THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18 1869

TRUCE BROKEN.

We proclaimed a truce between Judge Watts and the Sentinel, more than a month ago. It is not our fault that it is broken.—We think him a wicked man who wantonly assails the Judiciary of his country. We think him a weak man, and a worthless citizen, who, seeing Judicial error or Judicial corruption, fears to speak of it.

Don't misunderstand us. We have seen no Judicial corruption on the part of Judge Watts. We have only seen him too cold on some Judicial inquiries and too hot on others. Too hot, when, by order of our "cussing" Governor, he adjourns Court at Louisburg to go to Halifax to inquire about an assault made upon one John H. Everett. This was a political sensation move of the "cussing" Governor to which the Judge should not have lent himself. Any Magistrate in Halifax could have heard the matter and bound over the parties as well as his Honor, Judge Watts.

If our "cussing" beloved Governor can believe himself, let him look to the Standard of 1865, or thereabouts, and he will see that he justly spoke of this same Everett as a cut throat assassin, &c., &c., for a cowardly attack upon an humble but honest and well known citizen of the State, Patrick McGowan.

This same man Everett, we are informed, was condemned to be shot, during the war, for plundering and stealing. Our "cussing beloved" appointed this assassin, as he called him and as he knew him to be, a magistrate for Halifax county. This plunderer and assassin, in September last, hastens to Raleigh, alleging that loyal men were not safe in Halifax, and that he had been shot at. Holden sends Coleman, the Attorney General, and Watts, the Judge, accompanied by a militia Company, to return to Halifax with his loyal assassinating Squire, to give him protection.

We copy from the Attorney General's report his account of this matter, as discreditable to the Governor, & his approval of the Penitentiary swindle and sale of bonds at 65.

In the matter of Everett, of Halifax county, says the Attorney General, the facts are substantially as follows:

"Mr. Everitt alleged to the Governor that in the month of September last, he had been assaulted and fired upon, and that his life was in danger, and that the civil authorities could not protect him. Upon those representations, a Company of militia armed and equiped for active service, were ordered to Weldon, and the Attorney General requested by the Governor to accompany Mr. Everitt, and investigate the matter. He did so, and upon arriving at Weldon, found the troops under arms and good order prevailing. Upon the assurance of the Sheriff, and other officers of the county, that a full and peaceable investigation could be had without the aid of the militia, the Attorney General recommended that they be discharged, which was accordingly done. At the request of Mr. Everitt, proceedings in the matter were stayed, he alleging that he could not get justice."

The truth is, as we have heard, this cut-throat 'squire of our "cussing beloved" made up the whole story and though backed by the Judge, Attorney General, "cussing" Governor, and a Company of his militia, he flees from the investigation and from the State, and has not been heard from since he parted with the Judge and Attorney General, and the militia Company at Weldon.

"Oh, Liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name!" "Oh, Loyalty, how many thieves cover with thy cloak!"

Herein the Judge was too hot.

Now, we will proceed to show when he was too cold.

On Thursday, of the last term of the Court, the Grand Jury presented the Editor of the Standard, and Attorney for the Chatham Railroad, and a number of others, for corruption.

In a few minutes after the presentment was made, the Judge adjourned the Court, before the Solicitor, General Cox, could draw bills of indictment.

The Judge must have known, from the newspapers, that bribery and corruption was charged upon the members of the Legislature. Yet, he adjourns Court, on Thursday evening, soon after the presentment was made by the Jury.

General Cox was once President of the Chatham Road, but we know he has too much Confederate pluck to hesitate about the performance of his duty, if the Judge had continued the Court until Saturday night, as he should have done.

A distinguished member of the Legislature is indicted at the Court now being held by Judge Watts for stealing a pistol. He failed to appear at the last fall term. He failed to appear at the first week of the present Term. If the Judge and Solicitor don't send a special copies for him, we shall think they do not give us the best they have in the "shop."

THE STATE TREASURY STILL EMPTY.—We learn that our State Treasury is still without money to pay off the hands in the Capitol, and they are consequently put to great inconvenience. Some time ago, one of the hands wanted a cabbage on credit, but was refused; more recently, another of the hands wanted a copy of Jefferson's Manual, and asked to be credited for the same, and was refused.

LAWYERS.—The Supreme Court has licensed, during the present term, John K. Hayes, Esq., of Orange, to practice law in the several Courts of this State.

NO PRAYERS, NO PIETY, NO MONEY. BUY DRUNKENNESS AMONG THE HANDS.

Yesterday, the most distinguished of all the hands, was too drunk to walk to the Capitol. He is a great pet and favorite of the Governor; no wonder he "cusses" and gets drunk, too. We don't mention this to expose the hand, but the Governor.

We think this high functionary has improved in his behavior since our abode in this city, as we have, in our loyalty; for instance, in December, we saw him standing at a bar or a grog shop where he drank, all alone. In January he was known to go in with Company, when his friend Joseph treated all hands. In February, and no later than yesterday, we saw him, with our own eyes, as if holding up the grog shop on Fayetteville street. He was standing right at the door, lazily bent over and forward, as if he were a prop for the house.

On Monday, when one of the hands, a Minister of the Gospel and laborer in the vineyard, was discussing the disgraceful affair between the Auditor and the Supreme Court, the pious member said, the Court had the cholic, and was in an ill humor. Col. Malone called him to order. The Speaker pro tem, (carpet-bag French,) with great promptitude, required him to state his point of order. Col. Malone said, it was not respectful so to speak of the Court. The Speaker ruled the point "well taken." The pious hand did not take his seat immediately, but held the floor, talking, when the black doorkeeper approached and required him to take his seat, and actually collared, and seated him. If black or white doorkeeper had so behaved to the big Indian," or any carpet bag member, we believe they would have cut his throat.

Lorenzo Dow use to say, "the Lord takes care of his own." He did so, in this case. Our native priest did not stain his clericle robes by cutting the throat of the negro—, or even resisting his unheard of violence. He relied upon the word, "Vengence is mine, saith the Lord, I will repay. Sure enough, that very day, the Lord put it into the mind and heart of the Engrossing Clerk to whip that negro doorkeeper, like a dog. They had three fights, and the doorkeeper is bruised; he is well bruised; he is worse bruised than the Attorney Gen. Coleman is, by Turpentine Joe, the Speaker of the House.

The way of the righteous would be hard indeed, among these wicked hands, if there was no power on high to defend and save. If this indignity had been offered to the Rev. Carpet Bag Pepper, whose soul's sleep, we fear he would have "cussed" like the Governor, 'Court or no Court, Judge or no Judge, Cholic or no Cholic, d——,' and so on—the Governor can repeat it, but we can't profane our pen by writing it.

OLD JOHN BROWN'S SOUL STILL ON THE MARCH.

It may be that old John Brown's soul is still marching on. It looks a little like it might be on the march, if there is anything to be learned from the proceedings of the rump Congress. "Nigger on the brain," has well nigh caused a general fight in the halls of the national Legislature. Representatives threatened to kick Senators from the House. Beast Butler, with the natural instincts of the animal, appeared as the "master of ceremonies," and behaved exceedingly unbecoming a man, who is supposed to be worth at least half a million of dollars in silver—not in the shape of U. S. coin, but in spoons. Notwithstanding Butler acted very naughtily, he was not the only man who played fool on the occasion. There were, and are, a sufficient number o Butlers in Congress to give that august body, not a national reputation, merely, but a world wide fame—not a fame for Americans abroad to be proud of, but a fame to make our citizens in foreign lands blush.

Having achieved a great victory by brute force, the ultra Radicals proclaim themselves "masters of the situation," and with a consciousness of their power, seek to trample down law and order—do extra constitutional acts—nullify opinions and orders of the Supreme Courts,—arrest Marshals in the discharge of their duties,—wrest from the hands of the officers, prisoners on their way to jail,—and in sundry and all conceivable ways, they pull down the old established landmarks and license every man, who can pay twenty dollars, to practice law!

Oh what an age! Who can doubt of the onward march of the soul of old John Brown! Yes, we believe it! Have we not able representatives in our Legislatures?—Have we not able magistrates, whose first and only qualification consists in their knowing how to sharpen a razor!

Marching on! It is no stretch of imagination to see that old soul astride a velocipede and rushing forward to its coveted goal. The very air rings with the soul of old John. Little negroes talk about Chapel Hill and College! Carpet-baggers clap their hands in frenzied joy at the near approach of the completion of the temple of "social equality." Silver stars on the lapels of sable police officers, tell us that the soul of old John is in the land. And this is the feast to which Reconstruction invites us.

ACCIDENT TO MR. STEPHENS.—The Atlanta Era of Thursday regrets to learn that Hon. A. H. Stephens was very seriously injured on Sunday last by a heavy gale falling on him.

POMEROY'S DEMOCRAT.—M. M. or "Brick" Pomeroy's new paper already exceeds in circulation every other political paper in the world. It is "red hot," and of unusual interest. Send for sample copies. Printing House Square, New York City.

The New York Herald, of Thursday, says: "By the steamer San Francisco, which arrived at this port about midnight, from Vera Cruz, we learn that as the agent at Sisal put off to the steamer the bells were ringing violently, and the authorities were busy rousing every person they could find.—It was believed that a pronunciamento had taken place in Merida, and that the troops there were concerned in it. They were Imperial formerly, and are disaffected towards the Juarez Government.

Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 17, 1869.

NOTICE OF BILLS.

Mr. Lassiter: Of a bill to legalize certain acts relating to Probate Judges.

Mr. Stephenson: Of a bill to grant a Charter to the Milton & Danville Railroad Company.

Mr. Moore, of Carteret: Of a bill to provide for the election of Mayor for the town of Beaufort.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Mr. Lassiter: A bill to extend the time for registering deeds. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By Mr. Martindale: A bill in favor of J. M. Bateman, of Washington County. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By Mr. Love: A bill to facilitate the payment of old debts. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. Blythe: A resolution relating to the Cherokee Indians. Referred to a Select Committee, Messrs. Blythe, Love and Davis.

On motion of Mr. Love, the rules were suspended, and the bill to authorize the formation of Corporations for different purposes, was taken up, and passed its second reading.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Bill to provide a system of Public Instruction, was taken up and considered by sections.

Mr. Osborne moved to amend the 5th section, providing that the books and course of instruction shall be referred to the General Assembly for their approbation, before it is adopted by the Board, which was lost.

NAYS.—Messrs. Beasley, Beeman, Bellamy, Burns, Blythe, Cook, Davis, Eppes, colored, Forkner, Galloway, colored, Hyman, colored, Jones, of Wake, Long, Mason, Martindale, Meicher, Moore, of Carteret, McLaughlin, Robbins, Smith, Stephens, Sweet, Welker, and White—24.

Mr. Love said he was opposed to placing in the hands of any one man, particularly the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who hails from the land of isms, the power to say what text book shall be used by our schools, and moved to strike out the whole of the 5th section, which was lost.

Mr. Robbins moved to amend the section by inserting the following, Provided, the text-books and all publications prescribed and used in the public schools shall be free from sectarian, denominational, and party bias in religion and politics.

Mr. Jones, of Wake, moved to amend the amendment by striking out all after the word provided, and insert the following:

In studies pertaining to the politics of the general government or of the State, the instruction shall be an unconditional sentiment of love for an uncon litional and perpetual Union of the States, which prevailed, and the section, as amended, was adopted.

The sixth section provides that the text book selected and prescribed by the Board of Education, shall remain in use not less than five years.

Mr. Osborne moved to strike out the entire section, which prevailed.

NAYS.—Messrs. Beeman, Bellamy, Burns, Cook, Davis, Eppes, colored, Forkner, Hyman, colored, Jones, of Wake, Long, Moore, of Carteret, Stephens, Welker and White—14.

Messrs. Beeman, Cook and Stephens afterwards changed their votes to the affirmative.

The seventh section authorizes the Board and instructs them to hold as many teachers in the Institution, annually, as they shall deem expedient.

Mr. Osborne moved to strike out the section, which was lost.

Pending its further consideration the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 17, 1869.

Leave of absence was granted to Messrs. Wilkie, Green and Downing, also, to Mr. Shaver on account of sickness in his family.

Mr. Hawkins, from the Committee on Enrollment, reported the following bills as being correctly enrolled, to-wit:

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Bill to amend the charter of the Judson Female College.

Bill to repeal an act to provide for the employment of convicts and the erection of a Penitentiary.

Bill to change the time of holding courts in the counties of Hyde and Martin.

Bill to protect cattle from distemper and other infectious diseases.

Mr. Barnett, from the Committee on Corporations, reported favorably upon the bill to incorporate the Cape Fear Express Steamboat Company. Placed upon Calendar.

J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, from the Committee on Propositions and Grievances, reported favorably upon the bill in favor of J. P. Matheson, of Alexander county, and upon the bill to prevent the felling of timber in Contentnea Creek. Placed upon Calendar.

By Mr. French: A bill to allow the Secretary of State to employ an additional Clerk. Lies over.

By the same: A bill to incorporate the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Company. Referred.

By the same: A resolution that it is the opinion of this General Assembly that the presence of the United States troops are imperatively demanded until the organization of the State Militia.

On motion of Mr. Downing the rules were suspended and the bill allowing the Commissioners of Union County to levy a special tax, was taken up and passed its third reading by a vote of yeas 83, nays none.

The Chair announced Messrs. Estes, Durham, Dixon, Whitley and Ashworth as the House branch of the Committee on Conference in regard to the resolution in relation to State liens.

The hour having arrived which was set apart yesterday, to pay the proper tributes to the memory of the late Senator from Pitt county the Hon D. J. Rich, when,

Mr. Estes, took the floor and pronounced an eloquent and just eulogy upon the many shining qualities and well known merits of the departed Senator.

Messrs. Durham, Stilley, Jarvis, French and Reynolds, colored, followed in eulogy, each paying a glowing and touching tribute of praise to the memory of the distinguish Senator.

On motion of Mr. French, the House then adjourned until half past 7 o'clock this evening.

We believe with confidence we can affirm that the character of North Carolina, both for moral and political qualities, has been raised by the instrumentality of the Republican Legislature, to an elevation which it never before attained.—Standard.

And we believe that we can affirm with confidence that the character of North Carolina is as far above the soot and influence of your Republican Legislatures as the stars of Heaven are above the soot and dirt of a tar kiln smoke, or the man in the moon is above the stench of a guano warehouse.—Carolina Observer.

A MYSTERY UNRAVELED—MONEY FOUND.

BLADEN CO., N. C., Feb. 10, 1869.

MESSRS EDITORS:—A very curious discovery has lately been made in a small islet situated in Big Swamp, about six or seven miles from this place, the particulars of which are as follows:

About sixty years ago, there lived, about a half a mile of this islet, on the eastern edge of the swamp, an Englishman, who was know among the settlers by the name of Elias Hugo. His first appearance into this region was in the Spring of 1808, then apparently in his thirty-eighth or ninth year, and although his language and bearing denoted that he had been educated, yet his hard brown features bore unmistakable evidence of a hard spent life. He was, it appears, somewhat above the ordinary size, and finely proportioned, presenting as fine a specimen of manhood as you could wish to look upon. His manners was somewhat reserved and taciturn; his countenance, though a little haggard, would at once convince the beholder that he was no ordinary individual. Why he should seek a life so cheerless and secluded, was a mystery often spoken of by his neighbors. Yet, seemingly determined to cut himself off from the society of his fellow men, he proceeded to erect a cabin for himself in this dismally secluded spot, where, he said, when once disheartened on the vicissitudes of life, and the scenes through which he had passed, he earnestly hoped to pass his remaining years in perfect solitude.

The cabin fronted the swamp and from its front door, with its frail stoops, led a narrow walk to the swamp; thence, in a westerly direction, led a narrow track to the islet. His furniture consisted of a chair, a bench, a rough pine table, matrass, a buck t, and one or two cooking utensils.

Here, in this secluded abode, alone and unctred for, lived the mysterious stranger until the 13th of May, 1809. On that sad day, ere the morning sun exhaled the dewdrops that gemmed the forest leaves Elias Hugo breathed his soul into the hands of the immortal power that gave it.

After the death of Hugo, strange stories were told of a spectre that was seen, and of strange sounds that were heard about the house and premises, and so deeply had a superstitious dread of the place taken hold upon the minds of the settlers that the cabin was permitted to decay and fall, as did its mysterious occupant.

Not long since, however, the place fell into the possession of other parties. Mr. Joel H. Esser and son. A clearing away of the remains of the old cabin was at once deemed necessary by the owners, and to this purpose, they applied themselves vigorously. They had not proceeded far, however, before they discovered, on raising the floor, a small tin box, snugly cuseted in the base of the chimney, under the hearth. They were not long in knowing its contents, as you can well imagine. The box is some eighteen or twenty inches square, and made of very thick tin. It contained a copy of Raphael's Madonna, to which was attached a small cross, a razor, with the initials "H. H." nicely engraved on the handle, and the following letter, which reveals the secret of the discovery of the box with nine hundred liens, which was made about three weeks ago, on the last referred to in the commencement of my letter.

"SAMUEL W. HUGO,

"My Dear Brother:—This is perhaps the last address I shall ever send you. Before to-morrow's sun has set, I shall be in a spirit world, marching in the holy and wonderful company of the Holy Souls, who for the honor of Christ and the Holy Mary, despised the things of the world. Even now I feel as if the fountains of life were drying up. (Then in a tremulous hand.) "Come to America, as I urged you in a previous letter. I have buried all the money I brought with me, amounting to about one million and three hundred thousand dollars, on a small islet near by, the directions to which I have already sent you. The amount is contained in seven different boxes, and buried in separate places on the islet

"Your affectionate brother,
(Signed) ELIAS HUGO."

THE ALABAMA AND RECIPROCITY TREATIES.

A despatch to the New York Tribune says:

"The Alabama claims' treaty, the protocol which relates to the rights of naturalized citizens, and the treaty in regard to the boundary of San Juan, were under consideration in the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations on Thursday. Strong objections were made against the Alabama treaty by almost the entire Committee, and here appears to be little chance of its being ratified. It may be amended, however, so as to meet the views of the Committee, but these amendments, it is probable, will not be satisfactory to the English Government. The subject was laid aside until the next meeting. The Committee afterward took up the protocol, and after a short discussion an hour, their Chairman, Mr. Sumner, to report it to the Senate for ratification.

"The subject of making a new reciprocity treaty with Canada was under consideration at the meeting of the Ways and Means committee on Thursday. The sub committee, to whom was referred the subject, reported favorably upon it. The committee, however, thought it best to merely report a resolution expressing their approval to the opening of negotiations, and authorizing the President of the United States to take such steps in negotiating a treaty as will open the free navigation of the St. Lawrence, and commercial relations between our Government and Canada, and a proper protection to the fisheries. The resolution will be reported to the House by Gen. Schenck, with a view of securing its passage at the present session, so that the work may be commenced at an early day. It is understood that the Canadian authorities are very anxious that some kind of a reciprocity treaty should be made that will be beneficial to both Governments."

THE NEW CABINET.—The matter is rather too good to keep, so it has leaked out that a delegation of gentlemen from Pennsylvania called upon Gen. Grant previous to his departure North, and represented that the vital interests of the Republican party in their State demanded a place in the Cabinet for a Pennsylvanian, and that the choice should be made judiciously, as unless the right man should be selected, the Republicans might, even in case of such appointment, sustain defeat at the next election. It is reported the gentlemen did not press the name of any partic ar person. Gen. Grant said in reply that Pennsylvania politics were more corrupt than those of any other State, and that before making any selection from Pennsylvania, he would deliberate and consult with a man he saw in the glass every morning, as he did not desire any member of his Cabinet tainted with political corruption. This statement comes so straight that it cannot be doubted.—Wash. Cor. New York Journal of Commerce.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SIXTEENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT COMPOSED OF THE COUNTIES OF HARNETT, CUMBERLAND AND SAMPSON.

Having received the unanimous nomination of the Conservative Convention which assembled in Fayetteville on the 12th of February, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for a seat in the Senate of North Carolina, and respectfully solicit your suffrages for that position on the 25th of the present month. I stand firmly and squarely on the platform of our country of United States, rights and Constitutional freedom, and, relying on the arms or efforts of the friends who have thus honored me, I feel that the right must prevail and we must be again represented by a Conservative in the Assembly of North Carolina. The time is so short that it is impossible for me to see many of the electors in the district and I must, of course, rely mostly on the friends of our cause, acting at the same time as an individual effort and ability to secure the position. If you favor me with your support you may be assured that to my principles and all my ability, will be devoted to the interests of North Carolina, and to the rebuilding of our shattered fortunes.

Work! work! will be my watchword, and I call upon all the friends of the cause to aid me with their might and their sufferages.

Let us rise in the majesty of our strength, and again carry our District, united and vigorous, per-manent action will accomplish it. I am not bound by the Howard amendment, and can take my seat if elected. Very respectfully,

Your obt servt,
C. TATE MURPHY.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2, 1869.

When the pure medicinal restoratives, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schnapps Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the press of attacked to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeits, and to render all attempts to imitate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a report of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. From thousands of the most eminent medical men in the country promptly responded. These opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, and long been needed by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar aromas and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the compound, together with an unobjected character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the highest, a marked superiority over every other diuretic stimulant or a narcotic, tonic and resolutive.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a pamphlet form, and enclosed with each bottle of the beverage, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No trade had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daily character of the persons who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending counterfeits from under their name, that the protection so carefully thrown around these articles would have precluded the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the inducement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by numerous manufacturers; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, unobjectionable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of the bottles, have filled them up with common gin, to the most deleterious of all injury, and have made his name and brand a mere by-word for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a variety of the finest quality, also flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown to the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in imitation bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, where-forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In connexion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be ordinarily depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and that every virtue the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to the fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit on evidences of infamy, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are as they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and devoid of any of medical estimate. As an evening, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, particularly unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

26 PEAR STREET, NEW YORK.
Nov. 21, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substances had been added to the superb distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the unique eminent qualities or peculiar flavor of the district is substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEALE, Chemist.

NEW YORK, 59 CEDAR STREET,
November 26, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your store-house warehouse, and find, as known, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or adulteration; that it has the marks of being aged and was recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 4.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Detrimental to the use of adulterated articles. Detrimental to the brain, nerves, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very likely in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the diffusion in the pantry of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint, some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,
We subscribe ourselves obedient servants,
