OUR WANTS.

A few days ago we directed your attention to four things greatly needed in the South. Without to-day attempting any elaborate discussion of so important a topic, we would add a word or two to what we have already said. This old North Carolina, laughed at often, as we have heard, by the "whitlings," as Judge Gaston well called them, of other States, is still a great and honored Commonwealth. Whatever ignorant or prejudiced people not of her may say, she has a population equal to any in all the elements that constitute a noble people.

About last September we were in Columbia, Maury county, Tenn, the richest in that State. At 12 o'clock at night, in company with the gallant and courteous Gen. Pillow, we took a seat in the cars for Memphis. The gentleman with whom we occupied a seat was a distinguished citizen of over sixty years of age from Mobile. At the time we were ignorant of him and his place of residence. In the course of our long ride, he remarked, "I give this as my opinion after forty years residence in Alabama: The best citizens I have yet known in that State were North Carolinians, and they are to be found in every branch of human industry. Now, sir, you think I am a North Carolinian, but I am not. I was born in Tennessee, and for forty years have lived in Alabama." Of course, we agreed with him, and we believe now, after traveling in many of the Southern States, that we have the best population on the globe. Our lands may not be so productive, but we have incomparably better water, and atmosphere, and climate, and scenery. Besides, we have a greater diversity of soil, and far more mineral wealth. All we require is peace at home, industry, practicability, enterprise and capital. Give us these, and we will soon take our place among the foremost States in any and every thing. Let us then have peace within our own borders!—What good citizen will not heartily and joyfully respond to this fervent, honest wish!

In North Carolina we can present the greatest inducements both to the capitalist and laborer. Have we not here the most bounteous bestowments of nature!—What do we lack in that regard! Do we want a soil that is fruitful and generous! We have known in ante bellum days $500 to be made to the hand in raising tobacco. Do we lack mineral wealth! See what has already been done, and that too without our people being a strictly mining people. In our mountains and in her valleys are hidden the most precious ores—a mine equal to a hidden fortune that would put to shame the fabulous deposits of Eldorado, and make a realization those waters of fortune that are supposed to have floated down the golden Pactolus in the days of Peld."

"Ophir gems and Golconda's wealth."—

Do we lack a climate that is propitious to health! Read the census of 1860, and learn that the greatest average of human life was in our once favored State. Do we lack variety of soil! Examine the statistics and see how we produce almost everything, and in abundance, that can be grown on the Continent. Corn, wheat, oats; rice, potatoes, and barley; tobacco, cotton and fruit; clover, grass, and vegetables in endless variety, are only some of the things that can be raised almost in any county. Besides these, we have our magnificent rivers with a water power sufficient to turn the wheels of a nation's industries, and our immense fisheries, and our inexhaustible mines filled with all kinds of the richest ores, and our tremendous forests, and our easy access to market. What more is lacking to render us a great, happy, free and prosperous people, but the necessary industry, some assistance in the way of capital, and harmony among ourselves! We "opine" nothing. Looking to Jehovah for favoring seasons, and to our own hands for the use of development, and our future will be fortunate and magnificent. Let us all be up and doing. †

A. MYERS, ARCHITECT.—We remarked briefly yesterday on the nepotism of President Grant's administration. One of his recent appointments is James Wadsworth as U. S. Marshal for the State of New York. We are not advised as to whether he is a cousin of Grant's, or if he married into the tyrant or Dent families. But this much has appeared, and the New York Sun (Radical) is responsible for it. He is a bankrupt to the amount of $283,374. He owes one man $35 00. †

AMONG the Democratic members of the United States Senate there are several men of distinguished ability. Probably the three best debaters are Messrs. Carmody, of California, Taurman, of Ohio, and Stockton, of New Jersey. Mr. Carmody has made two speeches in the Senate, and if we may trust the judgment of such papers as the New York World, and Express and the National Intelligencer, he is the most admirable master of Senatorial eloquence in the body of which he is a recent member. †

REV. DR. BYLES.—This reverend gentleman has been preaching with great effect in the Presbyterian Church in this city during the week just past. He is acknowledged to be one of the most able and effective preachers in New York, and his services abound with great burst of thought and expression. Large congregations have attended the services, all of which have evidenced great pleasure from the sermons. His labors here will no doubt be productive of great good.—Wil. Jour.

GEN. GRANT IN EUROPE.

Perhaps no President since our great Washington (whose influence over the American people has greatly waned within the last four years), has commenced his career with more claims, real or reputed, upon the people of the North than the hero of Vicksburg. He had succeeded in making the unreasoning fanatics and the ductile multitudes of the North believe that he, indeed, was the great leader—the grand genius of war amid the three millions of soldiers brought against the handful of the South. It mattered not how sharply the military journals of Europe might criticize his campaigns and exhibit him as a mere sturdy fighter without great abilities as a commander, our Northern brethren only the more ghoutly persisted in lauding his performances and in rendering him the more insignificant by reason of the silly comparisons they instituted. A quiet reversion of the judgment has been going on, and to-day, there are thousands of intelligent people in the Northern States who not only do not regard Grant as a really superior Captain, but who recognize in Gen. Lee the great warrior of America. We doubt not the time will come, when the relative merits of the two leaders will be fully understood by every ordinarily intelligent reader, and the judgment of the generations of America yet unborn will be the judgment of leading European critics of these times—that Grant is a plodding fighter and Lee a man of great military skill and genius.

We are led to make these remarks by a passage we have read in the last letter of the Paris correspondent of the New York World. Whether there be prejudice or not, as Grant's admirers may urge, the remarks are sufficiently pointed. We give a passage that our readers may see how, according to his writer, our President is viewed in France. He says:

"There is a general contempt in Europe for General Grant. As a military man he is despised. Lee is considered and spoken of here as "the great master of war." Grant's conduct since his election; his stupid silence about his Cabinet (instead of submitting their names for the action of public opinion); his contempt for law and his disregard of the courtesy of gentlemen in attempting to cancel President Johnson's last pardon; his disreputable bearing towards General Hancock; his scorn of public opinion in foisting General Sheridan upon the people of Louisiana; the narrow view he takes of the responsibilities and trusts of his high position (in showing off ex-rebel society because they were personal friends); his blundering, confused, ungrammatical letters and speeches; his awful awkardness on the inauguration day; his allowing, without rebuke, Gen. Michler to introduce the menials of the President's house to him as "gentlemen" have increased the contempt felt for him; and, naturally, this contempt is reflected on the nation he represents. People in Europe think his administration will be known to the historian as the "Millennium of Blackguards." †

"THE SENTINEL."

The Standard is evidently quite elated at our candid statement yesterday as to our necessities. It says, that it is "plain" that "the Sentinel does not pay." We so stated, but we also gave the true reason—to wit, that we bought the Sentinel office obligating ourself to supply 3000 subscribers with their papers, but without any compensation whatever. That was a part of the contract. To do this has required a large expenditure of labor and means.

We call upon our friends—upon the true men of North Carolina—to sustain us, and we believe that they will do it. No doubt the Standard would greatly rejoice to have the Sentinel fail; no doubt it would be jubilant at any misfortune that might overtake us, but the genuine manhood of North Carolina will prevent such a calamity to the State and to us. We rely entirely upon their appreciation of our labors for our success. If we do not represent their interests, and defend, without fear of personal consequences their cause, then we deserve to fail. We have no Government patronage to back us up, and to keep our exchequer filled with greenbacks. Our chief—our only reliance is upon the people.

We may not receive money "fast enough to pay expenses," nor would the Standard if it relied upon the people of the State. We are not quite certain, from what we have heard, that the Standard really pays expenses with all of its pap drawn from State and National sources. But we are not concerned as to that. One thing we feel quite assured of, the Sentinel has twice as many subscribers, who pay for their own papers, as the Standard has. Nay, farther, we believe that a fair exhibit of the respective subscription books will show that we have received within thirty days, double the number of subscribers that have been sent to the Standard. But, if in this we are mistaken, we will not be greatly exercised. We know that the North is rich, and that Leagues can obtain money to flood a county or State with mischievous publications, when possibly the people have but little relish for them. †

MOTLEY, THE HISTORIAN.

Mr. Motley, who has been appointed Minister to England, is an exceedingly fine scholar, speaking German and other modern languages with the precision and accent of a native. He has had some diplomatic experience, having been Mr. Lincoln's Minister to Austria. We had supposed him qualified because of his unquestioned learning and ability, for any foreign service, but that would seem somewhat doubtful, if we are to base our opinion upon sundry passages in the New York World, extracted from his dispatches when at the Court of Vienna to be found in the Diplomatic Correspondence. These exhibit him as an exceedingly vain and indolent personage, and would dispose his claims to being sufficiently well poised in judgment and mental operations for any service about requiring statesmanship and diplomatic skill. He sends his own fame largely, but disclaims all purpose to be sensational. Our relations with England are of a delicate character, and it is to be treated that no serious complications will arise from mind-fatal blundering or vain glory. †

IMPERIALISM.

At last, the poet laureate of some days since of starting a paper in New York to advocate the institution of a Monarchical form of Government for our Republic-ism, which is regarded a failure, is meeting with deserved attention in various quarters. We may have something further to say in this connection at some future day, at present we content ourself with two extracts which show, that in the judgment of others, there is a decided tendency to Imperialism and Imperialistic ideas. The New York Atlas says:

"Imperialism needs no advocate here. Its seeds are sown. They are fast taking root. This is proved by the encroaching and lawless spirit which characterizes our press or rather by its prostitution to the basest purposes; by the multiplication of lotteries and extravagant amusements; by the steady increase of the extremes of imperialism and poverty; by the slow but (it would appear) sure absorption of the conservative middle class; by the [illegible] and finally manifested, to outrages which, ten years ago, would have excited an insurrection. If all this be not speedily corrected, the solution of these imperialistic tendencies and efforts will be realized in the not far distant future."

Once more, The New York Saturday Courier, impressed with corresponding views, remarks:

"We are not surprised at the appearance of this paper. It is the natural out cropping of a spirit or modes of thought and feeling far more prevalent in this country than may generally obtain logies have any idea of. From the date of Grant's election we have told the empire. We have reiterated the warning weekly since that time, and the Imperialist is an outward sensible sign; not only of the truth of our prophecy, but of the near approach of its accomplishment."

THE Standard acknowledges the receipt of twenty subscribers from Baden and thirty one from Columbus. It received several large clubs last week—so it says.

We hope the white men of North Carolina will not permit scallawags and carpet-baggers to outstrip them in zeal and liberality. Send on your clubs and individual subscriptions. When the party that has taxed the people until they are about ruined is endeavoring to keep its organ grinding away will not the tax-payers—those that are oppressed and ruined—see to it, that the Sentinel is nobly and generously sustained! Remember, it stood by you and exposed the nefarious schemes and ruinous projects of your enemies, when there was no other watchman to sound the alarm. We believe that all will say that the Conservative organ at the Capitol has been a faithful Sentinel. †

SENATE CHAMBER,
RALEIGH, N. C., April 7, 1869.

Mr. Editor:—Your "Reporter" on yesterday, but not with intent, grossly misrepresents my action, in considering a bill to be entitled "an act to provide for the payment of the burial expenses of the late Hon. D. J. Rich." I regret this error, as it compels me to go somewhat in detail into a matter I have no disposition to refer to outside of the Senate Chamber, or elsewhere save in my seat as a Senator. But the attitude I am placed in, by the reporter, is so distasteful, that I feel I am only acting in self defence, and in order to do self justice I must give the case as one of the whole transaction.

When the bill came up I offered the following motion.

That the resolutions (the bill) be referred to the Committee on Finance, and said Committee be instructed to report a resolution, as a substitute for the same, allowing for such articles only as were used in the burial of the late Hon. L. D. Hall, and such further sum as they may deem would have been necessary to carry the remains to the county of Pitt, the last residence of the late Hon. D. J. Rich.

I offered this motion because I observed that the bill was a well devised blind. It was not what it purported to be. Ostensibly, it appropriated $240. This was for "the payment of the burial expenses." I had no objection to this and said so in the Senate. But the covert part of the bill which appropriated in an aggregate way about $340 additional, was what I disapproved.—This was expressed in the bill, in the following words:

"And the Public Treasurer is also directed to pay the actual expenses, incurred by the committee accompanying remains, &c."

Now, sir, I ask, why was the round sum $780 not put in the bill! Why was $240 expressed, and $540 covered up? I shall never vote for any such measure.

I did not, Mr. Editor, "move," as your Reporter says "to strike out the amount in the resolution." This, sir, was no part of my purpose. I could not do such a thing.—No sir, I voted cheerfully, to have the State defray the expenses, incurred in conveying the remains of Hon. L. D. Hall to Sampson county and there interring the same. I will always act in like manner and give similar votes in similar cases. I feel that when a member of the General Assembly dies here, in the service of the State, that he ought to be sent to, and buried among his constituents, at the expense of the whole people.—But I never will vote to tax my constituents and the whole of the State, to send one deceased Senator to Vermont, (as in this case,) another to Ohio, another to Oregon, another to Ireland, and still another to Africa.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I now tell you, and the people of the State, that this bill which has been engrossed, and sent to the House, has not passed the Senate but twice. It will, therefore, be no law when enacted. No one can show it has passed the Senate oftener than I state. I defy any one to do so.

Yours Truly,
W. L. LOVE.

NEARLY KILLED.—A white boy, named James Gilliam—and a negro boy, named Cass Lyon—had a fight Saturday. The negro knocked the white boy in the head with a hoe and broke his skull. Up to the latest account he knew Dr. Strudwick, the attending physician.

The fight began with the negro throwing the white boy down in a stable. A negro man parted them. The negro man then told the white boy to come and go to the field. As he started, the negro boy blustered. The white boy remarked that he "couldn't stand everything" and picking up a small stick—started towards the negro. The negro then struck with the hoe; the eye of the hoe entering the skull. He is not expected to live.—Hillsboro Recorder.

Governor Holden has made four appointments of Magistrates in this county, all of which give universal satisfaction to our people. The appointments are: C. E. Parish, T. B. Hogan, Hugh Woods and W. B. Lynch.—Hillsboro Recorder.

I tell you Creech's is the place. And permit me to return my sincere thanks for your very liberal and valuable patronage for the last twenty five years. I hope by strict attention to business and honest dealing, giving each and every one the worth of their money that I will continue to receive a liberal share of your patronage. SYNOPSIS OF STATEMENT FOR 1868 OF THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Income from Premiums,	$7 161,304 11
Income from Interest,	1,984 205 49
Total Income for the year,	8,710,209 60
Losses paid,	1 723 135 00
Dividends paid,	928,284 00
Total Losses paid to date,	8,760,883 00
Total Dividends paid to date,	2,197,2 8 00

It will be seen from the above that the INCOME FROM INTEREST ALONE, greatly exceeds the losses, and that the TOTAL INCOME, FOR ONE YEAR is more than the TOTAL LOSSES PAID TO DATE.

The Assets of the Company are now over TWENTY-THREE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, and with its IMMENSE INCOME offers greater inducements to those insuring than any other Company in the country. In addition to the par-credit system of premiums with dividends annually payable after four years, it issues Policies upon a reduced all-cash premium, with immediate ANNUAL DIVIDENDS. It can be plainly seen that the Connecticut Mutual Life has been doing a safe and increasing business for the last twenty-two years. It does not deem it necessary to make grand promises of what they INTEND doing, but will insure a person on any plan most desirable, and it also all its policies non-forfeitable, for a part of amount, after two or three payments. Also remember, this Company has full Assets securely invested for every $100 of its Liabilities.
