratic papers have been liberal, and the Republican papers illiberal. The Democratic papers have been magnanimous, and the Republican papers pusillanimous. The Democratic papers have been high-minded, and the Republican papers low-minded. The Democratic papers have been noble, and the Republican papers ignoble. The Democratic papers have been patriotic, and the Republican papers unpatriotic. The Democratic papers have been virtuous, and the Republican papers vicious. The Democratic papers have been moral, and the Republican papers immoral. The Democratic papers have been religious, and the Republican papers irreligious. The Democratic papers have been Christian, and the Republican papers heathen. The Democratic papers have been civilized, and the Republican papers barbarous. The Democratic papers have been humane, and the Republican papers inhumane. The Democratic papers have been gentlemanly, and the Republican papers ungentlemanly. The Democratic papers have been ladylike, and the Republican papers unladylike. The Democratic papers have been refined, and the Republican papers unrefined. The Democratic papers have been cultivated, and the Republican papers uncultivated. The Democratic papers have been educated, and the Republican papers uneducated. The Democratic papers have been learned, and the Republican papers unlearned. The Democratic papers have been wise, and the Republican papers foolish. The Democratic papers have been sensible, and the Republican papers senseless. The Democratic papers have been intelligent, and the Republican papers unintelligent. The Democratic papers have been enlightened, and the Republican papers unenlightened. The Democratic papers have been civilized, and the Republican papers uncivilized. The Democratic papers have been humane, and the Republican papers inhumane. The Democratic papers have been Christian, and the Republican papers heathen. The Democratic papers have been religious, and the Republican papers irreligious. The Democratic papers have been moral, and the Republican papers immoral. The Democratic papers have been virtuous, and the Republican papers vicious. The Democratic papers have been honest, and the Republican papers dishonest. The Democratic papers have been fair, and the Republican papers unfair. The Democratic papers have been just, and the Republican papers unjust. The Democratic papers have been true, and the Republican papers false. The Democratic papers have been honorable, and the Republican papers dishonorable. The Democratic papers have been manly, and the Republican papers unmanly. The Democratic papers have been generous, and the Republican papers ungenerous. The Democratic papers have been liberal, and the Republican papers illiberal. The Democratic papers have been magnanimous, and the Republican papers pusillanimous. The Democratic papers have been high-minded, and the Republican papers low-minded. The Democratic papers have been noble, and the Republican papers ignoble. The Democratic papers have been patriotic, and the Republican papers unpatriotic. The Democratic papers have been virtuous, and the Republican papers vicious. The Democratic papers have been moral, and the Republican papers immoral. The Democratic papers have been religious, and the Republican papers irreligious. The Democratic papers have been Christian, and the Republican papers heathen. The Democratic papers have been civilized, and the Republican papers uncivilized. The Democratic papers have been humane, and the Republican papers inhumane. The Democratic papers have been gentlemanly, and the Republican papers ungentlemanly. The Democratic papers have been ladylike, and the Republican papers unladylike. The Democratic papers have been refined, and the Republican papers unrefined. The Democratic papers have been cultivated, and the Republican papers uncultivated. The Democratic papers have been educated, and the Republican papers uneducated. The Democratic papers have been learned, and the Republican papers unlearned. The Democratic papers have been wise, and the Republican papers foolish. The Democratic papers have been sensible, and the Republican papers senseless. The Democratic papers have been intelligent, and the Republican papers unintelligent. The Democratic papers have been enlightened, and the Republican papers unenlightened. The Democratic papers have been civilized, and the Republican papers uncivilized. The Democratic papers have been humane, and the Republican papers inhumane. The Democratic papers have been Christian, and the Republican papers heathen. The Democratic papers have been religious, and the Republican papers irreligious. The Democratic papers have been moral, and the Republican papers immoral. The Democratic papers have been virtuous, and the Republican papers vicious. The Democratic papers have been honest, and the Republican papers dishonest. The Democratic papers have been fair, and the Republican papers unfair. The Democratic papers have been just, and the Republican papers unjust. The Democratic papers have been true, and the Republican papers false. The Democratic papers have been honorable, and the Republican papers dishonorable. The Democratic papers have been manly, and the Republican papers unmanly. The Democratic papers have been generous, and the Republican papers ungenerous. The Democratic papers have been liberal, and the Republican papers illiberal. The Democratic papers have been magnanimous, and the Republican papers pusillanimous. The Democratic papers have been high-minded, and the Republican papers low-minded. The Democratic papers have been noble, and the Republican papers ignoble. The Democratic papers have been patriotic, and the Republican papers unpatriotic. The Democratic papers have been virtuous, and the Republican papers vicious. The Democratic papers have been moral, and the Republican papers immoral. The Democratic papers have been religious, and the Republican papers irreligious. The Democratic papers have been Christian, and the Republican papers heathen. The Democratic papers have been civilized, and the Republican papers uncivilized. The Democratic papers have been humane, and the Republican papers inhumane. The Democratic papers have been gentlemanly, and the Republican papers ungentlemanly. The Democratic papers have been ladylike, and the Republican papers unladylike. The Democratic papers have been refined, and the Republican papers unrefined. The Democratic papers have been cultivated, and the Republican papers uncultivated. The Democratic papers have been educated, and the Republican papers uneducated. The Democratic papers have been learned, and the Republican papers unlearned. The Democratic papers have been wise, and the Republican papers foolish. The Democratic papers have been sensible, and the Republican papers senseless.

We any THERE MUST be a change in the spendthrifts of Albany.

We hope this custom will become general.

It is a good showing.

Our Democratic Commissioners of Elections in Albany have done their duty, and have struck from the registry the names of 2,000 fraudulent voters. Their action has been sustained by the Supreme Court, and the Republican Commissioners have been overruled. The Democratic Commissioners have done their duty, and have struck from the registry the names of 2,000 fraudulent voters. Their action has been sustained by the Supreme Court, and the Republican Commissioners have been overruled. The Democratic Commissioners have done their duty, and have struck from the registry the names of 2,000 fraudulent voters. Their action has been sustained by the Supreme Court, and the Republican Commissioners have been overruled.

Democratic Commissioners