GENERAL GRANT—THE POLICY OF THE NEW PRESIDENT—THE INDIAN QUESTION—THE SOUTH—THE TENURE OF OFFICE ACT.

[Correspondence of the Boston Advertiser.]

WASHINGTON, December 31.—If this next President has any policy it will be such that you can sum it up in three words—honesty, economy, manliness. I heard him speak one day of a public man to this effect: "His speech was a falsehood; there was nothing on which you could put your finger and say, 'this is a lie,' but the whole thing was a falsehood for all that; I've opposed him ever since I heard him make that speech." There is no mistaking the spirit from which these words came. General Grant can respect an open enemy; he wants nothing to do with a man who shuffles or prevaricates, or is given to double dealing. He will show us an administration in which honesty and manhood are respected. He does not go to members of Congress and tell them that he wants this and that; he does not even say to them that he thinks such laws ought to be passed. If they undertake to pump him he is silent and noncommunicative. But he is studying the position; he is thinking his way down through the situation, and from time to time he shows the results of his study and his thought.

Looking at the number and magnitude of the jobs that came into Congress during the first ten days behind—that cloak "be it enacted, &c," he said he sometimes feared there wouldn't be anything left in the Treasury by next March. If I could show you how the jobbers are organizing their forces, how adroitly they are laying their plans, you course I might have some fear. To the man who hinted that such and such a thing was good and ought to be allowed to go through, he replied that it took money out of the Treasury, was not necessary, and ought to be killed as soon as possible.

The Indian question is one on which he has thought a great deal. Our present system, he says, is full of fraud—fraud on the Indians and fraud on the government. It ought to be reformed. The gigantic ring must be broken up; not more in the interests of the Indians than in the interests of civilization and public order. Our dealings with the Indians properly lay us open to charges of cruelty and swindling. He believes a transfer of the bureau to the War Department will enable us to stop this national disgrace of cheating and dishonesty if the Indians will not behave when they are fairly dealt with, then we must force them to behave. In such a course lies their well being and the well-being of the government.

The Southern problem is one he has been obliged to study for some years. We do not want any reduction of the army at present, he says. He hopes the Southern people will see that he means to deal fairly with them—hopes they will, of their own accord, deal fairly with one another, and with the government. But we must have peace down there, he adds; the rights of all classes must be observed; every man who is a peaceable citizen must feel safe in his work and his home; if that safety cannot be had in one way, the government will have to find it in another; these murders and Ku Klux outrages must be stopped.

The persons who talk most with the General are constantly surprised and delighted at finding how wide his views are, at seeing how much he has already considered the details of the work he enters upon next March. He goes at things in his own way, and there is a racy charm in his statement of results attained. He makes no stump speeches in his office or his library—the matter of his mind is so narrowly that he can put it into a few words. He speaks so simply and directly that you have no difficulty in catching his meaning. He may decline to give you an answer, but so far as I know, he does not try to blind anybody with the smoke of diplomacy.

I think he will have to settle the Alabama claims. Is any one so simple as to suppose that he will keep Reverdy Johnson in England? You may safely say that he will not. Mr. Johnson is not doing us any credit, he said to one friend, and if the administration were in proper sympathy with the people it would recall him. Mr. Johnson, you know, tried to cover the sin of his bobtailing with Laird, Roebuck, and Wharncliffe by the mantle of Grant's course toward Longstreet and other rebel officers. I leave you to imagine what Grant said when he saw that letter.

He will conduct the government with economy. If he uses the veto power, it is likely to be in killing schemes for taking money out of the Treasury. He is against jobs and jobbers, and I think we shall find he has a good eye for detecting jobs, be they never so carefully covered in phraseology. We should have the strictest honesty in collecting our revenues, and the strictest economy in their expenditure, he says.—This will be one of the cardinal doctrines of his administration.

He is no enemy of Pacific railroads. He favors internal improvements of all kinds. He wants to see industry thrive, commerce prosper, and capital multiply. But, unless I am greatly misinformed, he would not, even if we had no public debt, fall in with the idea that government must lead the way in these local improvements. As it is, he believes we should seek to pay what debt we now have rather than look for ways of increasing it. Hence hundreds of these river and harbor jobs must wait till a more convenient season. Hence we must get along for a few years with the Pacific railways already subsidied. The time will come when we can have other lines across the country; the time may come when government can afford to aid other lines; just now he is strongly opposed to any further advances of our credit. His talk with Congressmen on this point is decided and refreshingly vigorous. Persons who profess to believe that the future of the Union rests on this, or that, or the other great improvements, will not get much sympathy or comfort from interviews with him.

The tenure-of-office act was passed as a temporary expedient—a sort of war measure growing out of the fight between Congress and the President, as one Senator put the idea to me. Unquestionably some persons think it embodies a good principle—I am of the number. Undoubtedly as operation, from a close outlook, has been bad. It has prevented the President from removing some wheels of villainy, but it has not given him an excuse for retaining many whom the country wishes to be corrupt or inefficient.

I could not find any good authority for the assertion that General Grant says it ought to be repealed. Several persons with whom he has spoken firmly believe he wants it repealed—it would not be unnatural if he did. One Senator says he remarked that in his view it might properly be repealed. This is the strongest expression of opinion I have heard from him. To two or three gentlemen he has said that if it is not repealed the Senate ought to sit in almost continuous session next summer.

He cares less for party qualifications in an officer than for personal qualifications. He has said that we suffer from a too literal interpretation of the maxim which affirms that the spoils belong to the victor. Offices should be for the good of the country, not for the benefit particularly of any party. This I believe to be his view. I think, from what I have heard, that no man in office is to be removed merely because he is a Democrat. If he was firm for the country during her struggle, and is a faithful, an honest and a capable official, he stands a fair chance of keeping the place. Copperheads, political time-servers, blatant Democratic politicians may as well send in their resignations, to take effect on the 4th of March next. Existing vacancies and vacancies hereafter made will, I am sure, be filled from the Republican ranks. Yet the aim, first and last, will be to get upright and efficient men, rather than to reward party services. If we proffer such men for appointment we shall get the office, but the show for old party hacks is not a very good one just at this time.

How to deal with this problem of getting out Mr. Johnson's bad men and getting in General Grant's good men, while the tenure-of-office act is in effect, is a question for consideration. As fast as he can find them, the next President will remove the corrupt and the incapable—the work cannot be done in one month, nor in two months. Shall the act be repealed, or shall the Senate sit here through the spring and summer and autumn? The matter is worth your attention—particularly worth the attention of those who are opposed to the repeal.

EDUCATIONAL.

Kittrell's Springs Female College.

GRANVILLE CO., N. C.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will be resumed the second Wednesday in February.

The Annual Commencement will occur the last Wednesday in June.

REV. T. M. JONES, the former popular and accomplished President of Greensboro and Louisburg Female Colleges, has accepted the Presidency of this school, and will enter upon his duties in February. His long and successful experience his eminent scholarship, and his devotion to the educational interests of the South, forbid any word of commendation.

REV. C. B. RIDDICK, formerly President, is still identified with the operations of the Institution, and retires from the care of the Literary Department, only to devote himself more exclusively to its other interests.

LOCATION not to be surpassed. The celebrated MINERAL WATER an unfailing fountain of health. EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES complete. An extensive APPARATUS and LIBRARY. MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS new and of the best style.

Terms moderate as at any other school of similar grade.

Persons wishing to send their daughters will remember that we are on the great line of railroad leading North and South, within less than half-mile of Kittrell's Depot, Raleigh and Gaston Railroad.

For other particulars, apply to

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

141 Broadway, N. Y.

ASSETS OVER

$1,000,000!

CHRISTIAN W. DOU'E.....President.
ABRAM D. POLHEMUS.....Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE.....Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER.....Consulting Actuary.
DANIEL AYRES, M. D., LL.D., Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the most LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company, and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamps.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

H. W. St JOHN, Actuary.

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867

Total Assets, over	$10,000,000
Polices Insured in '67,	13,251
Am't Insured, nearly	$45,000,000
Policies Average "	3,600
Receipts for 1867,	5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends,	2,000,000

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the ÆTNA has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is so liberal in permits to travel, to all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Rx. of rate at age 30 $14 07, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends or contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, as an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

Large SHIPPERS SPECIALLY
Look Via R. & G. R. R!

WE Inaugurated and are the Great through Inland Air Line Route to all the Northern Markets, and have successfully worked the Line to the entire satisfaction of Shippers, North and south, for the last ten years, as the ten Thousand shippers in North and South Carolina will testify. We paid the State near Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $40,000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South, than any other line.

NOTICE!
