WASHING COMPOUND.

Presented Sept. 25, 1868.

REASONS FOR PREPARING THIS SOAP.

The Patents claims for this soap the following advantages which are nearly self evident. In the Letter it is said, "It can be manufactured at less than half the cost of any soap now produced."

Secondly, it may be used advantageously in any kind of washing, whether hand or steam.

Thirdly, it so modifies the action of boiling water on woolen goods that they flaxen and wash

more easily than any other.

Fourth, it does not discolour the colors of print and prints and stripes are as brilliant

after washing as before.

Fifth, the soap does not require any rubbing or patent washing machine, which is necessary in all persons who wish to purchase County
