

The Daily Sentinel

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1868.

VOL. IV.

The Daily Sentinel.

W. H. BELL, PROPRIETOR.

The Friends We Love.—We have had frequent occasion to refer to this admirable magazine until we return to a consideration of its merits with special pleasure after examining the November number. This enters into his peculiar claims upon us. First of all, Lieutenant General Hill deserves well of the South. Stern and rigid as he was, we all know that he never called on his men to do where he was not ready to lead; and the spirit which made us all recognize him as an earnest, representative man through the war, shines out through this paper of his magazine. For this reason it has become an exponent for Southern thought and sentiment. It has the true coloring of the land we love; and bids fair to preserve for posterity the very best collection of authentic facts connected with our struggle for independence to be found in the country. Contrast it for a moment with the periodicals of the North. It has the pictorial lies of Harper, and the careful imitations of English literature to be found in the Atlantic; but, it has an individual life and vigor, a coloring borrowed from the times, which combine to make it not only a Southern, but an American magazine.

Viewed in this just light it should be a special object with all of us to give it a hearty support. The man now carries the state, and the lion is prone before his conqueror; but General Hill furnished his material from which a new study may be made and a new group cast.

Let us show that we are superior to the blandishments of lie pictures, and give our support to a magazine which deserves the success which we are glad to know it is achieving.—Norfolk Virginian.

A Total Eclipse in 1869.—Prof. S. V. White writes to a New York paper of a total eclipse of the sun which is to occur in August 1869. His notes of the track of the totally, calculated fifteen years ago, are as follows:

The sun will rise eclipsed in the interior of Siberia, on the following morning of August 7, 1869, whence the shadow will move in a north-easterly direction; then turning seawards and westward, will pass over the Bering Strait and Northern Alaska about noon, local time. Thence moving across a part of British North America, it will re-enter the United States in Montana, between two and three P. M., local time. Moving thence across Western Nebraska, it will pass diagonally through Iowa, passing over Sioux City, Des Moines, and Kansas about 5 o'clock. Thence it will pass still south-east, over Jacksonville, Illinois, across Southern Indiana, Central Kentucky, East Tennessee, into and across North Carolina, and will touch the sea coast in Carolina Sound; and it will finally leave the earth not far from the Bermudas. It will be visible in all parts of the United States and total over a belt of one hundred miles wide along the line just indicated, the shadow being more than four minutes.

The Two Thirds of Congress.—The Radicals have a nice little game by which to hoodwink or retain their mastery over him. They have re-counted the vote in Mississippi, and though the Commanding General reported that the Constitution was rejected by 7,000 majority, they, by adroit arithmetic, find the majority the other way. This admits five carpet-baggers to Congress. The election in Louisiana is to be charged to "reconstruction," and set aside. That disposes of five more anti-Radicals. Georgia is to be subjected to the same ordeal, and her seven members will disappear. In the meantime, sundry Democrats from the Northern States will have their seats contested, and a contest is equivalent to extinction; thus means, the Party will regain its two-thirds ascendancy in Congress, and hold Gen. Grant in the same position of impotency that Mr. Johnson has been in for two years. It would seem from these calculations that Radicals are expecting rebellion and treason on the part of Grant, and they are determined to be ready for him. But have they canvassed all their own party? Do they know that none of those elected as Radicals will not become traitors with Grant? That's an important point.—Richmond Daily.

If General Grant has, as it is stated in the paper, asserted that he will attend the complimentary dinner to be given to Mr. Everts in New York, in case certain gentlemen named not present, then he has said at least one foolish thing and been guilty of a gross breach of good manners. Messrs. Randall, McCulloch and Wells are recognized as gentlemen by Mr. Everts. They are his colleagues in the Cabinet. For Gen. Grant, or any other man, to express any opinion as to who ought to be at the dinner to Mr. Everts is an incurable presumption. If he has doubts as to the character of any of the guests, let him stay away.

We cannot credit the story. General Grant would hardly be guilty of such impudent items.—Richmond Daily.

At one time, woman could hardly walk through the streets of San Francisco without having every one pause to gaze on her; and a child was so rare that one at a theatre in the same city, where a woman had taken her infant when it began to cry, just as the orchestra began to play, a man in the pit cried out, "Stop those fiddlers and let the baby cry." I have heard such a sound for ten years. The audience applauded this sentiment; the orchestra stopped, and the baby continued its performance amid unbounded enthusiasm.

Edmund Holston, a colored Democrat, has lost three cows and his plough horse. He was warned before the election "that it would be worse for him." Two of his cows have disappeared. The third—fat and in full health—was killed, the hide taken off, and the spot. His horse was poisoned. If this is a sample of the liberty of free suffrage, where will it end?—Augusta Constitution.

We trust our friend of the Cleveland Plain Dealer will be able to explain what has become of that tremendous Israeli vote in Ohio and other States that was to be cast for Seymour and Blair.—Louisville Courier.

We can. The day before the election we noticed in the Courier or some other Democratic paper an article headed "To Your Tent, Ovi! Israel!" Our Hebrew friends evidently went to their tents and remained there.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FRUIT TREES, SPICE TREES.

We are able to supply all kinds of fruit trees, including the following: Choice Young trees suited to this climate.

Now is the best season for setting out orchards, send your orders and we will furnish trees at short notice, bound for Charlotte.

W. T. STRONACH & CO.,

Ans. and Cons. Merchants.

IRON AND STEEL.

Boggy and Wagon Tire.

Oval and Half Oval Iron.

Barrel and Gun Metal.

Brass Iron, Lead, Tin, Zinc.

Cast and Blister Steel.

BRASS.

Bells, Boxes, Buttons, Lids, &c.

IRON AXLE WAGON.

ONE NEW IRON AXLE TWO HORSE Wagon,

which I will sell cheap.

Oct. 23-4.

R. P. WILLIAMSON.

SOMETHING NEW.

Seal Box Knives.

Oyster-opening Knives.

J. BROWN.

With Hart & Lewis.

COTTON BAGGING AND ROPE.

BAGGING 23 YD.

A lot of Calcutta Bagging—standard weight.

G. T. STRONACH.

Com. Merchant.

NOVEMBER LOT OF PATAPOO FLOUR.

100 lbs. in half bale.

DOUGLAS BELL.

ITALIAN MACARONI.

Just received by Oct. 26-4.

DOUGLAS BELL.

PRIME GROCERIES.

Just the thing for hot Backwash Cakes.

ALSO

"XXX" Drips—clear as honey.

Just received by Nov. 6-7.

DOUGLAS BELL.

SODA CRACKERS.

10 bbls. Soda Crackers, at

UFCURCH & DODDS.

POOL & UZZLE,

12 Fayetteville Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

GROCERIES,

ALSO,

BOOK AND SHOE,

HATS AND CAPS,

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

DOMESTICS AND PRINTS.

WINE, BRANDIES, &c.

ALWAYS ON HAND:

NO. 1 KEROSENE OIL AND

LAMPS,

NATHER.

1,500 lbs Good Sole Leather.

Oct. 22-4.

G. T. STRONACH.

ANGL. & COM. MERCHANTS.

NOVEMBER.

CAST STEEL—Square 14 inch.

IRON from 14 to 16 lbs.

SWEDEN IRON.

ALSO

Cast and English Blister Steel, reported.

J. BROWN.

Raleigh, Nov. 14-15.

With Hart & Lewis.

1868. FALL TRADE. 1868.

THIN WARE FOR SALE.

By the quantity or retail.

J. BROWN.

Raleigh, Nov. 21-22.

With Hart & Lewis.

CAST STEEL—Square 14 inch.

IRON from 14 to 16 lbs.

SWEDEN IRON.

ALSO

Cast and English Blister Steel, reported.

J. BROWN.

Raleigh, Nov. 14-15.

With Hart & Lewis.

POOL & UZZLE.

POOL & UZZLE.