OPINIONS OF THE NEWSPAPER PRESS UPON THE PRESIDENT'S AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.

[From the Washington Intelligencer (administration organ,) Dec. 25.]

The proclamation by the President of general and unconditional amnesty to all participating in the late rebellion will be read with more than common interest. It is brief in its terms, and, like all the other State papers of the President, direct and perspicuous. * * * * * * *

It cannot be said that the President has acted hastily or inconsiderately in this important matter. Every step has been taken advisedly, and upon a full consideration of the condition of public sentiment, and the best interests of the country, its permanent honor, welfare and safety. His first act of amnesty, issued soon after the close of the war, pardoned by one act the masses of those lately in resistance to the federal authority, but all those prominent by office, wealth or influence were omitted for further and more special pardons, and by successive acts of amnesty, the number of those excluded from pardon was reduced to a comparatively few persons, until by the proclamation of the 4th of July last there were less than a hundred excluded, being those who were under indictment in the federal courts. This included Mr. Davis, General Lee, General Breckinridge and other prominent men of the Confederacy; but among the list thus still shut out from the benefits of the amnesty were not a few persons who were much less conspicuous than many of those whose pardons had already been granted, with the approval of the country. In this connection we may note the fact that both the great parties of the country are in a measure committed to approve this act of general amnesty by the President. The Democratic party, assembled in Convention at New York, planted itself on the broad ground of "amnesty for all political offences;" and the republicans, by failing to insist in their platform upon the application of the penal laws on the statute book against Mr. Davis and his associates, may be regarded as substantially yielding to the position assumed by many of their leading speakers and writers, namely, "universal suffrage and universal amnesty." * * * * * * *

Intelligent, sagacious, and eminently practical, the American people are to-day sincerely anxious for peace, harmony and a real restoration of the Union; they want not merely a territorial sovereignty, but a knitting together once more in fraternal harmony of the forces lately jarring and at war, destined, soon, we trust, to "march all one way." This yearning of the national heart is not to be put off with words or promises; it demands substantial positive acts. The proclamation to-day will be hailed as a real tangible step towards peace.

[From the Philadelphia Press (Congress organ,) Dec 25.]

President Johnson's proclamation, in which he deliberately sets himself against the fourteenth constitutional amendment, and attempts to pardon the enemies of the government in the late rebellion, is the latest of the eleventh hour expedients.—There seems to be little opportunity or even disposition to punish these reckless men; but if anything could induce Congress to refuse to relieve them it is this constant effort of the President to defy the constitution and the laws and to set them free under his own proclamation. The question has been repeatedly settled that his pardoning power does not reach these cases; but he seems disposed to disavow all authority, and to terminate his career in the Presidency by proving that his counsel in the beginning of it, that "traitors should be punished and be made to take a back seat," was utterly insincere and dishonest. Should Davis, Beauregard, Mason and others attempt to resume their rights under this proclamation a case will be made up of some interest. Congress will, no doubt, take early notice of it.

[From the Providence Journal (organ of United States Senator Anthony,) Dec. 25.]

The President has issued a proclamation extending amnesty and pardon, without reservation, to all the participants in the late rebellion, and restoring, so far as executive proclamation can, all their forfeited rights and immunities. This proclamation will enable a number of distinguished exiles to return to the land they sought to rend in twain. Further than that it will accomplish little for good or evil.

[From the Washington Chronicle (Congress radical,) Dec. 25.]

We print elsewhere the latest proclamation of Andrew Johnson. This time he proclaims a universal amnesty, including in it even the chiefs of the rebellion. This much, at least, must be said for him in this connection—viz., that he shows a certain sense of poetic fitness in selecting Christmas Day for his proclamation of "peace on earth and good will to men." It will be recollected, that his last amnesty proclamation also appeared to have been issued with an eye to dramatic as well as political effect, the day selected being the Fourth of July and the day of assembling of the democratic nominating convention. As Davis was in a fair way to be released by the courts he will not have so very much for which to thank Mr. Johnson. In view of the latter's plebeian origin this circumstance will doubtless be pleasing to his aristocratic conceit.

[From the Baltimore American (Congress Radical,) Dec. 25.]

President Johnson yesterday issued his expected amnesty proclamation extending pardon, unconditionally and without reservation, for the offence of treason to the United States and adhering to their enemies to all parties concerned in the late rebellion, with a restoration to all their rights, immunities and privileges under the Constitution and the laws. While the pardon puts an end to the Jeff Davis case and enables Breckinridge, Stidell, Mason, and others, now abroad, to return to the United States, it does not relieve either these or any other parties from the disabilities imposed by the fourteenth Constitutional amendment. It simply relieves them from prosecution for treason.

[From the New Haven Palladium, (Congress Radical), Dec. 25.]

Andrew Johnson, who began his Presidency by pounding to hang Jeff Davis and his brother rebels, has issued a proclamation giving them complete amnesty. It is of course an act of mercy, but we do not care to feel kindly with it. None of the rebels would have been punished and none shall go that way, should. To be pardoned by Andrew Johnson is an additional ignominy.

[From the New Haven Journal (Congress Radical) Dec. 25.]

This season of "peace, good will to men," President Johnson has seen proper to commemorate by issuing the proclamation of universal amnesty, published in another column. Full pardon is now extended to all who in any way or in any capacity aided the rebellion. The leading spirits, excluded by the terms of preceding proclamations—Breckinridge, Jacob Thompson, Mason and Slidell—now come within its terms, and on the strength of a new lease of life may return from their forced expatriation to fill the chairs of vacant college presidencies or concoct new schemes for national ruin. A ready delivery from the Jeff Davis dilemma is herein provided, and in putting an end to the trial farce the community will experience a grateful sense of relief.

[From the Baltimore Sun (Independent,) December 25.]

The President has finished up his pardons on account of the rebellion in a comprehensive and becoming amnesty proclamation, dated and issued to-day. The season for this exhibition of Executive clemency and good sense is well chosen to illustrate the benign influences of peace and good will toward men.

That the "prudential reservations and exceptions" made on past occasions "may now be wisely and justly relinquished," is a conviction shared with the President by all reasonable and truly patriotic men; by all who have breadth of mind and heart sufficient to recognize in the grand act now proclaimed a deed worthy of the magnanimity of a great and powerful nation. To restore to those citizens of a country who are held to have forfeited rights and privileges as such by reason of a great struggle growing out of a conflict of opinion upon fundamental principles may well be done at a time when the issues involved in that struggle are accepted as determined, and all are anxious again to abide under the one government organization—acknowledging one country and one flag only. In view of all the facts set forth, the President proclaims and declares, unconditionally, and without reservation, to all and every person who, directly or indirectly, participated in the late insurrection or rebellion, a full pardon and amnesty for the offence of treason against the United States, or adhering to their enemies during the late civil war, with restoration of all rights, privileges and immunities under the constitution and the laws which have been made in pursuance thereof. In all, the President has now put forth six proclamations of amnesty, and this one goes to the full measure of his constitutional power in the premises.

What a rocky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but you, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guarantees a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies issued on the plans published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amounts of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

A Most Wonderful and Successful Invention!

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

Awarded the highest Testimonial wherever Exhibited.

Rev. M. W. STAPLES, Inventor and Patentee.

THIS BOILER is self-acting, and dispenses entirely with labor and the wear of clothes. The hot suds and steam by the action of fire, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing it perfectly without any rubbing. It has been thoroughly tested, and pronounced unequalled as a Clothes Washer, by those who have used it.

All fabrics, from the finest lace to the coarsest blanket, can be washed perfectly and with ease and without the aid of the rubbing-board. For Flannels it is invaluable, as the rubbing, pulling and pressing process, must necessarily full them more or less.

It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Washing will no longer be a hardship, and washing day no longer a terror and a dread to housewives.

The invention can be used in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

The saving in the wear of clothes will soon pay for the outlay.

It is estimated that 200 to 300 gallons of boiled suds pass through the clothes in thirty minutes; this being the longest time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes.

Hundreds of these Boilers are being sold each week, giving perfect satisfaction.

Every Boiler sold guaranteed to do all we claim, or money refunded.

Can be seen in full operation at Longee & Brother's.

We are selling COUNTY RIGHTS rapidly.
