THE SENTINEL.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1869.

FLED FROM JUSTICE AND THE LAW.

On Thursday last, Judge Alden, of the Governor's reconstruction staff, fled from the city. He was in a fine carriage, drawn by a span of fine bay horses, accompanied by Pruyn, who sold the Penitentiary land for one hundred thousand dollars, and a fr.edman.

The fugitive from justice and the law, arrived at Cary, on the N. C. Railroad, about an hour in advance of the train. The carriage stood in the woods, south of Page's store, and between two roads leading to the store. His carpet-bag was well filled. His appearance excited suspicion, when he entered the train. Pruyn went in at one end of the car, and the flying Judge, at the other. Gov. Holden had better make a requisition, on the Governor of his State, for this criminal, instead of calling on the Senate to expel Senator Sweet for failure to make good his charges of bribery and corruption, after his (the Governor's) friends had fled the City, through fear of justice and the law.

Let the people not despair of their situation, however desperate and deplorable it may seem. One by one, justice drives the guilty criminals out of the City. Every man that runs, is the friend of Holden and his administration, and was, last Summer, on his reconstruction staff.

This swindling scamp has fled; no longer can he share in the public deliberations; no longer attend Radical caucuses where the legislation of the State is first carried out by the Lieut. Governor, Cebe Harris, Downing and Company.

The ruinous debt every day imposed upon the people by their irresponsible Legislature, may be traced to the influence of such men as Alden, Littlefield and the Ring.

The flight of Alden will be a sad blow to the Governor and his Reconstruction Staff. Alden had more talent than any man on that staff, but not more villainy, although he is a swindler. Yes, we say swindler, if he is the Governor's friend; any milder term would be to compromise with crime and fraud. Blow your horn, Billy! Put Jeff in the woods about Page's, and if he don't cry the track of a swindler, it will be because Judge Alden's has grown cold since Thursday last.

The rates of fare over our Railroads are entirely too high for the times, and the "necessities" of the people, and it would be a good move, if our Railroad officials were to look into this matter and bring down the tariff to about half its present rate. Since Mr. Smith took the affairs of the North Carolina Road under his financial care, he has raised the price of travel. To illustrate: The old price, of $3 between Raleigh and Goldsboro', has been put up to $5, and in like proportion through the extent of the line. Now, Billy, in view of your "numbered days" as President, put one feather in your cap, by reducing the fare.

We give, to day, to the exclusion of other matter, the speech of Mr. Sweet, of the Senate, delivered on Friday last. Mr. Sweet is a Republican; his manly stand, taken in opposition to the wild and reckless measures of a majority of his party, entitles him to our respect and consideration. His speech will be read, we doubt not, with interest.

The Rev. Dr. Mitchell, connected with the Northern branch of the Methodist Church, preached to a large audience in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in this City, last Sabbath. We understand his discourse was of a thorough evangelical caste, and was listened to with marked attention.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS, YESTERDAY.—The heavy press of matter on our columns yesterday, crowded out our usual notice of new advertisements. We call attention to them to day.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., proposes to reduce their immense stock, by sale, at low figures.

Isaac B. Granger, Cashier, Wilmington, wishes to purchase "past due bonds and coupons" of the City of Wilmington.

John G. Fray's Classical and Mathematical School—14 miles Southeast of Raleigh. Mr. Fray comes highly recommended.

M. H. Ptenix—Attorney at law, Lexington, N. C.

J. R. Hunter & Co., Portsmouth, Va., now ready to ship Shell-Lime, at $7,50 per ton of 2,000 lbs.

R. P. Warring, Editor Charlotte Times—proposes to sell half interest in newspaper.

C. H. Rush—offers valuable real estate for sale in Troy, Montgomery county.

Charles' London Cordial Gin for sale by Pescud & Son, Phillip Thiem and Thiem & Miller.

AT AN adjourned meeting of the citizens of the county of Forsyth, held on the 19th ult., R. B. Teague, John F. Pemberton, Esqrs., and Dr. J. L. Johnson, were appointed delegates to Raleigh to convey the memorials, and intercede with the Legislature to relieve Forsyth county of the Railroad tax, amounting to $100,000.

The Chair replied that the Rule applied to both the bar of the House and the lobbies, and the noise and confusion made in the lobbies, made it now necessary to enforce the rule.

To the People of the Southern States

NEW YORK, NOV. 2, 1868.

When the pure food (diet preparative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to imitate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, many of the artists were employed to [illegible] the public, including some of the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed in those many liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with its undeniably character of the aromatic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by stealing designs of their labels, names, &c., that the protections so carefully thrown around these schnapps would have precluded the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement with his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by unscrupulous knaves; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with poisonous gin, the proper directions of all of which, and thus made the name and trade a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the delicious Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In connexion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit its core evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading druggists and physicians of the city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. As all goods of this the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

20 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov 21, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances usually employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. BELLI, Chemist.

NEW YORK, 55 CEDAR STREET, November 26, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from deleterious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. A. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 1,

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, are rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer your Bonded Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise, we remain your obedient servants,

VALENTINE MOTT, M. D., Professor of Surgery, University Medical College, New York.
J. M. CARNOCHAN, M. D., Professor of Clinical Surgery, Surgeon-in-Chief to the State Hospital, etc., No. 14 East Seventeenth Street.
